

EIGHT PAGES--56 COLUMNS.

MARTIN'S STOCK DECLINES

Philadelphia Leader Turned Down by Governor Hastings.

DAY'S EVENTS AT HARRISBURG

Further Consideration of Mr. O'Malley's Company Store Bill Is Postponed--Senator Flinn's Little Trick--Other Bills Before the Legislature.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Harrisburg, Jan. 16.--After the pageantry of inauguration day, today's doings on the hill were comparatively tame. The only feature of general political interest was the appointment by Governor Hastings of the colored Isaac B. Brown, of Erie, to fill out the unexpired term of Colonel Tom Stewart as secretary of internal affairs.

Senator Flinn's Little Trick.

The senator from Allegheny yesterday introduced a bill which yet puzzles his fellow senators. It is entitled an act to amend section 4 of the act of April 29, 1874, to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities. The Flinn amendment drops the 8 per cent. feature and simply provides that the tax levied and assessed shall be equal to and sufficient for the amount of the interest and principal of such debt within a period not exceeding thirty years. The amendment, it is believed by many, is intended to wipe out sinking funds, inasmuch as it provides for the payment annually of a part of the loan and the interest arising from an authorized increased indebtedness. They argue that Mr. Flinn's bill provides for an increased tax rate in places where voters can be hoodwinked into voting to authorize a new loan. The increased tax rate must be fixed, however, and the interest on the new loan which can be duplicated as often as the bosses can secure votes enough, even beyond the constitutional limit.

Company Store Bill Postponed.

In the house today Representative Ritter read his bill providing for the payment of salaries to judges after their retirement during a certain term of service, or upon resignation after a continuous term of twenty consecutive years. The company store bill of Representative O'Malley was considered on second reading. Mr. Talbot objected to the second section on a certain term of service, and the consideration of the bill was postponed for the present. The bill required that fines must be paid to the school district in which the illegal store was conducted, while the constitution provides that all fines must be paid into the county treasury.

Work of the Senate.

Among the bills introduced in the senate were the following: By Mr. Smith--To prevent the pollution of streams by the use of lands for burial purposes within prescribed limits. By Mr. Thomas--Fixing compensation of the probate judge of the eastern district at $7,000; of the western district at $5,000 and of the middle district at $4,000. By Mr. Landis--Making it a misdemeanor to give voters or electors at regular or primary elections money or other valuable things to influence their vote. The following bills were introduced favorably: Giving the senate five additional employees; making the superintendent of public buildings and grounds custodian of state supplies; providing for the creation of new counties. After reciting the following bills were introduced: By Mr. Penrose--Making it unlawful to employ children under 16 years in factories and workshops; also, requiring specifications of the amount of work and of compensation therefor to be furnished employees, regulating hours of employment, and providing devices to keep rooms at proper temperature. The governor announced the appointment of Isaac B. Brown, of Erie, as secretary of internal affairs, to fill temporarily the vacancy caused by the appointment of Thomas J. Stewart to the adjutant generalship, and the senate at once confirmed the appointment.

Horse Bills Introduced.

By Mr. McClintock, of Allegheny--To prevent descriptions in entry products. By Mr. Lemon, of Allegheny--Dividing the cities of the state into three classes, with respect to population, and providing that cities of the first class shall have an over shall be of the first class; those containing 100,000 and less than 1,000,000, second class; those containing a population under 100,000 shall be of the third class. By Mr. McCree, of Columbia--To distribute the school appropriation of the state and defining the term of school. By Mr. Seyfer, of Luzerne--Providing that the state appropriation to the school districts shall be distributed on the basis of the local school tax and the amount spent for schools. By Mr. Collins, of Lycoming--Providing that road and poor taxes shall be collected as school and county taxes are now collected by the third class. By Mr. Buckwalter, of Perry--Amending the act to require county commissioners to purchase certain supplies, and amend the act to require that the same be purchased from the county. By Mr. North, of McKean--Prohibiting the killing of deer for five years and providing penalties. By Mr. Harvey, of Luzerne--Providing that insurance companies shall pay the face value of policies. Adjutant General Stewart this evening announced the following appointments: Chief clerk, Captain George C.

Kelly, of Lewisburg; superintendent of the arsenal, Captain John W. Nesbit, of Allegheny; keeper of the flag room, Elmer Russell; clerk at arsenal, Richard Hayward; Howard Harris, of Clearfield, has been appointed law clerk in the attorney general's office, and L. Larry Eyer, of Chester, deputy secretary of internal affairs.

