Bezek's Counsel Successful in First Struggle for Time.

THEY WANT AN INTERPRETER

Intend to Bring an Attache of the Austrian Consulate at Philadelphia Here.

Murderer Franz Bezek was taken from the county jail yesterday morning to be present in court when his attorneys were expected to argue for a new trial. He did not change any since his trial, and when a Tribune reporter spoke to him and asked him how he felt, he heaved a deep sigh and expressed in broken English, "Oh, purty good!"

A Continuance Allowed. Judge Edwards asked Mr. Watson to specify what part of the evidence was not properly interpreted, and Mr. Watson cited the question asked of Mrs. Kramer, "What did Franz then do?" Her answer was that he asked Mary to marry him. Mr. Watson thought that such an answer was not responsive to the question and would not have been made if she properly understood the question.

The three judges consulted a moment and then made the announcement that a continuance was granted until Saturday, Dec. 23. The attorneys for the defense propose to put themselves in communication with the learned gentleman from Philadelphia who will endeavor to prove the testimony was incorrectly interpreted.

Other Cases Heard. Attorney C. Conroy urged the court to grant a new trial in the case of Louis H. Behle, of Archbald, who was tried at the term of quarter sessions and convicted of embezzling funds of the Tribune Publishing company, claiming that Behle simply owed a debt and is not liable in a criminal action.

PHILHARMONIC CONCERT.

To Be Given for the Benefit of the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association, to be given by the New York

Philharmonic club, will be one of the finest ever given here. The club is winning golden laurels everywhere. The New York papers have always spoken highly of them, and they still find splendid things to say, as is evidenced by the following from the New York Herald:

"The club is composed of a sextette of musicians who have obtained special prominence as soloists in the best musical circles; and as a result of their services afford a most delightful evening to those who can appreciate a high class of chamber music admirably interpreted by these well-known players."

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

Yesterday morning was a fine one for Cornell. The seats at the Frothingham were in great demand, and within an hour or two almost the entire orchestra and a large number of seats in the balcony and the most of the boxes and loges were sold. Cornell men say that the Frothingham will have the largest attendance that it has had this season for the Cornell concert next Monday night. There seems to be much enthusiasm among college men in and about Scranton over the coming concert. Although there has been a large sale of seats, still there remain enough to accommodate all the Cornell enthusiasts in and about Scranton.

Christmas afternoon and evening the charming Marie Jansen and company will be seen at the Frothingham in "Deimonico's at 6."

Those two champions of comedy and burlesque, Ward and Vokes, are billed to appear at the Academy of Music on Tuesday, Christmas Day, afternoon and evening in the musical farce comedy, "A Run on the Bank." Some idea of the success of the attraction can be had from the fact that every time Ward and Vokes came upon the stage they are greeted by a round of applause, and in the last act when they do their famous specialty, "Percy and Harold," the theater fairly rings with the continuous bursts of enthusiasm.

The supporting company includes such clever artists as Al Grant, Charles Jerome, Harry Blancy, who will be remembered by many for his clever work in "The Limited Mail" and "A Railroad Ticket," Tony Williams, Maggie Daly, Inez Rae, Gilbert Leacock, Stara Kimball and Clara Bell.

Richard Anderson will present "The Indian Hero" at Davis' theater the first days of next week. It has been rewritten and will be heartily enjoyed by all who witnessed it before; and in its new form it has achieved even greater popularity than last season. Messrs. Dobson and Houston, managers of the company, bring with them an unusual strong company. During the performance specialties will be introduced by Miss Alice Hamilton, George Peters and Miss Grace Franklin, and Professor H. E. C. Kaufman, the world renowned piano player, and Mexico's Storm King, will render "Life of a Fireman," descriptive fantasia.

The "New Magdalen" which Rhea will present next Wednesday evening, Dec. 26, at the Academy of Music, is a story of strong dramatic interest powerfully told and admirably acted by Rhea and her supporting company, which includes Messrs. W. S. Hart, Ford Hight, M. L. Alsop, Misses Isabel Waldron and Rachel Deane. Rhea's Mercy Merrick is a superb impersonation of the New Magdalen.
