COUNSEL FOR FRANZ BEZEK.

Attorneys A. J. Colborn, Jr., and George M. Watson Directed to Defend Him.

Franz Bezek, the young Slav who killed his sweetheart at Mayfield in September, was taken before the court yesterday morning and Judge Edwards assigned Attorneys A. J. Colborn, Jr., and George M. Watson to defend the murderer, whose trial is set down for Monday.

Before counsel was appointed, Bezek, through Interpreter Martin Woyshner, told the court that he had no money to employ counsel and had little hope now of raising the necessary funds.

After Messrs. Colborn and Watson were assigned to the defense, Bezek spent several hours in consultation with them preparing a line of defense that will be brought forward Monday.

Bright, Up to Day Fun. "The Gormans in 'The Gilhoobys Abroad' were at the Grand, matinee and evening, yesterday, and played to good business. The show is full of good specialties, bright and up to day fun, fine singing and the Gormans are immense. There are pretty girls and fine costumes and the girls know how to sing and dance. The Gorman brothers make most of the fun and it is so refreshing and bright that the audience is kept in an uproar all the time."—Wilkes-Barre News-Dealer, Nov. 30.

HEALING WITHOUT MEDICINE.

Free Public Exhibitions of This Power at Music Hall Every Afternoon at 2.30 O'clock—Diseases Cured by the Laying on of Hands.

"Andrew," the great healing power, is healing the sick, lame, crippled and deaf at the above hall every afternoon. Crutches and canes are thrown away and the deaf are made to hear.

The doctors have established a permanent branch office at the Westminster hotel, where everybody who chooses may consult them free of charge.

The remarkable cures which have already been performed in this city, both at the hall in public as well as at the private office at the hotel, is something for all sick people to consider. Now is the time for them to get help; no time should be lost. They should go to the hall today and witness the cures which are made; and from there to the private office at the hotel, and consult these eminent physicians at once.

Sale of "Queer People"

Nos. 2 and 3 will open today at 9 a. m. No. 1 will close this evening. If you haven't secured No. 1 be sure and send your orders before that date. Price, 10c.; by mail, 12c.

Passing Events of the Day on the West Side of the City Noted.

MINE LAMP THE CAUSE OF FIRE

Samuel Jenkins Left It Burning in His Cellar—Only Slight Damage Was Done. Painful Accident to Robert Kellam. Funeral of Mrs. Brickley.

The alarm of fire which sounded from box 322 at the corner of Luzerne and Tenth streets at 7.30 o'clock last evening was caused by a slight blaze in the two-story dwelling house occupied by Samuel Jenkins on South Main avenue. John Weichel, a neighbor who lives in the rear of the house, was the first to discover the flames and on rushing into the cellar, found that a miner's lamp, which Mr. Jenkins had left burning in the cellar, had set fire to the woodwork. Mr. Weichel threw the lamp out and endeavored to extinguish the flames. In the meantime an alarm was sent in. The Franklin and Columbia companies responded, but it was only necessary to use chemicals. The fire was put out with only a slight damage to some wearing apparel.

A Nail in His Foot.

Robert Kellam, a young man in the employ of Capwell Bros., contractors, received a painful injury while at work in the new house of William Shoemaker, which is being erected on North Sumner avenue. Kellam is employed as a carpenter and while reaching for some nails out of a keg, he stepped upon a rusty nail in a board, and it ran into his foot. The injured member began to swell and the young man suffered intense pain. He was taken to his home on Lafayette street, where the foot received medical attention.

Mrs. Brickley Buried.

The many friends of the late Mrs. James Brickley, who died on Tuesday last, assembled at the family home yesterday afternoon, where a short funeral service was held. The remains were then removed to St. David's Episcopal church, on Jackson street. Rev. M. H. Mill, officiated. Among the many beautiful floral offerings were a pillow inscribed "Mother," and a wreath. Interment was made in the Washburn Street cemetery.

Morris-Escott Nuptials.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on this date on Thursday. The contracting parties were David Morris, of Wilkes-Barre, and Miss Ida May Escott, of South Main avenue. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother. The bridemaid was Miss Lizette Escott, and the groomsmen William Jones, of Wilkes-Barre. Both ladies were attired in pretty costumes. After the ceremony, a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Morris left for Wilkes-Barre, where they will reside, taking with them the best wishes of their many friends.

Brief Notes of Interest.

Alex McTaggart, a motorist on the Luzerne Street line, is ill. Mrs. C. G. Hulson has returned to the south after a visit with relatives on Washburn street. Mrs. Evan Richards, of Wilkes-Barre, has returned home from a visit with relatives on this side.

Mr. Davies, of Wisconsin, preached to a large audience at the Welsh Congregational church Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stevens, of North Sumner avenue, entertained their relatives at a family gathering held on Thursday. Among the guests were Dr. Houser and wife, of Taylor.

The Young People's Literary and Debating society of the First Welsh Baptist church met in regular session last evening. Rev. W. S. Jones presided. The programme rendered was of a most interesting nature.

William G. Thomas, a young lad residing on Lafayette street, was knocked down by Chief Perber's carriage while crossing the street last evening. The former was driving to the fire on South Main street. The lad, fortunately, escaped with only a few slight bruises.

The programme for the Welsh Philanthropic society this evening will be a continuation of Evan P. Davies paper on "Coal Formations and What They Are Made Of." D. C. Powell will speak on the question, "Why Is It Warmer in the Valley Than on the Top of a Mountain?"

