THE MULLEY-COWLES WEDDING

Ceremony Performed in the Providence Methodist Episcopal Church Last Evening-Miss Roche Becomes Mrs. Colville-Other Weddings of the Day,

Several young people of the city observed New Year's Day by entering on a new state of life with the companion whom the promptings of love told them was the person destined to make them most happy.

One of the most notable weddings of the day was that of Miss Amy Mulley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Mulley, of Providence, to Richard Raymond Cowles, of Tillery, N. C. The ceremony was performed in the Providence Methodist Episcopal church at 8.15 o'clock last night. The church was very prettily decorated with evergreens and flowers. The altar before which the service was performed was banked with palms and from the beautiful chandelier in the center of the church hung a bell of evergreens. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin.

The ushers were A. B. Cowles and J. G. Cowles, brothers of the groom, George M. Mulley, brother of the bride, and Joseph A. Scharar. The groom was attended by I. W. Warner, of New York. Miss Anna Mulley was the maid of honor. The ushers preceded the bridal party to the altar. They were followed by the groom and grooms man, the maid of honor and the bride, accompanied by her father. The service followed was that of the Episcopal

The bride wore a gown of avory duchesse satin made en train. She wore a shower bouquet of white hyacinths. Miss Anna Mulley, the maid of honor, wore a costume of yellow chiffon over taffeta silk, the whole adorned with a shower bouquet of yellow carnations. While the bridal party left the church Miss Belle Green played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cowles received congratulations at the bride's home, at a reception to which were invited only relatives of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Cowles will make their future home in Tillery, in the capacity of general manager of a large lumber company.

Nicholas-Thomas Nuptials.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at 7.30 o'clock at the pret it. home of Rev. Thomas A. Bell, of the Plymouth Congregational church, on North Lincoln avenue. The principals were Miss Mary Nicholas, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Nicholas, and Thomas Thomas. Both reside on Jackson street. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the im-mediate friends and relatives.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Evelyn Nicholas, and the groom by William L. Seely. The bride was attired in a costume of nile green lansdowne, trimmed with brown, and carried roses. Her sister wore a dress of steel gray with lacé trimmings and a bouquet of roses. The wedding gifts were very numerous. After the ceremony was per-formed the young couple and their friends proceeded to the home of the bride's mother,on Jackson street, where a reception was held. An excellent wedding supper was served. The young couple are well known and have a large list of acquaintances. They will reside on the West Side. Marriage of Mr. Metzgar to Miss Reese. The marriage of Owen Metzgar and Miss Annie Reese, both of McKeever's lane, occurred at 8 o'clock last evening at the bride's home. The rooms were prettily decorated with ferns and evergreens. Rev. Thomas A. Bell, pastor the Plymouth Congregational church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of both parties.

The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Roberts and the groom by David S. Reese. The young ladies were attired in very pretty costumes of light blue silk and carried white roses. After the ceremony the party repaired to their newly furnished home on Lafayette street, where a reception was held. The presents consisted of an excellent array of silverware, lamps and dishes. The young couple are well known. The groom is an industrious young man, and his wife, who is an attractive young woman, is a member of the Plymouth Congregational church, and esteemed in society circles. They will reside on Lafayette street.

Quiet Wedding at Providence. Miss Anna C. Roche, of West Market street, Providence, was married at 8 29 was undoubtedly well meant and wille, New York, who has established a would have been justified had your practice in the North End. The ceremony was performed at the parochial residence on William street by Rev. M. J. O'Toole, assistant rector of the Church of the Holy Rosary. The wedding was a quiet one.

Miss Roche, attired in a brown cloth traveling dress trimmed with fur, was conviction, would you have written attended by Miss Mary Manley; Hon. that editorial excluding me from doing John E. Roehe, a cousin of the bride, was best man. After the ceremony, Dr. and Mrs. Colville left on the Lackawanna road for a tour in the New England states. On their return they will reside at the home of the bride's mother. On New Year's eve Mrs. Roche tendered a small and informal reception in honor of her daughter and Dr

Tomorrow night "The Derby Mascot" will be the attraction at the Academy of Music. The company carries all the appurtenances actually necessary for the production of a spectacular per-formance—a herd of thoroughbred race horses, several donkeys, with an excellent cast of dramatic and specialty people. The Derby racing scene, introducing King Faro, England's greatest hurdle jumper, Bay Prince, English importations and actual Derby Day favorites, and Nebuchadnezer, the sleepwalker, are realistic features. Katie Rooney is in the cast.

Webster Scism, of this city, will be at the Frothingham Friday and Saturday of next week with the Wilfred Clark company, with which organization he has for several seasons been playing leading comedy roles.

JUDGE SEELY'S MEMORY.

Members of the Lackawanna Bar Pay Tribute to His Worth.
At a meeting of the bar of Lackawanna county called Dec. 27, 1894, to take action upon the death of Hon. Henry M. Seely, the members thereof gave full expression of the esteem in which he was held in this community where he had recently come to engage in his profession, and directed that the following permanent record of such ex-pression be made and transmitted to the members of his family.

The death of Judge Sealy brings a life of rare excellence and usefulness to an untimely close. In all of its varied activities it was consistent with and true to the principles of a sound

His natural abilities, his integrity of character, and his faithfulnes to duty, comparatively early in life, won for him a distinguished position as a lawyer; afterward, his learning, his quickness and apprehension, his patience and impartiality, together with a charm of manner and gracefulness of expression peculiar to the man, made him admirable as a presiding judge. An unblemished reputation among the people who best knew him is his enduring monument. Ambitious of further distinction and with anticipations not unjustified by o'clock in the morning to Dr. G. Colpast achievement, he recently established. New York, who has established a lished himself among the greater opportunities of this valley, quietly and without estentation resuming the prac-tice of his profession in the city of Scranton. His advent here was not heralded by loud proclamation; the modesty of his manner alone would have disarmed criticism; "in his right hand he seemed to carry peace, to silence envious tongues." The bench and bar of Lackawanns county, profoundly sensible of an irre-parable loss in his death, extend to the family and friends of Judge Seely this assurance of their respect for his character, and of their sympathy for all who, from their love of him, now suffer.
