JURY COULD NOT AGREE

Moosie Fence Line War to be Adjudicated

SUIT AGAINST CITY

But Judge Archbald Has Not Yet Charged the Jury--Damages Claimed Against Winton Borough--Ejectment Suit is Ended.

When court opened yesterday morning the trespass suit in No. 2 court room with Robert Tinsley and Michael Donovan as plaintiffs and John Walsh as defendant was given to the jury, after Judge Albright had made a brief charge. The twelve men good and true were not able to agree on a verdict after having deliberated a few hours. Judge Albright bright thereupon discharged them from further consideration of the case.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

(Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied by publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.)

THE PROHIBITION HOPE

Editor of The Tribune: Sir: The question in Saturday's Tribune under the article "Third Party Progress" but we are yet unable to see just what our third party friends hope to accomplish by remaining together as a small minority party--is not so difficult that it should go unanswered, if the editor will kindly allow a little space for the same. We hardly thought that the intellectual vision of The Tribune was so badly impaired. We infer that this champion of education would teach the apostasy of the Christian church as a compromise in its failure to win the world for Christ, and which after nineteen centuries of heroic effort is still, too, "a small minority" compared with the millions of non-Christians. We admit that we are not the highest aim of spirit of office and greed for political gain, rather than the suppression of evil, our prospects for a glorious victory might be checked by the foul and stinging smoke of the Republican avalanche in the recent elections. But the Prohibition party does not measure results by votes alone but by principles which The Tribune does not care to discuss. For if the Prohibition party is wrong in principle then it remains for those who seemingly do have a little uneasiness because of its "remaining together" to prove it wrong and thereby save a coming generation of voters from wrong doing. And if right, The Tribune or any other organ of the Al-mighty(?) Republican party ought not to be afraid to say so in favor of the Tribune's calculations it takes "some thing like three and two-thirds centuries" for that right to succeed.

NEW KIND OF CONCERT

To be Included in the Standard Course of the Y. W. C. A.

The second concert of the popular Young Men's Christian association standard course will be given next Monday evening by the Michleons and Miss Carrie Louise Ray. This is the first concert of the kind ever given in Scranton and it will please the already enthusiastic constituents of the association's standard course. The following letter explains itself:

M'KENNA'S FLIRTATION

Dan Williams Will Do as a Belliciator of Irish Comedy Character.

A fair sized Frothingham audience saw "McKenna's Flirtation" interpreted last night. The best thing that can be said of the play is that it has a plot, a plausible one, which statement cannot be applied to all Irish comedy-dramas.

PICTURES BY NIGHT

Beginning the night of Dec. 1 the public is invited to look at beautiful flash lights with an insulating effect which will be shown by night from The Tribune building.

from the week preceding when 18 new cases of typhoid alone developed. Yesterday's health report was normal, and, considering the season of the year, the figures of mortality for the last three weeks indicate that the city's general health is good.

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

At the Frothingham and this tomorrow evening John E. Brennan will present "Tim the Tinker." The play is an Irish comedy-drama, with an interesting plot and is full of wit and life. The merit of "Tim the Tinker," lies in its novelty and the cleverness with which Mr. Brennan pictures the honest and witty Irish. His success establishes it firmly as an attraction of unusual strength.

Charles A. Hartley, the ventriloquist, a former Scrantonian, and a capable company of specialty people, will appear at the Academy on Friday evening. Aside from Mr. Hartley, whose exploits on and off the stage are well known, the company includes Press Eldridge, a king of wits; H. C. Stanley, Meeker and Mack, Marion Martell, the Hill sisters, Joseph Carey, Mason and the Hill sisters, George Fisher, Ward and Brown, and Ed. Parker. It is one of the best specialty companies of the season.

C. B. Jefferson, Klaw & Erlanger's "Country Circus" will be the attraction at the Frothingham Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee, and without doubt will prove one of the dramatic events of the season. It is a play and circus combined, and is one of the largest organizations touring the country, carrying seventy-five people and five car loads of scenery and paraphernalia, and one car of trick horses, ponies, dogs and goats. The scene is laid in New England in the vicinity of Cape Cod, and has a fresh pastoral flavor that mingles harmoniously with the gruff old sea dogs of the coast, and for two acts the play deals with the joys and sorrows of the good people of the coast, the apostasy of the Christian church as a compromise in its failure to win the world for Christ, and which after nineteen centuries of heroic effort is still, too, "a small minority" compared with the millions of non-Christians. We admit that we are not the highest aim of spirit of office and greed for political gain, rather than the suppression of evil, our prospects for a glorious victory might be checked by the foul and stinging smoke of the Republican avalanche in the recent elections.