Miss Jennie James, of North Filmore avenue, is recovering from an enlarged thumb which was operated upon by Dr. George Reynolds a few days ago. When Miss James was quite a little girl she injured the member, and ever since a large lump of flesh has been growing upon it. Dr. Reynolds found it necessary to cut it open and remove the strange lump. The young lady is recovering rapidly and will be out in a few days with the thumb entirely well.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Plymouth Congregational church will open their fair on Tuesday afternoon and continue it on Wednesday and Thursday. One of the features will be a children's booth, where children will receive a cordial welcome every afternoon. The ladies have made careful preparation and will have a choice number of articles for sale. The proceeds of the affair will go toward liquidating the church debt.

NORTH END NOTES.

Robert Simmerell, of Breaker street, spent Thanksgiving hunting. Miss Emma Davis, of Main avenue, is visiting relatives in Carbondale. Mrs. John D. Evans, of Edna avenue, is recovering after a serious illness. Mrs. William J. Jones, of Oak street, is recovering from a two weeks' illness. Miss Agnes Stephens, of Lenoxville, is visiting her cousin, Miss Blanche Halstead, of Oak street.

The Excelsior band is arranging to hold a ball in Company H armory on next Wednesday evening. Nelson Gillespie, of Princeton university, ly, spent Thanksgiving with his father, John Gillespie, of Oak street. Rev. N. F. Stahl, of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church, expects to spend tomorrow at Princeton university.

Rev. A. F. Ferris will preach a sermon to young ladies at the Puritan Congregational church tomorrow night. The F. P. D. F. Social club is arranging a social for its friends to be held in O'Malley's hall on next Thursday evening.

Miss Mary Manley, of Carbondale, spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Manley, of Brick avenue.

George Burdick, of Chinchilla, who on Tuesday swore out the warrant before Alderman Horan for Giles Rozelle, of Newton, on a charge of attempting to defraud the Providence and Abington Turnpike company out of a few cents, withdrew the charge yesterday.

By reason of the great success of the turkey supper and entertainment of the Young People's Temperance society of the Green Ridge Primitive Methodist church, Thursday night, a stone sidewalk and gutter will be laid along the borders of the church property. Nearly 200 persons partook of the supper, which was excellently managed. Seventy dollars net proceeds were realized.

James Larkin and a companion named Lanyon, of Dunmore, hired a team and surrey of Liveryman McDonough, of that place, Thursday, and with two fair Scranton companions started for Priceburg. At the Main avenue culvert in Priceburg, Pa., where a road street works in progress, the party drove into a deep hole. All escaped with a few bruises. The surrey was badly damaged, but the horses were not injured. The young men hired a carriage of Liveryman O'Donnell, and abandoned the Priceburg trip. The surrey was left on Main avenue until 4 o'clock last night, when Liveryman McDonough took it away.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH SIDE.

Patrick Boyle's Thumb Bitten Off by a Dead Pig—He Thought the Pig Was Dead—Bad Feeling Exists Between Butcher Hug and Smoker Weinz Over a Cow Trade.

Patrick Boyle, of 830 Fig street, is a coal digger by occupation and in the killing season he butchers pigs. A friend of his in the North End sent word to him that he had a fat pig to send to the happy hunting grounds and Boyle went yesterday to provide his friend with Christmas pork. The unsuspecting animal was led forth to be slaughtered; Boyle, with sleeves rolled up and armed with a cleaver, smote the pig and watched it until its blood had oozed out. The carcass was put through the formula of sealding in a vat of hot water and not the suspicion of a squeal came from the apparently deceased porker.

It was a half hour afterward before Boyle began to subject the animal to the shaving process, and when he did he stuck his hand in the pig's mouth so as to get a firm hold in assisting to move the animal a few feet higher on the board, and imagine his horror when the pig gave signs of life, closed its mouth and actually bit the top of his thumb off. He worked no more but went home and sent for Dr. Manly, who had to amputate an inch of the thumb bone. Boyle was afraid that blood poison would set in, but the doctor quieted his fears.

They Traded Cows. Butcher Fred Hug, of Pittston avenue, made a dicker two months ago that resulted in an exchange of cows. The butcher had a bovine that he represented was a first-class one for giving milk, and Smoker had one that was just fit to be butchered, but was not any great shakes in supplying milk for all the little smokers. Hug's cow did not come up to expectations and this so disgusted Smoker that he visited the death penalty on her yesterday. He was also looking for Hug and it was not by any means for the purpose of shaking hands with him.

Shorter Paragraphs.

Dr. J. A. Manly will spend today in New York city.

Henry Sibecker and George Engle are hunting at Lake Como.

Mrs. A. Weinschen and daughter, Mrs. D. L. Renzman, have returned home.

The usual afternoon services will be held tomorrow at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian association.

Miss Kate Dolan, of Prospect avenue, an elderly lady, fell down stairs yesterday afternoon and sustained a broken arm. Dr. Manly attended the case.

There is no truth in the rumor that the South works will start up Monday. General Manager McKinney was asked concerning the story last night and denied it.

Lieutenant Peter Zang, of the police force, is enjoying his annual ten days' vacation, which he is spending on a hunting trip in Westchester county. Patrolman William Gschelle is acting lieutenant.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the funeral of Christian Roller, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Roller, of 77 Beech street, will take place. Interment will be made in Pittston Avenue cemetery.

Mrs. Anthony Lynch, of Pittston avenue, aged 42 years, died yesterday morning and will be buried tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in Minooka cemetery. A husband and a large family of small children are left to mourn her loss.

Dr. Manly, Fulton and Capwell yesterday performed a surgical operation on Mrs. Edward Hummer, of 1530 Pittston avenue. She had been suffering for the past ten years with an internal ailment and it was found necessary to submit her to the surgeon's care. The operation occupied almost the entire day and they expect she will now begin to recuperate her failing health.
