ANOTHER CROWDED HOUSE.

House at the Frothingham Last Night by Her Mysterious Po Once more an enthus stile crowd surged into the spacious Frothingham theater to witness the remarkable and mysterious feats of Mrs. Baldwin, Several hundreds were unable to secure pelled to stand during the evening.

Mrs. Baldwin created a profound sensation when, without any warning or announcement, she commenced to describe the sulcide which was committed at Factoryville some months ago. In t very lucid manner she detailed with painful minuteness how Benjamin Rosencranz made love to Mrs. Kate Cross, and how he declared his absorbing passion for her and then folowed by giving the refusal of Mrs. Cross and how she explained that she was already married. The manner in which the fatal deed was committed was also recounted. Mrs. Baldwin then gave the age of Rosencranz at 21 and said that the husband of Mrs. Cross was in Kansas. The question was asked by Tom Murray and the replies caused a thrill of sensation. Many questions of great interest were replied to. With regard to a case which occurred on Wednesday night Professor Baldwin explained that Miss Mary Doll was not the name mentioned as having stolen the jewelry of Miss Roos' daughter, but as appeared in Thursday's Tribune the name of "Mary Giller" was given. He nade the explanation as legal proceedngs were being institued by Miss Doll against Mrs. Roos for slander. MRS. PETTIGREW'S SALARY

Board of Associated Charities Wants Poor Board to Pay It.

NO ACTION TAKEN YESTERDAY

Mr. Gibbons Is After the Management of the Elwyn Feeble Minded Home with a Sharp Stick-Reports from Physicians and Supt. Beemer.

At a meeting of the poor board held vesterday afternoon Jacob Cohen and T. J. Kelley, a committee of the Board of Associated Charities, were present and were heard.

What the gentlemen wanted was to lay before the poor board the matter about the payment of the salary of the assistant agent of the Associated Charities. Mrs. Duggan has so much work Mrs. Baldwin Entertains an Overcrowded on her hands that she cannot accomplish it without help, and in these days of suffering among the poor, she is especially busy. Mrs. Duggan can at tend to the visits and inquiries about all cases, but she cannot find time to make a record in order that the members will know who has been assisted and so forth. seating accommodation and were com-

The Board of Associated Charities at recent meeting appointed the committee to confer with a committee o the poor board with a view to see if the latter would agree to pay the salary of Mrs. Duggan's assistant. Mr. Cohen addressed the meeting and so did Mr. Keller. They thought that the Asso clated Charities takes a good deal of business from the poor board; it deal with cases that the poor board would have to look after if there had beer no Board of Charities; therefore, they felt that it was not asking too mucl for the poor board to pay Mrs. Pettigrew's salary.

Opinions of Members. Mr. Shotten is chairman of the committee appointed by the poor board and he advised the matter to be con tinued until both committees meet and look up the law to see if it may be legal to pay the salary asked for. There seemed to be a sentiment among the members against the idea of expending any money for this purpose. Mr. Williams jumped to his feet and said the city paid him a salary for his work earning that salary and looking after the poor in his district. Mr. Gibbons did not take the same view; he gave Mrs. Duggan credit for her work. She was doing good work for a return engagement at the Froth- and relieving the poor directors of a good deal of undesirable labor in the shape of visiting houses and neighborhoods of the poor where disease is rampant. If Mrs. Duggan's work is so heavy that she needs a steady assistant Mr. Gibbons believed in paying the assistant's salary, that is if the board can do it legally. On motion of Mr. Shotten the committee was continued and a conference of laughable society comedy entitled "The both committees will come together Opera Singer." The comedy is full of at a time suitable to the members of both, in order that their report may be read at the next meeting of the poor Superintendent Beemer's report of speak of in the play, but each artist the farm and almshouse showed that contributes a share of humor which is the number remaining in the almshouse the farm and almshouse showed that on Jan. 31 was 168; males, 121; females 47. Two died during the month, and 12 were discharged; 28 were admitted.

Report of Resident Physicians. The report of Dr. Ben. F. Evans, resident physician of the Hillside home, was that there were at the beginning of the year 141 patients in the asylum; were discharged during January, and 4 were admitted.

Secretary Lynett said he had received a bail from the management of the Home for Feeble Minded Children at Elwyn. The bill was for expenses for the board and support of children sent from this district. Among the names was that of a girl named Alice Cook, whom the Scranton board never had sent there. Mr. Lynett in writing back took occasion to ask the management of the Elwyn home for rates for the support of any children that may hereafter be sent here, whom the poor board will have to pay for.

Made No Answer. The reply received simply stated that a mistake had been made in charging the item for the support of Alice Cook to the Scranton poor district, but the information otherwise asked for by Secretary Lynett was totally ignored. Mr. Gibbons moved to appoint a committee of three to see the members of the legislature from this county and impress upon them the necessity of calling the management of the Elwyn home to account for its overbearing conduct. Chairman Langstaff ap pointed on this committee Messrs. Gibons, Shotten and Murphy.

Retiring Treasurer Thomas H. Jones handed over to his successor, D. M. Jones, the sum of $12,903.87.

JURORS CANNOT AGREE.

Iwelve of Them Slept in the Conr House Last Night.

