CITY NOTES.
Supper will be served in the Penn Avenue Baptist church this evening from 6 to 8 o'clock by the Ladies' Social Union.
Peter O'Brien, of Olyphant, has been appointed by Collector Herring storekeeper of the new distillery at Peachville.
The members of St. Peter's cathedral choir, assisted by Hauer's orchestra of fifteen pieces, will repeat the Christmas music at College hall on Sunday evening, Feb. 2.
Coroner Kelley, after inquiring into the manner in which Aldon W. Smith, of Glenburn, met his death, decided that a formal inquest was not necessary. It was evident that death was purely accidental.
The Catholic Choral union resumed their rehearsal at St. Thomas' college on Wyoming avenue last evening. Rehearsals will now be continued on Wednesday evenings.
A special meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Dunmore Presbyterian church is called for this afternoon at 2 o'clock. All members are earnestly requested to be present, as business of importance is to be considered.
A match game of pool will be held tonight between Frank Sherman, of Philadelphia, and Jerome Koch of St. Louis. The game commences at 8:30 o'clock, admission being free.
Paul Bechtel, who was arrested on the charge of stealing auto, the property of W. F. Haldstead, was yesterday committed by Alderman Fitzsimmons to default of $500 bail. He will be placed on trial at the next court of quarter sessions.
A pleasant evening will be enjoyed by the members of St. Patrick's church choir this evening in a sleighride to Archbald. The members will meet at the church at 7 o'clock. Professor Haydn Evans, organist, having made all arrangements for their comfort.
The teachers' training school is closed, owing to the resignation of Miss Boice, and will not be opened until the teachers' committee recommend an instructor and the board of control confirms the selection. A meeting of the committee has not been called.
Edward J. Wheeler, editor of the New York Voice, the foremost prohibition newspaper in the United States, will lecture at Conservatory hall this evening and his subject will be "Politics." The purpose of his lecture will be to advance the prohibition cause and there will be no admission fee charged to hear him.
The members of the poor board and the outdoor physicians in the city last night to ascertain the cause of the great increase in the cost of drugs during the year 1894 over its predecessors. It was shown that increasing the staff of outdoor physicians from two to five extended medical relief to a greater number of persons and consequently more drugs were used.
Court yesterday issued a mandamus against the borough of Dunmore, ordering the payment of $40.25 to the proprietors of the Scranton Times. On May 25, 1894, at the instance of R. J. Hughes, William F. Boyle and George A. Jessup, voters appeared to assess the cost of district sewer No. 1 in the Sixth ward of Dunmore, contracted the bill by ordering their report printed in the Times. The bill was for 42 lines at 10 cents a line.
Clerk of the Court Thomas issued the following marriage licenses yesterday: George Papoviz and Mary Simonik, of Olyphant; Harvey E. Dorschner, of Dunmore, and Bessie M. Wideman, of Wallsville; Mistro Teuchausky and Anna Clifton,

DEATH OF JOHN B. SMITH

Dunmore's Foremost Citizen Succumbed to the Grim Reaper.

THE FUNERAL ON SATURDAY

Great Grief Is Felt by All Classes in Dunmore Over Death of President of Erie and Wyoming Railroad Company. Action of Board of Trade.

John B. Smith, president of the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad and general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Coal company, died at his home in Dunmore at 7:55 o'clock yesterday morning. He was 58 years of age and had been afflicted with diabetes for several years.

JOHN B. SMITH.

lama, pastor of the church of which the deceased was a member, will preach the funeral sermon at 10 o'clock at the Forest Hill Baptist church. Rev. J. P. Mason, D. D., of Binghamton; Rev. S. C. Logan, D. D., of Scranton, and Rev. N. G. Purke, of Pittston, will also be present.

Mr. Smith is survived by two children, George B. Smith, superintendent of the Erie and Wyoming railroad, and Mrs. A. D. Blackington, who lived with their father. A daughter, Mrs. Galpin, of Elmhurst, died last summer; her two children have since resided with their grandfather, Mr. Smith. Mrs. John B. Smith died nine years ago.

An account of Mr. Smith's career appeared in yesterday's Tribune along with the facts of his illness. An unfortunate error in the headlines made it appear that Mr. Smith was demoted, which, of course, was not true. He was a member of the Independent Order of Old Fellows of Carbondale and the Free and Accepted Masons of the Woodbury lodge, and had been for a number of years one of the directors of the Scranton Gas and Water company.

The Dunmore board of trade held a meeting last evening to take action on the death of John B. Smith. After adjourning a committee on resolutions it was decided to invite the citizens to meet in Boyle's hall this evening at 8 o'clock to give expression to the great loss the borough sustained in Mr. Smith's death.

The most profound sorrow was caused yesterday in Dunmore by the news of Mr. Smith's death because he was one of the borough's most progressive citizens who was always interested in any movement that would assist the development or tend to enhance the well-being of his neighbors.

He was charitable, but his acts were done so quietly that few realized the amount of good he did by assisting worthy organizations and giving a helping hand to individuals who were becoming only too familiar with the thorny side of life.

