PROGRESS OF METRISM

First Methodist Episcopal Church, of Peckville, Dedicated to God.

DESCRIPTION OF THE CHURCH

Crowded Congregations Filled the Beautiful Edifice Yesterday—Speeches Delivered by Many Former Pastors. Brief Resume of Local Work.

Peckville was astir yesterday upon the occasion of the dedication of the newly-erected Methodist Episcopal church, which will replace the old church dedicated July 4, 1868.

The sessions of the preachers and of the Young People's union were held alternately. At 10 o'clock Saturday morning a meeting of the latter was called, Rev. J. Lloyd, of Parsons, leading the opening devotional exercises.

When the delegates had all passed in their credentials and the convention was opened for business the question of amending the constitution was taken up and some minor changes were made.

Delegates present came from Welsh Baptist unions in the following places: Wilkes-Barre, South Wilkes-Barre, Parsons, Plymouth, Nanticoke, Pittston, Warrior Run, Kingston, Hyde Park, Olyphant, Providence and Taylor. The Young People's meeting closed at noon with benediction by Rev. William Thomas, pastor of the church where the convention was in progress.

Afternoon Meeting. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the preachers' meeting convened, represented by thirty delegates from the various churches of the association. Rev. J. Lloyd, of Parsons, was presiding officer. Rev. John Skym, of Lansford, Carbon county, was admitted as a member of the union. He presented papers from the Nebraska State union.

By unanimous consent Francis Lewis, of Olyphant, David W. Thomas and John M. Evans, of Providence, although not yet ordained to the ministry, were admitted as local preachers and invested with the privilege of preaching in any church of the Baptist denomination, or addressing meetings of the Young People's union, wherever they are called upon.

As the present officers of the association were elected to serve until next May, no nominations were made. In May the annual meeting will be held at Nanticoke and then their successors will be chosen. At 5:30 the preachers' convention adjourned.

After supper the Young People's meeting re-convened and a most interesting session was held. Rev. Mr. Floyd led the opening devotional exercises, and introduced afterward Miss Sarah Meredith, who read a paper on the following subject: "Need of Good Workers in the Church." The tenor of it was an impulsive recommendation to urge upon the members the necessity of giving a care to their spiritual life.

Miss Maggie Davis, of Hyde Park, sang a song very charmingly; but the gem of the evening was the recitation by Miss Martha Davis, Mrs. James Williams, of Plymouth, read a paper on "Does the Christian Road Lie All the Way Smooth?" Her topic was well presented. Rev. Mr. Skym, the newly elected member, closed with a fervent sermon on the duties of the church to the young people.

WERE BENT ON MURDER.

Polander Narrowly Escaped Death from Loss of Blood and a Beating—He Was a Witness Against His Assaulter, Who Was Recently Acquitted of Murder.

With his head battered and bruised, his chest and body discolored from kicks and blows and blood flowing in a stream from a severed artery in his forehead—in this condition a Polander lay in a back room of a Penn avenue saloon yesterday afternoon when he was reached by Dr. Budasill, of the Lackawanna hospital, and Dr. Connell.

A deliberate attempt at murder had been made at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the chief criminal had slipped through the fingers of the police. Charles Black, or Kamyel, is the injured man, and will recover from the beating he received. His assailers were Andrew Smith and Joseph Ketrisky. Smith only three months ago.

Of the trouble between himself and Smith and the culminating brawl of yesterday Black talked with a Tribune reporter in the hospital. According to his story Smith has many times threatened to kill Black because of the latter's testimony in court. Black and a friend entered the Polak hotel on Penn avenue after attending church, and in the saloon met Smith and several companions.

Smith finally succeeded in creating a quarrel, and in the fight which followed Black was floored with several blows upon the head with beer glasses. One of the glasses became broken and severed the temporal artery in Black's forehead. Smith and his friends gave the senseless body several parting kicks and blows and escaped.

The two policemen, who later responded, had evidently never heard of "first aid to the injured" nor the way to catch criminals. One notified the hospital office of the case, while the other watched the blood flow in a steady stream from Black's forehead without attempting to compress the severed artery. The surgeons, upon their arrival, stopped the flow of blood. During the evening Black was pronounced out of danger.

PARKHURST IN SCRANTON. Rev. Warren G. Partridge Has Something of Municipal Reform to Suggest. A large congregation attended the Penn Avenue church yesterday morning to hear a special sermon by the pastor, Rev. Warren G. Partridge, who based his remarks upon Psalm 31:23.

"Blessed Be the Lord, for He Hath Showed Me His Marvellous Kindness in a Strong City," said that patriot and religion were blended in the text where David was speaking of Jerusalem as an impregnable and lasting city.

During his discourse he spoke of Scranton's growth, and present prominence, the city's strength in righteousness. There ought not to be 262 licensed rum-shops in the city, and only 70 churches, almost four times as many licensed drinking places as there are churches, and it is claimed that through public indifference, there are nearly as many unlicensed tipping shops as the licensed places. We need a Dr. Parkhurst in every church.

"We require an organized body of patriotic citizens who, without regard to nationality, creed or political party, would fearlessly investigate municipal reform. We ought to have in Scranton something similar to the committee of seventy in New York city."

In the evening the church was packed, when Mr. Partridge preached an appropriate sermon to the members of Company D, of the Thirteenth regiment, who attended in uniform.

MURDERER IS IN CUSTODY

Foul Slayer of a Fellow Italian Is Captured in Forest City.

BOSCHINO WILL NOT TALK

He and Imbriano, a Detained Witness, May Be Found to Be Brothers—A Murder for Which Someone Should Swing.

Guiseppe, or "Joe," Boschino, who has been quite clearly proven the murderer of Francesco Conforti on "Bunker Hill," Dunmore, two weeks ago, was captured in Forest City Saturday and is now in the county jail, where are also held Tony Imbriano, an accessory, and Rocco Salvatore, who is held as a witness in default of $1,000 bail.

Boschino takes his arrest very calmly and wears much the same demeanor as that which characterized Imbriano since the night of the shooting. In fact the two men have a startling similarity in face, form and gesture. One who had seen the two but casually would find it extremely difficult to distinguish one from the other upon a second meeting.

Boschino would not respond to a Tribune reporter's attempted interview yesterday. He pleaded an ignorance of the English tongue notwithstanding the fact that he has been here several years and is known to speak the language quite distinctly. The same silence applies to Imbriano, and in this connection it is a rather striking fact that the friends of Boschino and Imbriano are not the friends of little Salvatore, the detained witness, who is ill but talks freely.

Additional significance is given this observation when it is recalled the inquest testimony of the murdered man's wife and others. Mrs. Conforti testified that hard feelings had existed between her husband and Boschino, and from other witnesses it was learned that Salvatore told several of them immediately after the shooting that Imbriano, as well as Boschino, had killed Conforti.
