Rissner; review of North American Review, H. S. Smith; review of Popular Science Monthly, H. A. Lange; review of Forum, E. D. Fellows; review of McClure's Magazine, W. Gunster; three-minute speeches, speakers.

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

Joseph Arthur's New York free engine drama, "The Still Alarm," will be presented at the Academy of Music Tuesday, Feb. 12, by probably the strongest company that has ever presented this play and upon the most favorable conditions. Its popularity has been shown by signs of waiting, a fact due to the spirited manner in which it represents scenes of the most vivid and dramatic character. That capital punishment should be abolished," review of Dickens's works, members; review of Reviews of Reviews, W. A. Rissner; review of North American Review, H. S. Smith; review of Popular Science Monthly, H. A. Lange; review of Forum, E. D. Fellows; review of McClure's Magazine, W. Gunster; three-minute speeches, speakers.

"Kentuck," the play which holds the stage today, tomorrow and Wednesday of this week, is a sensational and humorous play describing life and scenes in the Blue Grass regions of "Old Kentucky." It is described as a high-class performance, and has hitherto been presented only at full prices. A race scene is one of its features. The press everywhere speaks of the company in the most flattering terms and the theater should be crowded at each performance. This is the annual benefit of "Crystal House company and a full house will no doubt greet it.

RELIGIOUS TOPICS.

The Young Men's Christian association glees will assist at a church concert at Dickson city on Wednesday evening. Tomorrow evening the Junior Christian Endeavor society of the Providence Presbyterian church will hold an entertainment in the church parlors.

Rev. Mr. Tedeay, of Selina Grove, preached to large congregations of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church at the Young Men's Christian association rooms yesterday.

On Friday evening the King's Daughters and Sons of the Elm Park church will hold their anniversary meeting which, on account of the storm, was postponed on Friday last.

The proceeds of the grand concert to be held in the auditorium of the Elm Park church this evening will be donated to the relief of the poor. An offering will be taken at the close of the service.

Owing to the storm on Friday last the dine entertainment announced to be held at the Green Ridge Presbyterian church on that evening was postponed until Thursday evening.

Rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening by the Sacred Music society at the Conservatory hall. The society recently was reorganized and will present the newatorio, "Saul of Tarsus," on April 25 and 26. There are 500 voices in the chorus and fifty more will be admitted by examination.

Rev. Thornton A. Mills, of Wilkes-Barre, occupied the pulpit of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church yesterday in the absence of Rev. N. F. Stahl, the pastor, who has left on an Asiatic tour. In the evening Mr. Mills delivered a special address to the members of the Christian Endeavor society on "Progressive Endeavors." The address was full of practical advice which was listened to with deep attention.

CHAPLAIN DID NOT COME

Was Snowed in Along the Jersey Coast and Could Not Reach Here.

REV. DR. PEARCE PREACHED

God Has Accorded to This Believing Children of Today the Supreme Opportunity of the Evangelization of the World—Earnest Effort Needed.

Chaplain McCabe disappointed a large congregation at Elm Park church yesterday morning. Rev. W. H. Pearce preached the following dispatch on Saturday night: "The minister of the coast; cannot reach Scranton; do what you can."

Dr. Pearce explained that they would endeavor to make arrangements for a visit from Chaplain McCabe in the near future. The reverend gentleman preached an excellent sermon from Esther, ix., 14, during which he remarked:

"Let me lead at once to the subject by saying that God in His providence has accorded to his believing children of today the supreme opportunity of the evangelization of the world. Of the soil of the troubled centuries no other such august opportunity has come and, if seized upon by the New Testament standard of liberty with consecrated zeal, the evangelization of the world's continents, with their enslaved and benighted millions, would speedily be a realized fact, and the long dirge of the world's lamentations and in the triumphal songs of redeemed empires."