DRAYTON'S DIVORCE SUIT.

There is an impression that it will never come to trial. By the United Press. New York, Jan. 16.--Counsel for both J. Coleman Drayton and wife refused today to discuss the report that the action for absolute divorce brought against her will never be tried. Until Mrs. Drayton arrives in this country from England, Jan. 23, no one can say whether or not she will elect to defend the suit. Her answer was filed on Oct. 3 last, but there is an impression that she will allow the judgment to be taken by default. In answer Mrs. Drayton made a general denial of wrong-doing. Her sudden determination to sail for this country is thought to be due to the fact that she is being sued by her husband, who is living at Taxedo, while his wife has been in this country but little since the scandal became public property.

RIPE FOR REVOLUTION.

French Socialists Seem Bent Upon Resigning--Cassimir-Perier's Course Is Discussed.

By the United Press. Paris, Jan. 16.--To many people the morning papers told them the first news of the resignation of President Cassimir-Perier, and the announcement came like a thunderbolt, every one asking the reason for the president's sudden and seemingly unnecessary action. The action of M. Cassimir-Perier in abandoning his office in the face of the French revolution is discussed in the newspapers, which regard his withdrawal at this time as an act of cowardice. The Socialist members of the chamber of deputies met and issued a manifesto against Cassimir-Perier and declaring his resignation an impossibility. They declared the president was overthrown by Socialists, and with his downfall is the downfall of capitalism and reaction. The resignation of the president was read in the two legislative chambers by their presidents and the chamber of deputies. The national convention, comprising the senate and chamber of deputies, will meet tomorrow at Versailles to elect a successor to Cassimir-Perier. It was learned late this evening that the Republican senators, while in caucus, elected a second list of candidates, which resulted as follows: Waldeck Rousseau, 84; Brisson, 66; Loubet, Dupuy and Challemel-Lacour, 35 among them. Berlin, Jan. 16.--Emperor William was informed early this morning of the French president's resignation. He drove to the French embassy, where he had a long interview with M. Herbet. He expressed his high opinion of the president and his regret that the sudden change had been deemed expedient. The Berlin newspapers reflect clearly the apprehension felt by the people. The Reichshof says: "The socialists have achieved their purpose. They have overthrown Cassimir-Perier. They are ripe for revolution."

London, Jan. 16.--The duke of Orleans, chief of French pretenders, left London with his suite today for Dover, where he will hold himself ready to start for France in case political developments favor his cause.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

One Man Killed and Several Are Wounded at Homestead.

By the United Press. Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 16.--By the explosion of a boiler in the 40th mill of the Carnegie Steel company at Homestead about 3 o'clock this morning one man was killed, two fatally hurt and one body injured. The man killed was Henry Brennan, aged 25, single, and the two fatally hurt were John Gibbs, coal wheler, married, and William Egan, harbor, married, in Patterson's Thomas Banks, workman, was dangerously scalded. The body of Brennan was found a short distance away from the exploded boiler, and it was evident that death had been almost instantaneous. The body was slightly burned by hot water and steam, but death seemed to have been caused by the concussion. The explosion was caused by the muddy water clogging the pipes.

CASE OF EUGENE DEBS.

Supreme Court Has the Matter Under Adjudication.

By the United Press. Washington, Jan. 16.--In accordance with the announcement made by Chief Justice Fuller on Monday, the supreme court this afternoon heard argument in the matter of the petition of Eugene V. Debs, et al., imprisoned by Judge Woods of the Seventh circuit, for contempt of court in violation of certain injunctions issued last summer in connection with the Chicago railroad strike. The argument was purely a legal one, upon the question whether or not a writ of error would lie, and was the proper method of proceeding in the case. The court took the matter under advisement in the usual way.

SENTENCE OF W. C. DOLL.

The Iron Hall Magnate Will Spend a Year in Prison.

