GOUNOD'S ST. CECELIA MASS

Sung in an Excellent Manner by the Choir of St. Patrick's Church Under the Direction of Haydn Evans--Personal and Brief Items of News.

Gounod's "St. Cecilia" mass was sung at St. Patrick's church yesterday morning to a large and appreciative congregation by a choir of forty voices. The attempt to render such a difficult mass by a choir wholly composed of amateurs, manifests considerable enterprise which would, by some musical authorities, be regarded as almost a desecration of the work of the great master, Gounod. The result, however, proves that an amateur choir can, with determination and thorough practice, assisted by a conductor capable of interpreting the music, acquire themselves with considerable credit, although they are but a far cry from the trained professional choir which would exhibit greater skill and finish. The attempt deserves every encouragement in order to induce perseverance in acquiring a more intimate knowledge with the works of men who have left behind them monuments in the world of music.

Professor Haydn Evans has worked with tangible results at St. Patrick's church, but is handicapped in the fact that his sopranos are immeasurably superior to the other parts of the choir. The ease with which the ladies sang and held the upper part of the Mass was an achievement which highly paid choristers oftentimes fail in the attempt.

Mrs. Kate Sullivan, who sang the soprano solos, discharged her duties in a charming manner. Her rendition showed careful study and a thorough grasp of her part. The solo was rendered in an easy and natural manner, devoid of the strained effort which peculiarly mars this class of music. The tenor soloist, John Feeney, labored under a severe cold and was unable to sing all the solos. Despite this drawback he was able to sing his part in the "Sanctus" in a creditable manner and instead of singing the higher notes an octave lower, which would have saved much labor, he gave the music as written. John Connelly, the bass soloist, was excellent in the "Gloria in Excelsis" and held the music with almost faultless taste. His work in the other pieces was also highly creditable.

Probably the "Credo" was the part in which the choir sang at their best. The conception of the music was all that could be desired and consequently the part was rendered in a sympathetic manner, which is so essential to a correct interpretation. In the preface, passages of the "Sanctus" the sympathy between the various voices was most pleasing and the organ accompaniment was reduced to a nicety, ensuring a perfect blending of the whole. The "Benedictus" was also rendered with correct taste, the transition from the pianissimo to the fortissimo passages being accomplished in an easy and harmonious manner, the precision and regularity being conspicuous, with a little balancing of voices the choir would soon assert itself capable of undertaking still greater tasks. As at present constituted, the excellence of the sopranos shows an apparent poverty in the other parts which, in reality, does not exist to the extent which might at first be imagined.

Professor Haydn Evans, of whose untiring devotion to music no mention need be made, presided at the organ, and was assisted by Miss Harriet Ward, violin, and Miss Gertrude Holyak, French sax harpist. Both ladies assisted materially in ensuring the success of the rendition of the mass.

Hospital Society Formed. A number of well known citizens of the West Side held a quiet meeting in the rear rooms of the West Side bank on Friday evening for the purpose of taking the first steps toward securing a hospital for the West Side. Hon. John R. Farr was elected president and Alfred Twining secretary. The members present perfected an organization and will apply for a charter. The society will hereafter be known as the Hyde Park Hospital Association. Representative Farr recently secured from the state board of charities an appropriation of $30,000 for a hospital. Speeches were made during the evening and the work of Mr. Farr was highly commended.

The directors appointed for one year were Hon. D. M. Jones, William Farrell, Dr. M. J. Williams and Llewellyn Roberts, of the North End; for two years, Dr. W. A. Paine, Hon. John R. Farr, Alfred Twining and John Van Bongert; for three years, Daniel P. Mannix, W. H. Freeman, W. Gaylord Thomas, Esq., and D. D. Evans. The committee on laws consists of D. M. Jones, Alfred Twining, Dr. Paine, W. Gaylord Thomas and Dr. M. J. Williams. The bill, with application for a charter, will be presented this week by Mr. Farr.

Religious Services. The mission and revival services which were conducted in the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal, Plymouth Congregational and Simpson Methodist churches last week were well attended and the spirit in revival work raised. Rev. L. C. Floyd, of the Simpson church, stated yesterday that the result is satisfactory, and during the two weeks conversions were made and others are daily expected to join the church. The meetings were generally services of prayer, song and testimony.

At the Plymouth Congregational church, the pastor, Rev. Thomas A. Bell, conducted a service each evening of last week and the auditorium was filled each evening. Many gave testimonies and others consented to become Christians. Mr. Bell is much pleased with the success of the meetings. Rev. F. A. King, of Taylor, preached on Friday evening in the Hampton Street church to a large audience. The pastor of the church, Rev. A. W. Cooper, conducted services in the office last week assisted by several local clergymen.

