Passing Events of the Day on the West Side of the City Noted.

W. H. SNOVER'S BUFFALO ROBE
It Was Stolen on the Road to Newton. Herman Baughman Charged with Wife Beating - Funeral of Patrick Riley of Jackson Street.

William H. Snover, a milk dealer, of Twelfth street, had a valuable buffalo robe and other articles stolen in a very peculiar manner a few days ago. Mr. Snover's brother undertook a journey to Newton with the wagon and while returning home he had a breakdown. The driver was compelled to leave the wagon in order to procure help to repair it. While he was absent, some person visited the place and stole the buffalo robe and other articles.

Mr. Snover visited many places in search of the goods, but failed to find them. He returned home and procured a search warrant for the recovery of the goods.

Services Last Evening.
A large number of people attended the third union service of the week, which was conducted in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church last evening at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting was in charge of Rev. L. C. Floyd, D. D., the pastor of the church. Mr. Floyd preached, taking as his subject, "Nations and Their Rulers." The sermon was a most interesting one, and was listened to attentively. Many pastors of other churches were present and participated in the services. The remainder of the evening with the exception of Saturday evening.

On Tuesday afternoon a warrant was issued by Alderman T. T. Morgan, of the Fifth ward, for the arrest of Herman Baughman, of Rebecca avenue. The complaint was made by Mrs. Baughman, who alleged that her husband had beaten her and made threats against her life. The hearing was held in the alderman's office last evening and as it progressed a great deal of evidence on both sides was told. Baughman was held in $300 bail to keep the peace. Richard Guell, of Morris court, became his bondsman.

Good Natured Struggle for Honors in Scranton Athletic Club.
OFFICERS ELECTED TONIGHT
Candidates That Are Contesting for Su-

PREMACE--Masquerade Ball of Pontico Social Club--Board of Trade to Meet Tomorrow Night.

Officers of the Scranton Athletic club will be elected tonight at the club rooms in Germania hall and a very lively contest is expected. The two candidates apiece for the offices of president and treasurer; Charles G. Rosar, of Cedar avenue, and Fred C. Erhardt have been nominated for the first named office, and Common Councilman Robert Robinson and William Koch, proprietor of the "Wide Awake" cigar store, are in nomination for the honor of holding the funds.

The fight for election will resemble the festive battles of ward politics. Each candidate has had regular election tickets printed and the voting will be conducted after the manner of a real struggle for political honors. The club consists of more than 150 progressive young men and this is the first time that an election of officers possessed so much interest as to lead to such energetic canvassing. The secretary has notified every member of the club to be present.

RUSSIA'S GREAT MINISTER.
Something About the Finlander and His Great Work.
No man has had more to do with shaping the policy of Russia in important matters than Nicholas Carlovitch de Giers. "The Finlander," who has just resigned as minister of foreign affairs, suave and apparently very yielding in manner, a great influence over his imperial master, the czar, and was able to guide him in all matters of foreign policy. As a result he became a power not only in Russia, but in the world of nations. He is a diplomat by nature and education, none the less powerful in his own right as a theoretical exhibition of the power he exercised. He was really second only to the czar, but his victories were of peace rather than of war. He was born May 21, 1829, and was the son of a colonel who came from a great Swedish family which settled in Finland ages before the Russians conquered it. He was educated in the imperial lyceum, at Zarskoe-Selo, and when 18 years old entered the Asiatic department of the ministry of foreign affairs. In 1848 he was sent as a diplomatic agent to the headquarters of the Crimean war. Then he became commander-in-chief during the Hungarian campaign, to help Russia get her grip on the Danubian provinces. After that he went to Constantinople as first secretary of the Russian embassy, and there he kept close watch on the movements of the Crimean war. Then he appeared in Moldavia and Wallachia. In 1858 he went to Egypt as consul general. Then he appeared again in the Danube principalities. Everywhere he made history, almost imperceptibly, without trumpet or sword, except, perhaps, an incidental and minor affair. He went to Toheran as Russian minister in 1863, and succeeded in breaking England's influence. He virtually won Asia for the czar, and then was sent to Bern, and afterward to Stockholm. He became chief assistant to Prince Gortschakof, minister of foreign affairs in 1873, who favored the Princess Kantakuzene, he married. He also reorganized the whole diplomatic service of Russia before Alexander III. sent De Giers to all foreign courts to bear the famous friendly message on the anniversary of the Crimean war. Then he then came the great conference between Alexander III. and Emperor William I. at Danzig, Sept. 3, 1881, at which De Giers and Bismarck renewed the compact which had existed between the late czar and the German emperor. In 1882 De Giers became minister of foreign affairs and since that time he has been one of the most powerful men in Europe.