By the United Press. Philadelphia, Jan. 16.--Judge Reed, in the quarter sessions court, today sentenced W. C. Doll, who pleaded guilty to appropriating $1,000 of funds belonging to the Order of Iron Hall, to one year's imprisonment. Doll was the cashier of a local branch of the Iron Hall. Philadelphia, Jan. 16.--Avalanches in Spain. Madrid, Jan. 16.--Avalanches have broken over several villages in Austria and many persons are said to have been killed. Miss Stevenson's Condition. By the United Press. Asheville, N. C., Jan. 16.--It is thought Miss Stevenson, the vice president's daughter, cannot live twenty-four hours longer. KILLED IN A QUARREL. Harry Reisswick Fatally Wounded by William Bachman. By the United Press. Norristown, Pa., Jan. 16.--Harry Reisswick, aged 35 years, a farmer residing near West Point, sixty miles from this borough, was shot and fatally wounded by William Bachman, aged 55 years, a retired farmer, who also resides on a farm near West Point, last night. The two men quarrelled over the payment of a bill. Reisswick threatened to kill Bachman with a hatchet if the latter did not pay the bill. The latter produced a gun and as Reisswick advanced emptied a load of shot into his body. The entire load struck

INCOME TAX WRANGLING

Mr. Vest Sincerely Hopes for an Extra Session.

WHAT WILL REPUBLICANS DO

The Orator Wishes for an Opportunity to Judge Whether the Republican Party Can Bring Prosperity to the Country.

By the United Press.

Washington, Jan. 16.--After the routine morning business the urgency deficiency bill was then taken up and Mr. Hill addressed the senate in regard to the ruling out of his amendment giving United States courts jurisdiction over the question of constitutionality and validity of the income tax. Mr. Hill proceeded with his argument, sustaining it by reference to various decisions in both houses, showing that such bills--as, for instance, a pensions arrears bill, a river and harbor bill--were not general appropriation bills under the rules. Mr. Vest said that he was largely responsible for the form in which the income tax provision now stood. He did not claim that it was perfect, or anything like perfect, but he asserted that its imperfections were caused by the fact that in the absence of rules in the senate to close debate, the finance committee was compelled to put the tariff bill through under whip and spur. The entire country, he said, was clamoring for tariff reform. He was tired of hearing the endless charges against the tariff law and its defects--coming from those who knew the reason why those defects existed. Those who had charge of the measure had endeavored to make the income tax as objectionable as possible. There had been grave defects in it and it had been hoped that those defects would be reformed in the conference committee. Mr. Vest drifted into a discussion of the rules in reply to Mr. Gorman's defense of them on Monday. He said that on any political or financial measure it was impossible to force action; while on other matters any senator might have almost any bill passed under "senatorial courtesy."

Not in President's Confidence.

On another point in his speech Mr. Vest said: "I have no right to say what the president will do, for I do not enjoy the confidence of the president. I sincerely hope that if congress adjourns without financial legislation the president will call us immediately on the final fall of the gavel, in extra session; and we will then see whether the Republican party, by its enactments, will bring prosperity to the people of the United States."

As to the estimates of revenue, Mr. Vest said he did not believe that the secretary of the treasury or any other man could make any intelligent conjecture as to the future revenue of the government.

In instance, he estimated that the revenue from the income tax was $29,000,000, but he believed that it would be in the neighborhood of eighty or a hundred millions. Mr. Quay again offered his amendment by adding at the end of the bill the provision that nothing in the law should prevent any court having jurisdiction from hearing proceedings to test the constitutionality or validity of the act.

Mr. Gray raised a point of order against it and the chair (Mr. Gallinger) sustained the point of order.

Quay's Amendment Defeated.

Mr. Quay renewed his amendment for testing the constitutionality and validity of the income tax; and it was defeated--yeas, 19; nays, 32, as follows: Yeas--Messrs. Aldrich, Chandler, Davis, Frye, Gray, Hale, Hawley, Hill, Lodge, McMillan, Manderson, Mitchell, Orin, Patterson, Tamm, Quay, Sherman, Smith and Wilson. Nays--Messrs. Allen, Bates, Barry, Blackburn, Blanchard, Butler, Call, Clegg, Cocke, Fiske, Gorman, Gordon, Gorman, Hutton, Jarvis, Jones, Lusk, Kyle, Lindsay, McLaughlin, Morgan, Pugh, Ransom, Roach, Stewart, Teller, Turpie, Vest, Vilas, Voorhees, Walsh, White and Woodruff.

Mr. Hill offered an amendment providing that none of the appropriation used be applied to the purpose of compelling a taxpayer to make any return or answer any question except as to the amount and amount of his gains, profit and income.

The bill was then reported to the senate from committee of the whole and all of the amendments were agreed to except the one inserting the word "fractional" in the item for the redemption of silver coins in the treasury. Mr. Blanchard made an argument against the adoption of that amendment. Mr. Cockrell replied to Mr. Blanchard; and the amendment was retained in the bill: Yeas, 25; nays, 19. The bill was then passed.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Aldrich, and agreed to, requesting the president to transmit copies of all correspondence with or communication from the representatives from the government of Germany or any other country in respect to the enforcement of any of the arrangements under the tariff of 1890.