It is the object of the churches to retain this spirit of revival during all regular services and thereby deepen the interest of members in the work of saving souls.

Funeral of Mrs. Holland. Many friends of the late Mrs. Mary Holland, of Tenth street, who died on Wednesday last, attended the funeral services which were conducted at 9:30 o'clock on Saturday morning, at St. Patrick's church. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Father Whelan, who also preached an eloquent sermon. Father McNally acted as deacon and Father Dunne acted as cantor. The auditorium of the church was crowded and the casket was several floral offerings, the kind tokens of friends. After the services the remains were conveyed to the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery, where interment was made. The pall bearers were Patrick Grady, John Morris, M. J. Fitzgibbon, Dennis Jennings, Benjamin and John O'Donnell, of Wilkes-Barre.

Anthony Kelley Buried. The funeral of Anthony Kelley, of Price street, who died on Thursday last, took place yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. A large number of friends of the family gathered at his home and viewed the remains. The cortege then proceeded to St. Patrick's church, on Lackawanna street, where services were conducted by Rev. Father Dunne. The church contained a large number of people. Among the beautiful floral tributes were a wreath and cross. Interment was made in the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were Thomas Cannon, Thomas Ford, Patrick Cannon, Patrick Cawley, John Cannon, and Patrick Gibbons.

Brief Notes of Interest. Alfred Cory, of Jackson street, is dangerously ill. Miss Sadie Addins, of Lafayette street, is ill. Alton Chase, of North Summer avenue, continues to be dangerously ill. A meeting of the First Methodists was conducted in Heers hall yesterday. Miss Bertha Hold, of Waverly, has returned home after a visit with friends on this side.

Miss Mary Clarke, of Philadelphia, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Murphy, of Hyde Park avenue.

A day of prayer was observed yesterday at the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Hugh Davies.

W. Haydn Evans, of Wilkes-Barre, spent the Sabbath with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Evans, of South Summer avenue.

The third annual entertainment and supper of the Tabernacle Congregational church will occur on March 1, at Heers St. Patrick's Day.

The Six Knights of Pleasure Dancing class will conduct a social masquerade social this evening in Heers hall. The preparations are extensive.

The members of the Welsh Philosophical society held a meeting on Saturday evening and discussed "Latent Heat." The meeting was well attended.

At the First Welsh Baptist church on Feb. 5 will be seen the De Moss family of musicians, whose excellent performances have won for them a national reputation.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH SIDE

Entertainment to Be Given in Cedar Avenue M. E. Church.

COLONEL RIPPLE WILL SPEAK

To Deliver His Famous Address on Andersonville Prison--Others Who Will Speak--Funeral of the Son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Smith.

This evening at the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church the programme of the entertainment will be a most elaborate one. No admission fee will be charged, but all who feel disposed may contribute to the fund. From a musical standpoint it will be a grand success; the church choir has specially trained and will sing several fine choruses. There will also be plenty of solos and duets. The feature of the occasion will be Colonel E. H. Ripple's lecture on Andersonville prison. Rev. W. H. Pearce, D. D., pastor of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church, will be the presiding officer, and the audience will also have the pleasure of hearing him. Addresses will be made by Rev. E. L. Santee, the pastor, and prominent members of the church. This is the third anniversary of the beginning of the church as a separate congregation; before that time it had been a mission chapel connected with the First Methodist Episcopal, now the Elm Park church.

Told in a Few Lines. Hotelkeeper A. L. Duncavy, of Cedar avenue, is seriously ill of grippe. The infant daughter of Conductor P. J. Kelley, of Locust street, is dangerously ill. Daniel J. Vaughan, of Blighamton, was visiting his parents on Pittston avenue Saturday.

WALD PAPER--Go to Fred Reynolds, 20 North Main street, and see his complete line of Wall Paper, Paints and Oils. Foreign and Domestic Brands. Satisfaction is strictly guaranteed.

PLUMBING--William D. Griffiths, 113 North Main avenue, does first-class Plumbing, Steam Heat and Gas Fitting. Satisfaction is strictly guaranteed.

OPPOSED TO DANCING. Rev. Dr. Hawhurst Denounces It in Emphatic Terms.

Rev. P. R. Hawhurst, D. D., preached a stirring sermon last evening to a large congregation at the Park Place Methodist Episcopal church, his theme being "Dancing," based upon Exodus, xv, 20. In an interesting manner the reverend gentleman dealt with the origin of the dance, which, he stated, was over 2,000 years old. The Jews made use of the dance for sacred purposes, expressions of joy and thankfulness to God, and particularly the celebration of religious festivals. But in those days, whether it was at the home of the noble and cultured, or at the domestic joy in dancing, as in the case of Herodias, the same process was observed and sexes were separated. In all modern dances the mingling of sexes was an essential ingredient and the dance, whether carried on in the parlor of the noble or in the hall of the poor, was not without its evil tendencies.