"The old poster of Antwerp had tolled through the long years and at great expense and sacrifice to produce a certain globe upon his wall. Several times he had approached very near to it, but failed, and in those approaches he had spent all of the earnings of his life and had reduced himself again and again to extreme poverty. He thought that he would make one more trial, for well he knew that if he failed, he would be enriched with abundance and greatly honored. For this last trial the ware was more carefully prepared and the kiln heated, but just at the moment when he thought that the long-desired glass was about to come upon the ware, the fuel for the kiln gave out. It was all that he had, but feeling that the opportune moment of his life had come, he seized upon his tables, chairs and bedsteads and made fuel of these. The glass came upon the pottery smooth as ivory and with the luster of pearl and from that hour he was enriched and his fame assured."

The Time Has Come.

"Beloved, from out of the weary, waiting ages, the opportune time has surely come for the evangelization of the whole world—every barrier down, and every door wide open. Since this century began, a golden network glistening with heavenly dew has been extending from the great centers of Christendom, with lines radiating in every direction and cross lines connecting until this great globe itself is girdled and enclosed and the most distant lands brought within easy and speedy reach of God's word."

"If the disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ in this auspicious period will only awake and realize themselves; if they will only intensify the forces now at work; if they will only push with a holier enthusiasm, with an enlarged faith and personal consecration, along all the lines that are now brightening toward the millennium, and if they, like the Antwerp potter, will only feed, at whatever loss, the kiln of heaven with the flames of the churches already kindled, until they glow with white heat, then the early tomorrow would brighten into the splendor of a world brought back to God, and everywhere over earth and sea and along the paths of men would be heard sounding like the full-toned trumpets of heaven and singing in grand and universal harmony 'The kingdoms of this earth have become the kingdoms of our Lord and His Christ.'"

"From the way some ministers and people talk about missionary movements and achievements you would think that the evangelization and conversion of the world is going on so rapidly that we might expect at any moment to hear the glad shouts of its utter disenfranchisement from the darkness and power of sin."

"But we need to penetrate this deceptive halo of this mere enthusiasm and look at the great bald facts. That the crags of a rugged, lonely mountain left their forms far above and east their deep shadows on the shining plains below."

Comparison of Numbers.

"Only about 8,000 missionaries—men and women—in all the heathen world today, and this small number are against one billion and five hundred million who know but little of Christ, and must be evangelized before the world's twilight brightens into its later day glory. Forty millions of Protestant church members today give less than $12,000,000 a year for this great work of human redemption. Eight thousand missionaries and $12,000,000 in all the heathen world, the whole church of Christ is making today to the bitter cry of the billion and five hundred millions of shackled human souls."

"Is this response that the church is making adequate? Does it meet the loud crying and imperative need, and is it keeping pace with the spirit of the age? Nay, no. A radical change must speedily come. A more aggressive movement must be made. Ministers must glow with more ardent toward this work of missions and the laity of the church, facing the bright fact that no outlay of men, money and means ever brought returns so rich and rapid as when devoted to missions, must be persuaded by the argument and eloquence of this fact as well as by their personal obligation to God, whose loved and trusted stewards they are, to make contributions commensurate to the needs of the rapidly ripening harvest fields."

The Scranton Turn Verein will hold their twenty-eighth annual masquerade ball at Turner hall Monday evening, Feb. 18. Skating this afternoon and evening at Base Ball Park.

SATURDAY'S SENTENCES.

Convicted Criminals Who Received Penalties Reflecting Their Offenses.

Criminals convicted of offenses during the past week in court were called Saturday for sentence before Judge Edwards.

Edwards, alias Cooper, the type-writer thief, who pleaded guilty to larceny by bailment, was fined and his sentence was deferred until next Saturday. Mary Moran stole a watch from Ada Smith and admitted her guilt. Judge Edwards gave her the alternative of going to the House of the Good Shepherd or the county jail. She chose the latter and was sentenced to a period of 90 days.