NEW YORK BALL CLUB.

The Organization Will Change Owners in the Near Future.

By the United Press. New York, Jan. 16.--The New York baseball club will change owners in a very few days. Andrew Freedman is the probable purchaser. He is to pay, it is said, $50,000 for the controlling interest in the club. This is about 50 per cent. of the par value of the stock that will change hands in the event of the deal going through. Mr. Freedman says that he will make many improvements and try to place professional baseball on a higher plane in this city than it has ever been before.

KILLED IN A QUARREL.

Harry Reisswick Fatally Wounded by William Bachman.

By the United Press. Norristown, Pa., Jan. 16.--Harry Reisswick, aged 35 years, a farmer residing near West Point, sixty miles from this borough, was shot and fatally wounded by William Bachman, aged 55 years, a retired farmer, who also resides on a farm near West Point, last night. The two men quarrelled over the payment of a bill. Reisswick threatened to kill Bachman with a hatchet if the latter did not pay the bill. The latter produced a gun and as Reisswick advanced emptied a load of shot into his body. The entire load struck the man under the heart and he fell to the ground. The physician in charge states that he will die. Bachman has disappeared.

William Bachman, the old farmer who shot and fatally wounded Harry Reisswick, another farmer, yesterday last night in a quarrel over a bill, and then escaped, was arrested tonight at Lansdale, this county, and will be given a hearing tomorrow morning.

DARING ROBBERS FOILED.

Six Tramps Are Put to Flight by Ex-Sheriff McKune at Susquehanna.

By the United Press. Philadelphia, Jan. 16.--A bold and daring attempt at robbery was made last night at Susquehanna. About 11 o'clock, as ex-Sheriff M. F. McKune, who is the toll keeper at the bridge between Susquehanna and Oakland, was standing by the bridge near his home talking with Edward Holton, of the Oakland side, they were suddenly accosted by six burly tramps who commanded them to hold up their hands and at the same time pointed revolvers at their heads. Mr. McKune resisted and succeeded in grabbing a revolver from one of the gang and commenced firing at them. The tramps answered the fire and several shots were sent back and forth, one taking effect and struck Mr. McKune in the hip, but the wound is not serious. Mr. Holton gave the alarm and the tramps fled. A crowd, with officers, followed in hot pursuit. The tramps were soon discovered near the depot, and after a little time the officers captured two of the men, who at the hearing were named by their names as James and Michael Haley. Officers Bankes and McMahon passed through this place today with the prisoners en route for Montross. It has been reported that they got Mr. Holton's gold watch and chain, but the tramps reported in an interview with Officer Bankes today learned that the tramps got nothing.

CATASTROPHE AT BUTTE.

The City Slowly Recovering from Stupification of Horror--Identifying the Victims of Explosion.

By the United Press. Butte, Mont., Jan. 16.--Butte is slowly recovering from the stupefaction of the explosion which it was thrown last night by the explosion in the cost at least three score lives and injured and mangled half a hundred people besides. So far the mangled bodies of forty-seven persons have been recovered, and this total will undoubtedly be increased as the search continues. The ruins of the burned and shattered warehouse have been searched. The dead are so horribly mangled in most cases as to be unrecognizable, but twenty-six have been identified by their clothing and articles found upon them. The exact number of the wounded cannot yet be learned, as they are lying at different hospitals throughout the city, to which they were hurried. The excess of killed over the wounded is due to the terrific force of the explosion, which killed three in number--merely fatally killed the victims outright instead of maiming them, and which, in many cases, swept completely out of existence human bodies and substantial buildings. The terrible calamity was due, primarily, to a slight fire that started about 10 o'clock last night in a store which was located on the tracks of the Montana Central railroad. The money loss will be about $1,000,000.

HARRY HAYWARD'S NERVE.

He Does Not Flinch When Confronted by Miss Julia Ginz.

By the United Press. Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 16.--Harry Hayward, a well known attorney, today in the state's attorney brought the supposed murderer of Miss Catherine Ginz suddenly face to face with Miss Julia Ginz, of Auburn, N. Y., the sister of the murdered woman. The meeting was a disorderly woman, for the purpose of trying the nerve and conscience, and no indignation was given Hayward, who merely explained to his child, loved and said: "From appearance, I should say this was Miss Julia Ginz. Is not this Miss Ginz?" The woman gave a nod in the affirmative only. Hayward went on to protest his innocence and declared he could consider Miss Ginz if he had a long talk with his sister regarding the prisoner's words. "Time will tell."