It was almost impossible to separate public dancing from moral impurity, and the dance in the parlor, the ball room and the brothel were all on the same road, but some were a little further along the other extreme. Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's German Catholic church, on River street, the marriage of Miss Gertrude Snyder and Otto Herald, a popular young couple, will be solemnized.

At a meeting held last week by the members of the South Side Ice Polo Club, Frank W. Ward was chosen captain and H. H. Wagoner, of Calmar, longes have been sent to the Academics of the West Side and Jefferson Avenue Stars.

South Side Ladies Interested in the work of the Young Women's Christian association are reminded of the dinner and supper tomorrow at the rooms of the central association. Funds are needed to carry on the good work and the proceeds will go into the treasury for that purpose.

Yesterday the young son of John McCrea, of Pittston avenue, was painfully injured on the leg while coasting. He fell from a fence and his knee joint was dislocated. Dr. Manly was sent for and attended to the case. His impression is that the boy will not be crippled by the accident.

At 9 o'clock this morning the remains of Mrs. Ellen Carlisle, who died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Henry McGrath, of South Washington avenue, whom she was visiting, will be taken to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western depot and thence to her late home in Great Bend for interment.

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock the funeral of Ernest Williams, the 12-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Smith, of Neptune Place, took place. Burial services were conducted at the Cedar Avenue Presbyterian church by Rev. August Laune, and interment was made in Pittston cemetery.

Mrs. Joseph Slocum, of Slocum street, is quite ill and as she is over 90 years of age there are fears that her constitution will not be able to bear her through. Mrs. Slocum is better known generally in the city than any other woman. Her family is closely associated with the early history of the South Side.

The entertainment given last night at the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church by the King's Daughters society was a very fine one, and was greeted with the usual successful applause. The amount realized was $100.00 and will be devoted to very worthy ends during this period of suffering among the poor.

At a meeting of the St. Joseph's Total Abstinence and Benevolent society of Mineoka, yesterday afternoon, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, P. J. Quinn; vice-president, Patrick Foley; recording secretary, Patrick Foley; financial secretary, M. Egan; treasurer, P. S. Drieco; messenger, M. McCrea; janitor, James J. Wallace; trustees, Patrick Kenny, William Buckley, and John D. O'Malley.

HUNTING OUT OF SEASON.

Local Sportsmen Indignant About Extent to Which It is Carried On. Local sportsmen are indignant in denouncing the sport of those who are hunting out of season. It is alleged that a large number of rabbits have been shot since Jan. 1, the concluding day of the season, and that unscrupulous hunters have been seen at Moosic, Moscow, West Mountain and other places enjoying the illegal sport, and carrying their sport through the streets of Scranton. Ferrets are also largely employed, although the penalty for each rabbit killed or caught is $10.

It is contended that if birds and other objects of sport are killed out of season the game would soon diminish in numbers and the pleasure of legitimate sportsmen destroyed. A bill is now before the legislature, having for its object the appointment of an official to observe all violations of the state game laws.

NORTH END NOTES.

Surprise Party Tendered to Ziba B. Knapp of Market Street, on His Sixty-second Birthday--David T. Evans Relieved of Twenty Dollars.

A large number of friends gathered at the home of Ziba B. Knapp, on 66 Spruce street, at 8 o'clock Saturday night and tendered him a surprise party, it being his sixty-second birthday. The evening was pleasantly spent until a late hour, when refreshments were served and all departed to their homes, wishing him many happy years to come. His visit for his hospitalization and confinement in a nursing home, which he received was a handsome "Cutter" antique oak rocking chair. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hunt, Major and Mrs. J. A. Reichardt, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Hopewell, Mrs. Simon Snyder, and Miss Emma Arkerly, of Dalton, Rev. Frank S. Ballentine, D. R. Nichol, George Anderson and L. B. Trotter.

Evans' man was arrested by Patrolman Mills about 5:30 Saturday evening, charged by Daniel T. Evans, of Wayne avenue, with relieving him of $20 on a street car. Mann had been talking to Evans and when they got off the car Evans missed the money.

Evans was arrested and summoned the police, who watched Mann while Evans went before Alderman Roberts and swore out a warrant. Evans turned all of his pockets inside out to show he had not the money, but during the trial he showed them again and the money was found. Mann was released.

Burdock Blood Bitters. CURES Bilioussness. CURES Bilioussness. CURES Bilioussness. Regulates the LIVER. My wife has been troubled with Liver Complaint and Pale complexion of the face for several years. Her case is a case of our best physicians. After using three bottles of your Burdock Blood Bitters she is almost entirely well. We truly recommend your medicine. GEORGE W. SHAWL, Montclair, Williams Co., O.