Twelve jurors slept in the court hous last night, because they could not reach a verdict in the case they retired to deliberate upon. One jury has been locked up since 3.30 Thursday afternoon; the one that heard the suit for damages brought by George Bailey against the borough of Dickson City. When court opened yesterday morning this jury asked to be brought in for general instructions. Afterward Judge Archbald instructed the jury and they retired and later in the day they came back and asked to be discharged Court refused and again the jurors went back to their room. One of their number, John Duggan, of Dunmore took sick and a doctor had to be sent for. With the permission of the court and the consent of the attorneys on the both sides Duggan was withdrawn and the other eleven were sent back to reach a verdict. It was an impossible task for them to do so until 1 o'clock this morning.

The other jury, in the trespass sul of Mrs. Margaret Hughes-Davis against the city of Scranton could not agree either, but they retired at 10.30 last night. The case was given to them at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

PAULINE HALL IN DORCAS.

Opera Will Be Seen at the Academy o Music Wednesday Night.

Charming Pauline Hall and her talented company of actors and singers will present at the Academy of Music on Wednesday evening for the second time this season in this city the new operatic drama, "Dorças," arranged by Harry Paulton and Edward Paulton, authors of "Erminie."

In the company are Hugh Childers F. Michelena, Charles H. Bradshaw Downing Clarke, Charles Earle, Charles Meyer, Jeannette St. Henry, Kate Da-vis, Agnes Travers, Mabel Florence. The story of the play is said to have been taken from an old German sourc about 1790, The music is melodious light and pleasing. The duetts, solos, trios and quartettes, of which there are many, are all delightfully "catchy."

to about 1861, when the religious asso clations connected with the prosecution of the war largely took the place of this kind of association work. At a meeting called to consider the question on the board and he was capable of it was with some opposition voted to disband the association,

The meetings had then been held in a pleasant and well-appointed room in a building in the rear of the store occupled by Joseph Chase, on the corner of Lackawanna and Wyoming avenues. Alfred Hand was at that time an active member of the association and. with a few, endeavored to keep the association up. It was, however, found to be wise to divert the energies of all religious organizations into care for the health and spiritual interests involved in the life and death struggle for the Republic. Patriotism and piety were then concurrent and active virtues.

connected with the former organization. In 1868 the present organization was perfected. The first meetings were held in the Penn Avenue Baptist church. A charter was procured and the aim was to make a complete association with a building and all the appointments which the best regulated organizations

Board of Health Considered Matter at the Meeting Yesterday.

AGAINST PUBLIC FUNERALS

Sanitary Officer Burke Directed to Enforce Regulation with Regard to Private Funerals When Persons Die of Contagious Diseases.

Consideration of anti-toxin consumed considerable portion of the time of the board of health at its monthly neeting yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Fulton was introduced as a representative of the County Medical society, which recommended at its last meeting that the board of health hould procure a supply of anti-toxin in order that experiments might be made in Scranton to diagnose cases of diphtheria. Dr. Fulton explained the matter briefly.

It was pointed out that it would not be necessary to employ a bacteriologist, as any physician who had the experience of a laboratory course would be able to make the diagnosis. Ultinately it was agreed that the suggesttion of the society was a practical one and that a committee consisting of Dr Bentley, Dr. Paine and Dr. Allen be appointed to confer with representatives of the society.

Cases Reported During Month. Secretary Briggs reported that the following cases had been reported during the past month: Diphtheria, 15; scarlet fever, 12; typhoid, 3; measles, 1 total, 31.

The following deaths had occurred fron contagious diseases: Diphtheria 6; scarlet fever, 4; eyphoid, 2; total deaths for the month, 140; births, 99, ind marriages, 28.

Dr. Allen, the health officer, presentd a report, in which he referred to the precautions which should be taken in cases of funerals of persons who had died from contagious diseases and it was decided that Captain Burke, the sanitary officer, should notify the persons interested that public funerals are prohibited on such occasions, and that ne should attend when such funerals are held to observe that the law is not infringed. In case of more than one funeral occurring at the same time it was decided that Mayor Connell should be asked to assign special offi-

Meeting of State Board. Dr. Allen reported that at the recent meeting of the State Associated Health Authorities of Pennsylvania, a great part of the time was taken up in arranging for legislation in regard to milk and water, and the establishing of township boards of health. It was altogether probable that the Shakespeare bill in regard to milk would be passed and all health boards would be thankful in case it was.

Inspector Thomas presented his report, in which, referring to the analysis of milk, he said: "I found some cases milk that had been watered and in some cases skimmed. Perhaps too much brewing grain is being fed to the cows and is the cause of some of the milk failing to come up to standard. Adulteration of milk has, however, been principally carried on outside the city limits.

A CABMAN INJURED.

Patrick Flannery Thrown from a Cab and Seriously Injured. Patrick Flannery, a cabman in the PERFORMANCES oploy of Liveryman James Nealis, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon at 5.30 on Wyoming avenue. He was driving up the street and his horses became unmanageable. Opposite the carpet store of Williams & McAnulty the team careened suddenly and threw the driver from his seat. The horses is now one of the trustees of the turned down the avenue and were stopped by John J. Niland near the Third National Bank building. Mr. Flannery was picked up and carried into Williams & McAnulty's store and medical attendance secured. Later he was removed to the Lackawanna hospital. He did not regain conscious ness for several hours, and then the physicians at the hospital made an examination of his injuries. His skull over the right ear was slighly crushed and the doctors believe that he suffered a slight concussion of the brain, but whether fatal results may occur cannot as yet be determined. Mr. Flannery is a son of James Flannery, of Minooka, and a brother of Thomas J. Flannery, of the St. Charles hotel. He is a young man of good character, and has won many friends by his affable and gentlemanly deport-
