Catholic sees into one. It is interesting to remember that Ignatius Loyola made great use of Welshmen in establishing his Order of Jesus, and that Dr. David John Rhys, one of the best Welsh patriots in the reign of Elizabeth, and the author of a Welsh grammar that was published at Milan, was a Welshman.

At Swansea, the struggle for non-sectarian education is being fought with persistence and vigor in the present school board election. Soren Cymru, the Baptist organ, whose editor, the Rev. W. F. Williams, Landore, is one of the candidates, contains an extremely able leader on the election.

The Banner publishes extracts from Professor Hugh Williams' notorious pamphlet on "Baptism," and while expressing the strongest disapproval of some of its opinions, throws open its columns to its discussion. Soren Cymru, on the other hand, though it admits that the professor's knowledge of church history is excellent, fails to understand why Mr. Williams does not carry his opinions to their logical conclusion and proclaim himself on the side of the baptism which he admits, is alone mentioned expressly in the New Testament.

The South Wales correspondent of the Banner refers in indignant terms to the harshness of the sentence passed on Peggy Lewis.

Scrofula The Worst Case the Doctors Ever Saw Hood's Sarsaparilla Perfectly Cured

"Dear Sirs—I wish to testify to the great value of Hood's Sarsaparilla. For some time I had been troubled with scrofula, which early last winter assumed a very bad form.

Sores appeared on my face and hands and gradually increased in number until they reached to my shoulder. The doctors said it was the worst case of scrofula they ever saw and also went so far as to say it was incurable. I tried ointments and other remedies but to no avail. A friend recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla, and although I was completely discouraged at last I resolved to give it a trial.

After taking one bottle I noticed the sores had commenced to heal. After the sixth bottle they were all healed.

I continued to take it, however, until I had used nine bottles, and now I am perfectly well. Miss KATIE ROSENGRANT, Ulster, Penn.

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy in action. Sold by all druggists. 25c.