Next came Charles Searies and James Vandusen, who were found guilty of chicken stealing. Judge Edwards told them he believed they were guilty of more thefts than the one of which they stood convicted; but that he would not send them to the penitentiary, that they should be taken to them. They were then sentenced to a fine of $100 and one year in the county jail.

Peter Lentz and John Shambars, found guilty of assault and battery and obstructing the execution of a legal process, were sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and one year in the county jail. Joseph O'Brien the sentence of John Brown and William Ready was deferred till next Saturday.

HOME SALOON IDEA.

Practical Sermon by Rev. Charles E. Robinson Last Evening—Based Upon an Excerpt from a Tribune Editorial.

Rev. Charles E. Robinson delivered a practical and logical sermon at the Second Presbyterian church last evening on "The Home Saloon Idea," basing his remarks upon the following excerpt from The Tribune of Feb. 5, being the sentiments of a young Scrantonian, which were re-produced in an editorial in the issue of that date:

"The foregoing results to mind a conversation recently had by the writer with a young Scrantonian who expressed much the same idea when he said: 'I go to saloons. Why? Because I have no other place to go to, wherein I have the same freedom and meet with the same companionship. I am not married. I have no home, and no present likelihood of one. In day time I work; but at night it is almost like being in a prison to sit solitary in my little, third story room. When I go out, I drift into well-kept saloons for the reason that there is in Scranton, so far as I know, no better boarding place offering equal facilities for conversation, smoking, and temperate indulgence in food or drink.'"

Dr. Robinson discussed the excerpt in a terse and pithy manner and met the arguments of the young Scrantonian directly with the experiences of persons he had known, and dilated upon the evil results of their following upon the methods referred to.

With regard to the argument that a young man would patronize a saloon because of the freedom obtained, he gave instances to show that saloons gave unlimited freedom for a downward course, but no freedom for an upward course. In Christian communities there was a restraint to the downward course, while there was unlimited freedom upward. The freedom of saloons was downward until they availed themselves of it were ultimately shut up in hell. The freedom of Christian communities impelled towards heaven.

Such "companionship" was an argument which Dr. Robinson treated with scathing ridicule and argued that such companions were habitues of slums and gambling halls and saloons "side by side." Such "companions" were found in the penitentiary, state prisons and they were to be found in hell.

The reference of the young man to the fact that he was "not married" elicited the ejaculation of "thank God" from the preacher, who, in graphic terms, depicted the wife and children of a drunken husband at midnight, sneering the saloons with shame, anguish and humiliation shown on their faces.

He also replied to the argument of the young man that he had "no home," and replied that he would venture to say that he would have no home, and probably in a short time would have no employment. He also ridiculed the idea of young men who complained: "In an unlovely work, but at night it is almost like being in a prison to sit solitary in my little third story room."

In replying he referred to the many men who, before the organization of the Albright library or Young Men's Christian association, had progressed in their solitary rooms and lived noble lives under the same circumstances. They were the sin of self-indulgence, and was a rotten spot in the character of the young man who uttered the words.

Dr. Robinson emphasized the fact that he did not know the name of the young man who spoke the words, and his name was not published in the newspaper, but he replied to the sentiment for the benefit of any young man who might be disposed to entertain similar thoughts.

AT THE KIRMES.

Children Will Participate in the Extra Performance Tonight.

Two large audiences witnessed Saturday's Kirmess dances. The children's dances of the afternoon evidenced the fact that the little ones have daily become more proficient, and their part in tonight's performance will contribute largely to the success of the evening.

Among those who received flowers Saturday were Miss Stewart, Mrs. E. L. Fuller, Mrs. A. H. Christy, and H. J. Newman.

WHAT IT COSTS PER YEAR

Amount of Money It Takes to Run the Y. M. C. A. in all Its Departments.

MEMBERS PAY 40 PER CENT.

It Is Like Buying Groceries for Less Than Half the Cost—Sixty Per Cent. of the Expense Is Contributed by Generous Subscription.

