POINTS ON POLITICS.

The Republican voters of the Fourth district of the Second ward will hold their caucus next Saturday afternoon. William Dawson, of this city, yesterday entered on his duties as an assistant to the sergeant at arms of the senate at Harrisburg.

James McGuinness, of this city, has obtained a position as paster and folder at Harrisburg through the influence of Senator Vaughan.

The primaries of the Fifth ward will be held tomorrow afternoon between the hours of 4 and 7 o'clock, at the various polling districts.

John D. Evans, of Edna avenue, who was a candidate for the Republican nomination for alderman in the First ward, has withdrawn in favor of Morgan H. Williams, of Margaret avenue. L. N. Roberts, of the Second ward, this city, was yesterday appointed alderman of that ward by Governor Pat-tison. The apointment gives general satisfaction, as Mr. Roberts is one of the prominent Welshmen of that portion of our city. The appaointment is formerly select councilman of the Second ward. In the Fifteenth ward the right of T. Ellsworth Davies to continue to represent the ward in the common council will be contested. Among the candidates for the Republican nomination in that ward besides Mr. Davies are Joseph Oliver, John Fowler and Ebenezer Davies. The candidates for the Re publican nomination for alderman in the same ward are T. T. Morgan, the present incumbent, Daniel Moses and at the Archbald breaker of the Delathe foot of the West mountain in Keyser valley in Lackawanna township. Theodore Hale, assistant outside fore-nan, and William Morgan, an outside that Mr. Hale died a few hours later, but Mr. Morgan is yet alive and the chances are in favor of his recovery, although he is suffering from broken legs and serious internal injuries.

A small locomotive is used on the pea coal dump to haul the cars loaded with that size coal from the breaker. The engineer of the locomotive is Harry May, and when the engine was on its way up an incline, the slippery condition of the rails caused the wheels of the machine to slide, and although the engineer did all in his power by reversing his levers and applying sand to the rails the locomotive sped on and could not be controlled. Engineer May did not jump until he saw it was no further use to try and stop the en-gine from going pell mell down the plane, and the men at the bottom were not aware of their danger until it was too late for them to escape. Assistant Foreman Hale and Mr. Morgan were engaged in making repairs at the foot of the plane, and before they realized the peril of their position the engine struck them and hurled them with awful and sudden force against a small shanty. The impetus of the runaway engine was so great that it crashed entirely through a small but solid and substantial office building at the bottom of the plane, wrecking it and smashing the walls and roof to splint-

Death of Theodore Hale. The injured men were covered be-neath a heap of broken lumber and they were quickly released. Dr. D. B. Hand was sent for and he arrived hurriedly. All efforts to save the life of Mr. Hale proved unavailing, and he died after three hours of excrutiating suffering. He was a young man 26 years of age and was recently married. He was an employe at the Archbaid breaker for a number of years, and by his energy and carefulness was re warded not long ago by the appointment of assistant to Superintendent John Fern. He lived at 1304 Washburn street, and leaves a young widow but no children.

The other injured man, Mr. Morgan, was taken to his home in Park Hill, and at a late hour last night he was resting quite comfortably. There is no blame attached to the engineer of the his best to prevent the engine from Herschell Hollister and Charles Engle Are Again Free Men-Their Terms of Impris onment Have Expired.

On May 9, 1892, Herschell H. Hollister of this city, and Charles Engel, of Dun more, went to the Eastern penitentiary A terrible accident occurred yester-day a few minutes before 9 o'clock the charge of robbery. They were released yesterday from the Eastern peni ware, Lackawanna and Western Rail-road company on the back road at ducted from their term of imprisonment by virtue of their good behavior while incarcerated.

These men, together with an accomplice named Wallace Snow, had planned employe, received such terrible injuries to rob the pay office of the Spencer colliery at Dunmore. When the time arrived for the men to carry out their purpose the police arrested them, Snow having betrayed his accomplices. Hollister and Engel had always been onsidered upright and honest citizens, and their arrest created a great sensation. Their trial was watched with interest, and when convicted an appeal was taken to the supreme court, which was decided against Hollister and Engel and they were sent to the penitentiary to serve the terms of impris onment which have just expired.

NOTED ABOUT TOWN.