CASES HEARD IN COURT.

Several Verdicts Returned by Jurists—Details of the Actions that Were Put on Trial.

When court assembled yesterday morning the jury that had heard the assortment suit of Assenize S. E. Mott against Charles P. Jadin, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1,400. A verdict was also rendered in the sum of $1,500 in favor of the plaintiff in the trespass suit of James O'Hara against the city of Scranton.

The suit of Charles E. Terry against L. M. Rogelle was for wages, and the jury found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $26.82. The trespass suit of John G. Jennings against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company was continued until the next term of court.

In the suit of Hill & Co. against John H. Howey against James Wilson the jury found a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $26.82. The trespass suit of John G. Jennings against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company was continued until the next term of court.

Judge McPherson, in court room No. 2, presided at the trial of the replevin suit of Sweetser, Pembroke & Co., of New York, against P. F. McDonald and T. J. Gilpatrick, of Carbondale. Attorneys Thomas F. Wells and J. E. Burr were for the plaintiffs and Attorneys E. N. Willard and H. A. Knapp for the defendants.

Change of Ownership. In 1890 the plaintiffs sold a bill of goods to Gilpatrick, one of the defendants, who was engaged in the grocery business in Carbondale. The bill amounted to something like $1,500. McDonald, the other defendant, clerked in the store and was Gilpatrick's uncle. The latter became financially involved and turned over all the goods in the store to McDonald. The bill of goods was sold by Sweetser, Pembroke & Co. and not paid until the suit was brought to recover that bill. The evidence did not tend to show that any collusion had been carried on between the two defendants, but that it was a regular bona fide business transaction. The case was given to the jury at adjournment.

Before Judge Gunster the appeal of William Moore against James Rowley was tried and almost finished when court adjourned. The plaintiff was represented by Attorneys Hulslander and Vostburg and the defendant by Attorneys Frank J. Fitzsimmons and Fred H. Stark. The suit is to recover possession of the land on Wyoming avenue, this city, under the title of sheriff's deed. The case will be given to the jury this morning.

Tried Before Judge Edwards. Only one case was tried in court from No. 3 before Judge Edwards. Edward J. McDonald was the plaintiff and was represented by Attorney George D. Taylor. Mrs. Patrick O'Hara was the defendant and Attorney James Mahon represented her. In 1885 her family was supplied by Mr. McDonald, who is a grocer of Carbondale, with coal to the value of $150. Attorney Mahon moved that binding instructions be given the jury for a verdict for the defendant on the ground that a wife can not be sued separately from her husband. Judge Edwards took the view of the case and so instructed the jury.

VOTERS ARE INCREASING.

Returns of Registry Lists to County Commissioners Show Gain in the County. Yesterday was the last day for registration of voters to return their books to the county commissioners and the total shows that there are at present 37,741 registered voters in Lackawanna county, or rather there are that many names on the lists. Two registration returns are made annually, one in September, preceding the fall election, and the other in January, preceding the spring election. The total of this return shows a gain of 567 over that made six months ago.

In the county districts, including all townships and boroughs, there are 13,344 votes registered; in Carbondale, 3,470, and in the twenty-one wards of the city there are 19,277. Taking these figures as a basis of calculation they would indicate that Scranton has a population of 100,000.

END OF AN EARNEST LIFE.

Impressive Services Over the Body of Miss Mary C. Doersam in Penn Avenue Baptist Church—Interment in Forest Hill Cemetery.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon about 400 friends and sympathizers were present at the Penn Avenue Baptist church to participate in the burial services of Miss Mary C. Doersam, daughter of Philip Doersam, of Penn avenue. Miss Doersam was a member of the First Presbyterian church and also a hardworking member of the Penn Avenue Baptist Sunday school. She also manifested a warm interest in the work of the Young Women's Christian association, and the large attendance yesterday was a tangible token of the high esteem in which she was held.

Rev. James McLeod conducted the services, which were opened by the singing of "Just Over the Borderland" by the Misses Rowe, W. C. Wieden and Hector H. Janney, after which Rev. Warren G. Partridge offered prayer in earnest terms on behalf of the afflicted family. Rev. Charles Robinson, D. D., read a portion of scripture and Rev. S. C. Logan, who was visibly affected, made some remarks of condolence to the family to whose previous afflictions he referred in sympathetic terms. Referring to the late Miss Doersam, he dwelt on her earnest purposes in endeavoring to do her utmost in helping in the work of her Master. He knew of no one more earnest in heart and she had been so happily busy in the associations of those she loved and her life had been as a bright and shining light, and they could truly say that she had accomplished all she could for the church of God and the glory of her Father, "thy should rejoice and be glad that their dear departed was a member of the blessed power of faith which Christ had given to face the grave. She had now gone to her rest where they would have the inestimable privilege of meeting her once more.

The funeral service was held at 2 o'clock yesterday in Forest Hill cemetery. The flowers were carried by Misses M. C. Doersam and C. P. Healy. Several exquisite wreaths and floral tributes were arranged around the casket. Interment was made at Forest Hill cemetery.