If a merchant or a banker had a business which did not sustain itself he would probably dispose of it. If he continued his enterprise at a loss it would be because he had some good reason for his action. These observations suggest a comment on the finances of the Scranton Young Men's Christian association. It costs between $8,000 and $9,000 a year to conduct the association and yet over half the amount, about 60 per cent., has to be obtained by subscription—in other words, by free gifts.

To many unacquainted with the real character of Young Men's Christian association objects and accomplishments many persons might wonder why the association is allowed to be run at a yearly loss of 60 per cent. Business men would close up shop under the same conditions, so it must be inferred that there is some good reason for maintaining such an institution at so great a loss.

Weighty Facts Concisely Stated.

There are reasons offered for this condition which will be readily understood as follows: First, because a very important and very expensive part of its work, i.e., reading room, employment bureau, boarding house, register, gospel meetings, song services, etc., is free to all men; second, because the membership fee is but at less than half the actual cost of privileges provided in order to reach young men who could not afford to pay club rates for membership privileges; and as a result of this an examination of the membership record shows that 46 per cent. of members are mechanics, 16 per cent. clerks, 14 per cent. merchants and business men, 13 per cent. professional men, 11 per cent. students; third, because the association in its efforts to reach men must compete with evil resorts which lavish money in gilded attractions regardless of expenditure. Thus it cannot afford to economize on light, on reading matter, on music, etc., but must make its building homelike, attractive and interesting.

Division of the Funds.

In connection with the finances of the association it will be interesting to note in detail how the funds are divided. The figures are indicated in the following tables:

EXPENSES.

Salaries of general secretary, physical director, assistant physical director, assistant secretary, librarian	$2,500 00
Care of building, water, fuel and light	2,450 00
Educational work	1,000 00
Religious work	500 00
Gymnasium and athletic work	500 00
Social work	500 00
Total	$8,500 00

RECEIPTS.

Memberships—regular and sustaining	$2,500 00
Income from hall rent, concerts, etc.	1,000 00
Miscellaneous sources, collections, etc.	500 00
Subscriptions	3,500 00
Total	$8,500 00

Privileges Are a Godsend.

The figures are an average for several years and show how cheaply hundreds of Scranton young men are accorded certain privileges. The regular and sustaining members are asked to pay only 40 per cent. for an educational, athletic, religious and social godsend, which might very justly be likened to buying clothing, groceries or meat at less than one-half of the cost.

SNOW COST HIM DEARLY.

Police Had Ample Time to Wait for a "Neat" Thief.

Alexander Mitchell, the negro employee who on Thursday night looted O'Brien's barber shop at Wyoming avenue and Spruce street, was captured Friday night on his arrival in Philadelphia and will be brought to this city tomorrow.

After getting possession of money and baggage, Mitchell, to the value of $100 Mitchell left the city on a Lackawanna train. Fortunately the snow delayed travel and the Philadelphia police, on information wired from Scranton, had ample time to prepare for the arrest. His destination was surmised from the fact of his having a sweet heart at Bryn Mawr.

Dr. Gibbons.

of New York city, will be in his Scranton office, 41 Wyoming avenue, every Monday from 8 in the morning until 9 in the evening.

"WE'RE RIGHT IN THE PUSH."

When the advertising atmosphere is so heavily charged with exaggeration, it is well to remember who the honest advertisers are. Windy assertions about GREAT reductions--advertising goods at impossible prices, find no lodging place in the minds of intelligent people. Bull trade throughout the legitimate business season may make necessary, wild statements from some clothiers to attract trade, but the schemers will have to scheme harder and find new disguises for their lame excuses before they can stop the people from coming to this store for honest values. The triumph of this store is the triumph of intelligence, and you have made it so. Trade has been up to the mark here, yet there's a touch of attractiveness in the styles and assortments. We've added another and more taking attraction--REDUCED PRICES, natural order of things here at this season: LOWER PRICES than you find ELSEWHERE.
