REYNOLDS WANTS HIS FEES.

He Has Begun an Amicable Action Against the County Commissioners to Try to Secure Them.

Ex-County Detective Thomas E. Reynolds began what is styled an amicable action in assumpsit yesterday in court, and Commissioners S. W. Roberts, Gies Roberts and John Demuth are named as the defendants.

When Koons defaulted he skipped the town and one of his bondsmen, Charles Kaestner, went before Alderman De Long and swore out a warrant for him.

Koons was apprehended in Philadelphia and brought back to Scranton by ex-Deputy Sheriff John J. Gaffney, then acting as deputy in the city controller's office.

The action brought yesterday is an amicable one and is referred for argument on Thursday, Feb. 21. If the court rules that the plaintiff has no claim to the fees, the matter will drop, and if the decision is in favor of the plaintiff the commissioners will pay the bill.

HEARD IN COURT.

Only One Verdict Was Taken Yesterday in Common Pleas.

Nothing was done in the courts yesterday except taking the verdict of the jury in the case of William Moore against James Rowley. The verdict was in favor of the defendant. The ejectment suit of Robert Timony against John Welsh, was settled without the necessity of a verdict from the jury.

The second week of common pleas will open Monday and Judge Archbold will be home to hold court. Three courts will be in operation to dispose of the cases. Judge Gunster discharged all jurors yesterday from further attendance at court.

ADMITTED HIS GUILT.

Louis J. Pell in $500 Bail for His Appearance at Court.

Louis J. Pell, who was arrested on Thursday upon a charge of fraudulent obtaining $200 from the First National bank, was arraigned before Alderman Fuller yesterday morning and pleaded guilty to the charge.

His defense was that he was drunk and he could give no account for the money. He was held in $500 bail to appear at court.

PARTIES, WEDDINGS AND TEAS

The Gamut of the Week's Events Sounded in Short Paragraphs—Guests and Entertainers—Personal Mention Reduced to a Compact Compass.

MEETING OF POOR BOARD

Number of Cases of Distress Related to the Directors.

IS DYING FAR FROM FRIENDS

Sad Case of Mrs. Dora Loebach, whose Life is Ebbing Away at the Lackawanna Hospital—An Assistant Asked for Mrs. Duggan.

A regular meeting of the poor board was held yesterday afternoon, and a number of cases of distress were investigated and relief granted to the majority of applicants.

Mrs. W. B. Duggan directed the attention of the directors to the case of Dora Loebach, a Polish woman whose husband was killed at Chicago about six months ago.

Frank M. Fox, of the Hotel Anthracite, Carbondale, was here Thursday. P. J. Lynett has accepted a position with the Scranton Brewing company.

Miss Ruth Knapp, of Madison avenue, has returned from a visit in New York. Superintendent of Schools Phillips is ill at his home on the West Side.

Miss Emma Moser, of Emmet street, is visiting her sister in Easton.

Mrs. John Gardner is visiting friends in Wilkes-Barre.

Mrs. William Staples, of Academy street, is in Philadelphia during the week.

S. Samter was in Philadelphia during the week.

C. W. Osborne is ill at his home on Ninth street.

NO MAN SHOULD BE NOMINATED FOR COUNCIL WHOM THE MEN WHO NOMINATE WOULD NOT TRUST AS A PRIVATE EMPLOYEE.

HOTEL MEN WILL ACT.

They Intend to Take Steps to Prosecute Those Who are Selling Liquor Without a License in This County.

There is a strong probability that during the year 1895 a systematic effort will be made to weed out unlicensed drinking places, of which there are about 800 in this county.

Within recent years several such movements have been inaugurated, but after a little work had been done the organization collapsed for the reason, as has been openly charged, that many of those interested in the crusade were themselves flagrant violators of law with regard to selling on Sunday and to minors, and were, therefore, not in a position to push to the wall those who were without a license.

It is this condition of affairs that has aroused the conservative and law respecting hotel keepers and made them resolved to act.

An Unjust Opposition. They contend that it will be impossible for them to pay their license and live if men are allowed to keep places all about them who have no legal right whatever to sell any kind of brewed liquor or spirits.

A war of extermination against the "speak-easies," such as is said to be contemplated, would soon overcover the county jail.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

Fred Dugal is the artist who manipulates the bulletin board. He is a great hand with crayons and the weekly notices are works of art.

An assessment was called by the Mutual Aid society on the death of M. J. Devers, of Scranton. The amount is $1,000 and the limit expires Feb. 29.

Joseph P. Bradford, for the past three years general superintendent of the Ontario and Western railroad, has accepted the superintendency of the western division of the New York Central at a salary of $6,000 a year.

Mr. Bradford was a dispatcher on the Wallkill valley division.

F. P. Browne, assistant secretary at the association rooms, is doing very active duty in the absence of Secretary Pearsall.

Mr. Browne has gained a large circle of friends by his unvarying kindness to all visitors. He is a popular man with the railroaders and is credited with excellent taste in choosing their reading matter.

Tomorrow afternoon's service will be especially interesting, as that splendid singer, W. C. Weeden, will be present and assist in the service previous to his departure for New York.

One of the best of the evangelistic meetings held during the past two weeks was undoubtedly Thursday evening's meeting, which was conducted by representatives of the machine shops, car shops, conductors and engineers.

The enthusiasm was that peculiar to all meetings in which railroaders have a hand, the addresses were genuine in spirit and in tone and were sincerely appreciated by the large audience.

Robert McKenna, who has charge of the car shops of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, is a rare instance of what perseverance can accomplish.

Mr. McKenna is well described as a "hard-headed Scotchman." He was born in Girvan, Ayrshire, Scotland, Aug. 2, 1826, and when 14 years of age was apprenticed to a joiner and pattern maker.