A Just and True Statement.
Auburn, N. Y., Mar. 25, 1894.
My father, J. S. Mills, of Shortville, N. Y., was thrown from a wagon thirteen years ago and had his hip dislocated. A short time after, rheumatism set in, and it is only with the aid of two cases that he has been able to walk since. The pain was terrible and it was only by the use of your Rheumatic Pills that he could obtain any rest at night. I sent him a box of Dr. Potter's Rheumatic Pills and after taking them, he is able to walk without his crutches and carry a pail of water in each hand from the well to the stable. The pain has all left him and last week he drove to see me, a distance of forty miles. He also said that the doctors pronounced a cancer on his face, which had been removed, leaving a hard lump. The pain in that was unbearable, but since taking the pills the pain has all left that, too, and he feels as well as ever. I regard his cure as miraculous as he is seventy-five years old. Anyone may learn the truth of this statement by either reading or writing. C. E. Mills, 75 Fulton street.

DR. POTTER'S RHEUMATIC PILLS are a radical cure for rheumatism, inflammatory rheumatism, rheumatic gout, both acute and chronic and all diseases depending upon their origin in the uric acid diathesis. Price $1 a box. For sale by Matthews Bros., Scranton, Pa.

GLADSTONE AS A NIPPER.
The Grand Old Man Used as an Advertisment by Irreverent Brewers.

The English teetotalers, commenting on Mr. Gladstone's recent endorsement of the Gotenburgh system, allude to the Grand Old Man as one of those who are unfortunately accustomed to take intoxicating drinks and have been brought up to believe in their necessity and utility. And now the wicked organs of the brewing and liquor interests are quoting and circulating the remark everywhere, with the not unnatural comment that Gladstone as the age of 84 is as vigorous and hale as any young man.

SHORTER PARAGRAPHS.
Mrs. S. S. Spruiks is home from a visit to Brooklyn.
Charles Honeyager has accepted a position as bartender at the St. Denis hotel on Lackawanna avenue.
Common Councilman P. J. Hickey, of the Nineteenth ward, has been feeling unwell for some time from the effects of a heavy cold.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS OF DANIEL O'CONNOR COUNCIL, YOUNG MEN'S INSTITUTE, OF MINOOKA.
The South Side board of trade will meet tomorrow night at Storrs' hall on Alder street. If seven members of the board get together to constitute a quorum, but that is a feat which has not been accomplished for some time.

Mrs. Michael Welter, of Cedar avenue, has been dangerously ill for some time and yesterday her condition was so alarming that her family was in hourly anticipation of her death.

LAST NIGHT a crowd of small boys were tumbling around in front of Henry J. Ziegler's property on Cedar avenue and one of them was shoved through the plate glass window. Mr. Ziegler caught the boy and will make his parents pay the damage.

TWO OF A KIND.
Grim Humor, but Not Too Grim to Smile Over.
An old man who believed that "what was to be would be" lived in the city and was one day going out several miles through a region infested by very savage Indians. He always took his gun with him, but this time found that one of the family had got it out. As he would not go out without it, some of his friends tantalized him by saying there was no danger of the Indians; that he would not die until his time came, anyhow. "Yes," said the old fellow; "but suppose I was to meet an Indian, and his time had come; it wouldn't do, now, not to have my gun."

HE DIDN'T MIND THE CROOK.
At the siege of Petersburg, a young Confederate lieutenant, who was a great favorite with the girls, was badly wounded in the left arm. Several of the surgeons declared it would be necessary to amputate the limb, but it was finally decided that by removing a section of the bone the arm might be saved. "But," said one of the surgeons, "it will be a bad job, and when healed the arm will remain crooked." "Never mind the crook," replied the lieutenant; "set it for hugging and go ahead."

ELOQUENT BILL GIBSON.
The Crowd Didn't Go Away Who I, F. G. His Speech.
The late General Gibson, of Tiffin, O., who was buried last week, was called "The Old Man" throughout the "Gossip," of the Harrisburg Telegraph, says of him that during the war, in the second Lincoln campaign for president, he was called to make a speech in Harrisburg at a Republican meeting. There was also another speaker, a man of national fame, who monopolized the audience for two hours and thenceforth out before Gibson, who always dressed plainly and was very modest, had a chance to speak. As the first speaker ceased the crowd began to leave the court house. Gibson, who had been introduced, called to them in his magnificent voice: "Don't go, gentlemen; hold on a while longer. I have something to tell you."
The crowd stopped in the aisles and listened. And then Gibson began one of his splendid, impassioned oratorical efforts that wrought them to a frenzy. The audience sat down, the news spread that a great speech was being made, and those outside flocked inside to remain and listen for two hours to one of the greatest speeches ever made in Harrisburg. And when he had ceased, there were hundreds up begging him to go on.

GOOD STORY OF INGALLS.
Even a Newsboy Was Abashed by His Extreme Thinness.
From the Minneapolis Tribune.
Senator Inglis' messenger endorsement of flesh has been the occasion of a good many stories, one of the best of which was related the other night by another Kansas man at the West.
"You know how lean Inglis is," he said. "Well, down in Atchison there is a doctor who is a great friend of the senator. This doctor has been greatly annoyed by a newsboy who would come into his office very unceremoniously and pester him, trying to sell papers. "One day, when Inglis was in the
