NEWS OF THIS VICINITY

TUNKHANNOCK.

Helen, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Bardwell, who has been critically ill, is convalescent.

A murky fog enveloped the town Wednesday night and yesterday morning it had frozen to the trees, transforming the town into a scene like fairyland.

Thaniel Wintermute has been confined to the house nearly two months with rheumatism, and is still in a bad way.

The Keiserville Knights of Pythias publicly banqueted at their hall last evening.

A number of teams were engaged yesterday in hauling snow on the river bridge. The bridge is a covered one, hence artificial sleighing is resorted to.

Much feeling is expressed over the proposed repeal of the billiard and ten pin alley law, and petitions vehemently protesting against such action will be numerous circulated and poured in upon the representative at Harrisburg. The law once repealed can never be regained, as under the constitution last adopted by the state no special legislation for counties can be had.

The grand jury was discharged yesterday afternoon, after viewing the public buildings and recommending the purchase of a kitchen range for the jail and some slight repairs on the stables.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Marks died suddenly yesterday morning, and was taken to Towanda on the afternoon train, where the funeral services will be held.

The jury in the Kelley murder case were charged by Judge Dunham shortly before noon yesterday and sent out, remaining until nearly 5 p. m. before agreeing upon a verdict. In the meantime court had been adjourned, but when the ringing of the bell announced that a verdict had been reached there was a rush for the court house and the room was soon filled. Hartford's wife and baby were there, the wife having paced nervously up and down the corridors during the interim. When clerk Reynolds asked the jury if they had reached a verdict a deathlike stillness pervaded the house. He took it, and after showing it to the judge, slowly read, "we find the prisoner not guilty of murder, but guilty of voluntary manslaughter."

A ripple of applause started around the court room, but the judge instantly silenced it with a sharp rap. The prisoner took it quietly, but drew a deep sigh of relief. The judge dismissed court, after announcing that sentence would be deferred until next week. The extreme penalty in such a case is $1,000 fine and twelve years imprisonment, but it is not probable that the full penalty will be imposed.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Dyer of Jenningsville, have been visiting C. F. Potter's family this week.

Miss Edie Reynolds was editor of a semi-monthly sheet read at the meetings of the Patrons of Industry society while living at Forkston, and since removing here she finds time to still pursue her duties in that direction. The paper is said to be remarkably pungent in its personal columns, and never fails to draw a good attendance at lodge meetings on the evening of publication.

The grand jury found that a bridge across Tunkhannock creek near F. O. Walter's residence is necessary and too expensive for the township to build, hence they recommend that it be made a county bridge.

Grand jury found true bill against Allen Jayne, of Forkston township, for the larceny of a mule. The jury was discharged last night and court was adjourned until Monday.

David Bonner, an Eaton farmer, boasts of having marketed twenty-seven hogs, weighing from 80 to 672 pounds. His porker netted him $59.93 in the Wilkes-Barre market.

Other Court Notes. William Frazier vs. Cora Frazier; subpoena in divorce awarded.

C. B. Lacey vs. M. M. Lacey; subpoena in divorce awarded.

W. J. Burgess vs. W. C. Appleman; continued.

In re assignment of B. W. Yelding for benefit of creditors; John H. Jennings appointed assignee, and C. F. Cannon and George W. Walters appointed as appraisers.

The Misses Margaret Louisa, of Moorock, Kittle Cummings, of Avoca; Jennie Flaherty, of Wilkes-Barre, and Messrs. John McCormack, Charles Spencer, of Avoca, and James F. Timlin enjoyed a sleighride to Olyphant Wednesday evening.

The Young Men's Athletic club will hold a grand ball at Weber's rink on Thursday evening, Feb. 21.

Mrs. Daniel Gillingham and son, George, of Mill Creek, visited friends in town yesterday.

The Republicans will hold a convention on Tuesday evening next at 7:30 p. m. in Weber's hall for the purpose of placing in nomination one person to serve as borough auditor for a term of three years. The Republicans will elect their delegates to this convention at the caucuses held tonight (Friday) and will be entitled to one delegate for each twenty-five votes or fractional part thereof cast for general elections at last fall's election.

The fight for councilmen in the Third and Second wards is especially interesting. Gomer Jones, H. J. Cooper and William G. Howells are the candidates for councilmen in the Second ward. In the Third ward John B. Price and John Thomas are the candidates, and as the time for the nomination has approached the fight has reached its highest pitch.

H. B. Snyder, of Rondout, paid the employees of the canal department of the Delaware and Hudson Canal company last evening.

Employees of the Erie have received their monthly salary.

A Wonderful Cure Ulcer in the Stomach

Hood's Sarsaparilla Restores Flesh Strength and Health.

"C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. "I feel it my duty to suffering humanity to give a statement of the wonderful cure Hood's Sarsaparilla brought about for me. Over two years ago I became ill, due to an ulcer in my stomach. I had six or seven different physicians, whose standing was of the highest, but they did not cure me. I was broken down in health and lost in weight from 145 to 118 Pounds.

I could hardly get around, and after suffering severely for about a year, I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. After the first bottle I began to feel like a new man. I purchased another bottle and had not taken half of it when I was cured of my trouble. I am now in health back to my old weight again and attending regularly to my work. I firmly believe Hood's Sarsaparilla saved my life." F. W. BUSH, Ansonia, Penn.

Hood's Pills are hand made, and perfect in proportion and appearance. 25c. per box.

ARCHBALD.

The excellent sleighing of the past few weeks has brought scores of visitors to this borough, as it is about midway between Forest City and Scranton. The old reliable Moyle's hotel has been the Mecca of the sleighride party since the town has had an existence, and it has lost none of its prestige under its present proprietor, John A. Moyle, who is a son of the original proprietor, whose name the hotel bears. Last Thursday evening a score of the savans of the valley met at this hospitable board and discussed the absorbing question of the day, the probable habitation of the other planets of our system, while doing ample justice to the excellent bill of fare. And such a feast of reason and flow of soul it has never before been the fortune of the scribe to attend.

Archbald has ever been known for the literary abilities of sons and daughters and as age comes on apace the old town still holds its own. Only the other night a pair of her gallant sons took up the gauntlet in favor of the intellectual superiority of the daughters of Eve over the sons of Adam, and after listening to the arguments of the intellectual gladiators, pro and con, the majority of the Judges, although benedicts, called it a drawn battle. It is rumored that the fear of losing the hirsute covering of their heads biased the decision.

The spring election, which will be held next month, has a tendency to enliven the staid burgess to a realization of their importance. Thus early the festive candidate is abroad soliciting the suffrages of his fellow citizens in order that he may be elected to guard the interests of the taxpayers.