BLAIR-WHITE CONTEST.

Grave Violations of the Baker Ballot Law Discovered in Indiana.

By the United Press. Indiana, Jan. 16.--A number of witnesses have been subpoenaed in the Blair-White contest and the sheriff is out with attachments for them. So far the testimony discloses apparently grave violations of the Baker ballot law. The rulings of the court are favorable to counsel for Judge Blair. There is much evidence that whisky voters. Money was freely used to influence voters.

MUST RESPECT AMERICANS.

Sultan to Punish a Police Captain for Abusing a Missionary.

By the United Press. Constantinople, Jan. 16.--The captain of gendarmes of the town of Kama, in the Sivas district, has been summoned to this city in order to undergo punishment for ill-treating Mr. Hubbard, an American missionary. It seems that Mr. Hubbard was on his way to call upon an Armenian friend when the captain stopped him, demanded his passports, took him to a police station and struck him.

Guard Social Organization.

By the United Press.

Philadelphia, Jan. 16.--The National guard officers' association was organized today with Colonel Case, of the Fifth regiment, and Colonel Coryell, of the Twelfth, as president and secretary, respectively. It is a social organization in the Third brigade.

May Marshall Dead.

By the United Press.

Freeport, Ill., Jan. 16.--May Marshall, 25, by Billy Wilkes, died here today of lung fever. She was owned by M. E. McHenry, who refused $10,000 for the mare. Her world record for pacing mare was made at Nashville, Oct. 10, 1893.

FLASHED FROM THE WIRES.

New York's grip epidemic has taken a new spurt, twelve deaths being reported yesterday.

Despondent from business depression, William W. Crozer, a Baltimore oyster dealer, shot himself.

Resenting an insulting letter, Miss May Bird conspired John Lehane at Charlotte, N. C., and had him arrested.

In an attempt to arrest two thieves, James J. Thomas Jarrett, a Columbus (Ga) detective, was shot dead.

MR. PATTISON NOMINATED

Democratic Candidate for Mayor of Philadelphia.

CONVENTION WAS BOISTEROUS

Delegates of the Untrified Faith Crowd Into a Small Hall and Quarrel for Seats--Candidates Are Selected Amid Great Confusion.

By the United Press.

Philadelphia, Jan. 16.--The Democratic city convention today was turbulent in the extreme. It was called to order in Warner's hall at 10 1/2 a. m. by temporary chairman Frank W. Sellers with one-third of the 800 odd delegates standing. The seating capacity of the hall was altogether inadequate, and a movement was started to adjourn to some better adapted place, but it was squelched. It required an hour for the delegates to elect a permanent chairman in the person of William F. Belsterling, who is identified with the regular Democracy, Michael J. Ryan being the unsuccessful aspirant. The hour fixed for the convention, which was the first held since the regular wing of the Philadelphia Democracy was organized, was broken by the Pennsylvania Democracy have apparently become unified, was 10 a. m. At that time the hall was filled to overflowing with an intensely boisterous crowd, and when Temporary Chairman Sellers tried to call the delegates to order with a stout stick that took the place of a gavel his efforts could not be heard ten feet away. Every man in the hall was upon his feet declaring his right to this or that seat, or disputing the political merits of some well known leader. It looked for a time as though the unconvention would get into a row, so heated were the unnecessary epithets that were being passed. After Mr. Sellers had whacked his impromptu gavel down for the one hundredth time something like order was obtained in the front rows. The chairman named the other temporary officers, and then City Chairman William F. Belsterling, on behalf of the "Regulars" nominated William F. Belsterling for permanent chairman, Dallas Sanders, as sponsor for the minority delegates, was upon his feet in an instant with a motion that Michael J. Ryan be chosen for this honor. The vote of 681 for Belsterling and 217 for Ryan showed the respective strengths of the wings. The vote was cast amid great confusion. Delegates alternately cheered and hissed, and candidate Ryan went so far as to accuse the chair of "rag law," when a contest arose over the vote of the First ward, and which accusation Mr. Sellers as promptly resented.

"They Shouted 'Pattison!'"

The nomination of a candidate for mayor being next on the card, a half dozen strong lunged delegates shouted "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. Banes nomination, and William Finley Brown made the second speech. "Pattison." No nominating speech was made, but several addresses followed in succeeding this selection. When the Pattison boom had somewhat quieted, Mr. Ryan placed Colonel Charles H. B