LIVELY DAY IN CONGRESS

An Earnest Discussion of the Financial Problem in the Senate.

GOLD STANDARD IMPOSSIBLE

Sentiment Against the Issue of Bonds to Maintain the Single Metal—Acrimonious Debate on Resolution Considering Pacific Railroad Bill.

By the United Press.

Washington, Jan. 30.—If there had been any lingering hope left that the finance committee of the senate would be able to agree upon some measure of financial relief at the present session, such hope was definitely dispelled in the course of the discussion which broke out immediately after the reading of the journal today. One of the leading Democratic members of that committee, Mr. Vest, in presenting resolutions of the St. Louis Merchants' exchange, favoring legislation on the lines of the president's recent message, took a firm stand against any such legislation and expressed the opinion that the Merchants' exchange had not given proper consideration to the subject, and did not represent the intelligent opinion of a majority of people of Missouri.

He declared that he would never vote to issue one bond for the purpose of securing gold in order that the country might remain on a single gold standard. He replied to a question as to whether the finance committee would agree upon a plan that there was not the slightest possibility of its doing so.

A leading Republican, Mr. Sherman, expressed the same opinion, saying that the committee on finance was utterly helpless to deal with the question and that the best thing that the senate could do would be to discharge the committee from its further consideration, take up the question itself and give the necessary relief to the country.

Mr. Wolcott, Colorado, commended the impressive remarks and the suggestions of the senator from Missouri and said that such telegrams as that of the St. Louis Exchange were but the beginning of the same sort of pressure that would be brought to bear on the senate.

Mr. Hill's Resolution. Mr. Hill, New York, said there seemed to be a dispute as to what this congress was required to do to meet the public expectation. Mr. Hill contended that the first duty of the senate was to ascertain what was wanted by the administration and the treasury department, whether it wanted temporary relief or some elaborate legislation involving a change in the currency and financial system of the country.

For that reason he introduced a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate whether it was necessary or desirable that legislation should be had to authorize the issue of bonds, treasury notes, or other securities to realize money for the purpose of paying current deficiencies in the revenue, and, if so, the nature and substantial details of such legislation.

Mr. Hill asked unanimous consent for its present consideration, but under objection by Mr. Allen, it went over till tomorrow.

After this subject was dropped the senate proceeded to the consideration of executive business, and having ratified the Japanese treaty with the modification that it be terminated at a year's notice, adjourned at 4:05 p. m.

Confusion in the House.

The discussion of the Rely Pacific Railroad refunding bill was begun in the house today after a most remarkable and acrimonious debate on the resolution reported from the committee on the floor.

The debate up to this time had proceeded amidst some confusion, the members crowding about the speakers and throwing the area in front of the desk, but all that was as nothing to the hubbub that accompanied Mr. Catches' efforts to close. Mr. Catches said he understood there were members on the floor who would not be sorry if the government's rights and interests were sacrificed, and the practical question facing those was, should an effort be made to get the money due to the government? He believed that the house would be recant to every trust if it failed to make every effort in that direction.

The gentleman from Indiana (Mr. Holman) said Mr. Catches had asserted what was not true, that the Democratic party had frowned upon every attempt to settle or compromise the debt.

Tumult Increases.

At this Mr. Holman was on his feet, shouting and gesticulating violently, and half a hundred members crowded about the speaker, whose voice were drowned in the tumult, to which the speaker added by a vigorous rapping of the gavel.

Finally by appealing to members and calling on the sergeant at arms, the speaker finally succeeded in restoring order, and on the demand for the previous question on the passage of the resolution was seconded by a vote of 123 yeas to 121 nays, and then before the direct vote was taken upon the passage of the resolution a modification was accepted by Mr. Catches and it was arrived by unanimous consent. As adopted the resolution provides for general debate up to adjournment of tomorrow's session (which shall begin at 11 o'clock) and in what-over time the committee of the District of Columbia shall not occupy Friday's session. Saturday's session, also beginning at 11 o'clock, shall be devoted to the consideration of the bill under the five minute rule until 4:30 o'clock, when the vote shall be taken on its passage.

A house bill was passed authorizing the chief officials of any state penitentiary or jail to open the mail of a prisoner which he has reason to believe is intended to be derogatory to the discipline of the institution.

DR. W. H. MORSE.

Endorsement Based Upon Experience.

Newark (N. J.) Evening News.

"Most certainly," was the emphatic reply of Dr. Morse when asked by a "News" reporter if the words of commendation of Dr. David Kennedy's favorite Remedy, that recently appeared in the press, was veritable.

"I studied medicine," he said, "with Dr. A. N. Allen, for many years the leading practitioner of Massachusetts. Visiting him several years after he related to me the case of a patient who had been cured of stone by the use of the Remedy. Naturally I inquired into the matter, and he told me. In the town of Dalton, Mass., his patient lived, and that he had literally 'suffered many things of many physicians,' and they were all in vain. Finally he was cured by the use of the Remedy. There was a diversity of opinion as to his ailment, but the doctor had diagnosed chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and his prognosis had been 'incurable.' I had known of this case—a mere wreck of a man, suffering and pessimistic. But now, greatly to my surprise, a doctor told me that he was actually cured. He had taken Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and not only had grown stronger and better, but had passed several pieces of stone. The remedy had promoted the passage of the calculi and had acted as solvent. I saw this man a few days later looking well, and feeling as though he was in the highest terms of the Remedy. I was led to examine it chemically and to test it therapeutically. My deductions have been such as to corroborate the clinical experience of many other medical men, that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will do that which is claimed for it; and I consider it a great discovery."

The great value of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy lies in the fact that it dissolves the excess of uric acid in the blood. Many of the ailments suffer from liver—nervousness, dyspepsia, kidney, liver and urinary troubles, and the sickness peculiar to women, come from this cause. Favorite Remedy dissolves this acid, expels it from the system, thus curing the disease. In cases of scrofula, diabetes and Bright's disease, it cures where all other treatments have failed.

Raised from a Weak and Low Condition

To Perfect Health and Strength After Four Years Suffering.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass." "Gentlemen—I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the grandest discovery yet made, and it fulfills even more than you claim for it. My wife has been sick for the past four years. For three years she was so bad that she was unable to do any of her household work. We had good physicians; but she did not recover her health. She was suffering from Bright's disease and Lameness in the Back.

Her tongue was covered with blisters; had no appetite, and was very weak and low with general debility. I insisted on her taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and she has been improving ever since. She has taken five bottles, and is so well.