A flendish attack was made on "Two Little Girls in Blue" by a street band in Penn avenue yesterday afternoon. Not satisfied with their onslaught on the little girls, whose only offence was the wearing of blue, the wandering brass blowers turned their batteries on "My Pearl Is a Bowery Girl." When they concluded the most ardent admirer of that cultured lady would scarcely term her "a peach." Other ladies equally as well known to fame through the efforts of the serio-comic artists suffered similar treatment.

Those enterprising and progressive carpet and drapery dealers, Kerr & Siebecker, have decided to increase the membership of the firm by admitting Albert N. Kerr and George W. Watkins as partners. The former is a son of the senior member of the firm, and has had charge of the Carbondale branch of the house. Mr. Watkins has had charge of the drapery department in the Scranton ocomotive, as reports agree that he did store for a long time. The new firm name is Kerr, Siebecker & Co.

Besides Mr. Scism Mr. Clarke's company comprises a number of really capable actors, and it is certain that Scrantonians who attend these per-formances at the Frothingham will be treated to unexcelled presentations of bright, sparkling comedy-comedy of the kind that is mirth provoking with out the aid of variety actors and slangy expressions of the street. One of the faults to find with minstrel companies is that most of the come dians are very much alike in their methods. This season Lew Dockstader has, by searching far and wide, organized a company in which each comedian is widely different in his actions, dialect and methods. One of the comedians, who will be entirely new to his audiences, will be Frank H. White, a peculiarly droll and odd young man, totally different from any comedian ever connected with this company. It is said that the company in Mr. Sully's support is by far the strongest that has ever surrounded him; indeed, the requirements of the play are such that they could scarcely be met by mediocre artists. Mr. Sully's performance has met with the warmest praise throughout the country where the play has been presented, and the little things that go to indicate success are in the air, having preceded his advent in 9-4 Pepperell, waives of commendation.

BARNIE WILL BE MANAGER

Signed for That Position by th Scranton Base Ball Association.

WILL HAVE ABSOLUTE CONTROL

Mr. Barnie Had a Conference with Presi dent Betts and Directors of Club at

Which It Was Settled That He Should Manage the Team. Billie Barnie, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will nanage the Scranton Base Ball club He yesterday signed a contract with President W. L. Betts, of the Scranton association, agreeing to do so. He promises to give the people of Scranton a base ball club worthy of their support. He will have absolute control of the men.

There has been considerable corres pondance during the past few weeks between Mr. Barnie and President Betts about the management of the Scranton club, which resulted in Mr. Barnie coming to this city Wednesday night. He had a conference with Mr. Betts and several of the directors and at 4 p. m. he was on his way back to the City of Churches with a signed contract in his inside pocket.

On Feb. 1 Mr. Barnie will come to this city to reside and will give his whole attention to the problem of getting to gether a team that will be strong in all departments. He has a big contract on and, but believes that he will be reasonably successful in his efforts.

Satisfied with the Work. Concerning the men reserved and under contract with Scranton Mr. Barnie expressed himself as perfectly satis-fied. By filling up the vacant positions in the team with men equally as good he believes Scranton will have a club that will cut quite a swath in the East-

Pickett, of Troy, with whom President Betts has been negotiating for the positions of captain and second base, is a fine ball player, Mr. Barnie says, although a trifle heavy. He plays his position in admirable style, however, and would be a valuable addition to the team. If Pickett does not display any great eagerness to sign a Scranton contract, some one else will be secured. Just now ball players are very plentiful who are anxious to sign with clubs that pay salaries in something more tangible than promises.

President Betts during the last month has received scores of applications from all grades and classes of players who want an opportunity to distinguish themselves on the Scranton diamond. All of these letters were yes-terday turned over to Mr. Barnie.

A National League Manager. The new manager of the Scranton club has had an extended experience in the base ball business, having been manager of the Baltimore and Louisville clubs of the National league for a number of years.

He was also identified with the recent project to form an American association of base ball clubs, which awak ened such fierce opposition among the officers of the National league.

Many of the local base ball men were anxious to secure the services of John Hanlon for manager, but he coquetted with the offer to such an extent that the officials of the club decided not to run the risk of being without a manager, and, therefore, signed Barnie when the opportunity offered itself.