BROWNIES IN FAIRLAND.

Unique Entertainment to Be Given at V. M. C. A. Hall.

A very pretty entertainment will be given at Young Men's Christian association hall on Friday and Saturday evening, Jan. 25 and 26. A Saturday matinee had also been arranged for. The entertainment consists of "The Brownies in Fairyland," a musical cantata in two acts by Palmer Cox, the originator of the Brownie idea, with costumes by Margaret Douglas.

For this cantata fifty little boys and girls will impersonate the Brownies, and as many little girls who will appear as the fairies, are being drilled by Physical Director Weston, of the Young Men's Christian association. The progress they have made would indicate that the entertainment will be one of the most unique and pleasing ever given in the city.

The cantata will be staged and its production personally supervised by one of Palmer Cox's agents.

CHARLOTTE CORDAY.

Mrs. Potter and Kyrie Bellow to Appear Here Next Week.

It is a pleasure to note the appearance of two such distinguished and talented people as Mrs. Potter and Mr. Bellow, who are announced to appear at the Academy of Music on Tuesday, Jan. 22, in their latest and most successful play, "Charlotte Corday." Mrs. Potter has been receiving unqualified praise from the critics wherever she has appeared during her present American tour, and it is needless to add that Mr. Bellow, who has long since been recognized as one of the leading actors in any part he may be seen. The supporting company is nearly the same that accompanied them on their last visit to this country, about two seasons ago, and is said to be highly satisfactory in every respect. The sale of seats will open at the Academy of Music box office on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

GOOD WORK IS GOING ON

Usefulness of the Albright Library Constantly Growing.

OFFICERS NAMED FOR YEAR

Report of Librarian Carr Shows That 8,974 Persons Now Hold Cards Entitling Them to Take Out Books—Plans for the Future.

At the fourth annual meeting of the trustees of the Albright Memorial Library held Tuesday ex-Judge Alfred Hand was chosen president; William T. Smith, vice president; Henry J. Carr, secretary and librarian; Henry Bell, Jr., treasurer.

The estimate of expenses for the maintenance of the library during the year submitted by Mr. Hand was as follows: Books, $2,240; salaries, $5,163; incidentals, $2,700; total, $10,103.

Treasurer Bell presented the following statement of cash on hand: From citizens' constant increase in the number of those who avail themselves of its privileges, and it is still reaching out and extending its usefulness. When it was first opened a few years ago it had 16,000 books, and that number has since grown to 25,000. Librarian Carr said yesterday that the books would be added to the library this year than last, as the fund subscribed by the citizens of Scranton is almost exhausted and there is now only the time to be recovered from the city to make use of.

"We shall endeavor," said Mr. Carr, "to build up the industrial and scientific side of the library during the next few years. This is a great industrial community whose future must be closely allied to its manufactures of all kinds. The men employed in these establishments come here in search of information or science they are engaged in or that is tributary to it, and it shall be our effort, as far as possible, to put within the reach of all such searchers after knowledge all the information we possibly can."

"We are well supplied." In the matter of general literature and fiction the library is fairly well supplied at present, and a good portion of the money we will expend during the next year or two will be in the direction of bringing the industrial and scientific portion of the library up to a high plane of usefulness.

"We already have the nucleus of a medical library," remarked Mr. Carr, "pointing to the Throp collection in the gallery, which may develop into a most valuable feature of the library."

"What are your plans for extending the work of the library?" asked the reporter.

"Well, as to that, I would like to see a distributing agency connected with the library located in Green Ridge, Providence, Hyde Park and the South Side, but such additions would increase the expense of the library about $5,000, and as the city has many increased appropriations to meet this year we made no request in our estimate to councils for money to extend the work of the library in the matter of establishing these distributing agencies."

A NOTABLE WEDDING.

Edward J. Rutledge and Miss Minnie Hand Made Man and Wife.

Rev. E. J. Malley, pastor of St. John's Catholic church, South Side, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon officiated at the nuptials of Miss Minnie Hand, youngest daughter of Brower Michael J. Hand, of 1212 Cedar avenue, and Edward J. Rutledge, one of Pittston's prominent and progressive citizens. The marriage ceremony was private. Representative W. H. Rutledge, of the Fifth Legislative district, comprising Pittston, was the groomsmen, and Miss Agnes Glennon, of West Pittston, was the bridesmaid.

The bride's gown was of brown Penn Besse silk, trimmed with velvet and ornamented with marten fur. The bridesmaid's costume was of the same fabric, with velvet and steel cut trimmings. The groom and groomsmen were attired in conventional black broadcloth suits.

After the marriage ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride on Cedar avenue, and at 7 o'clock a reception was held. An hour later a wedding banquet was served in the dining hall. Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge received the guests and the ushers were P. H. Coyne, of Cedar avenue, and Frank Lavan, of Pittston. Many costly and exquisite presents were bestowed.

Those present were: Rev. E. J. Mal-
