LOST IN THE FOG.

John Rudda, a Bad Hungarian, Runs Away

with a Pair of Handouffs. Last evening about midnight a con stable from Olyphant alighted from the Delaware and Hudson station with a Hungarian named John Rudda, who was under arrest upon charge of being a general all-around bad man. Budda while in Montrose recently imbibed intoxicants and endeavored to decorate the town with the vermillion tints of a mid-summer sunset.

After having been locked up he broke jail and fled to his home in Forest City. The pastoral detective, who had been sent to secure the unruly Hun, had been successful and was accompanied by the prisoner, whose wrists were con-fined by bracelets the size of small mule collars, as he stepped from the Delaware and Hudson train. Upon leaving the station the glare of the electric lamps seemed to have a beup to the bar of justice and without a wildering effect upon the officer and he, for a time, forgot the prisoner while gazing upon the wonders of the Electrie City by are-light.

When near the Railroad Young Men's Christian association rooms Rudda broke away from the officer and disappeared in the fog. The constable Merriman, Mrs. Clifton Colvin and Mrs. sounded a war whoop and started in pursuit, but was unable to again sight the prisoner, who had vanished in the crowd.

At an early hour this morning the officer was still looking for the slippery township, swore upon his oath that to son of Hungary. ## LARGE DEATH RATE.

Forty-six Deaths in the City During the Past Weck. During last week occurred the greatest number of deaths in this city from all causes than during any previous week since last summer. The mortality report of the board of health for the week shows forty-six deaths, but it is a curious fact that the new cases and deaths from contagious disease is proportionately small.

Of typhoid fever there was 1 new case and I death, of scarlet fever 4 new cases and 3 deaths, of diphtheria 2 new cases and 2 deaths, of consumption 1 death; a total of 7 new cases and 7 deaths. The report indicates a marked decrease in the number of typhoid cases and an increase of scarlet fever, while diphtheria, which is engaging the particular attention of the board of health, re mains about normal.

BLUE LAW AGAIN.

When the clerks of the Twentieth Century club called upon these firms and requested them to close their shops at 6.30 p. m., the same as the other merchants of the city had agreed to do, they refused. One of the clerks, A. H. Abrams, went into the stores Sunday and purchased in one place a tie and another place a pair of suspenders. He then went before Alderman Fitzsimmons and swore out a warrant under the law of 1794.

The defendants appeared for a hearing last pight and were fined; the amounts they paid under protest and alleged that the clerks committed perjury, that they were not in their places of business at all on Sunday.
