The street is firmly convinced that a deal has been perfected between the treasury officials and the foreign banks whereby the depleted gold reesrve is to be replenished and accordingly has arranged itelf on the bull side of the account in anticipation of the rise in values at the board, which is generally expected to ollow the placing of a big block of the bonds abroad. The straggling shorts followed the bull operators and their purchases stimulated the upward movenent. London, which seems pretty confident that the treasury department will make a bond issue, was a liberal buyer of its favorites. Local firms were more encouraged than for some time and reported a little inquiry for out side clients. A great feature of the day was the break in the actual rates of sterling exchange of about 1 cent to the pound, which led to a general cancellation of the orders for shipments of gold by tomorrow's steamers. In addition to this some of the bankers also cancelled their orders returned $1,-800,000 to the sub-treasury, and at a late hour one firm was looking for transportation to return $1,000,000 additional which they intended to export. As the withdrawals from the sub-treasury today were only $1,200,000 it will gained gold by the day's operations. the close. The announcement from

Washington that the bureau of engrav ing and printing had been instructed to print five hundred millions of bonds also strengthened the market, it being inferred that the administration would
