CARPENTER'S NARROW ESCAPE

Alex. Davis Is Pulled from a Building by a Board Catching in His Clothing and Seriously Injured-Mason Home Burglarized.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Pittston, Pa., Feb. 11 .- One of the most worthy candidates to be voted for at the coming election is Colonel Thomas F. Cody, of the First ward, who is one of the Citizens' party nominees for city assessor. Mr. Cody is a most exemplary citizen, of advanced intelligence, ripe experience in business affairs and of unswerving integrity.

A painful mishap befell Alexander

Davis, of Oak street, at about 10 o'clock this morning while at work on the Odd Fellows building. While in the act of throwing a board from the second story window, he was carried with it to the ground by a nail in the board catching in his clothing. He struck on his head and shoulders and was picked up unconscious. As soon as he recovered he was taken to his home and Dr. Barrett was summoned; who cared for the wounds of the injured man. Davis received internal injuries also, though no bones are broken. His injuries are not considered dangerous at present.

The programme of the members monthly reception and anniversary of the Young Men's Christian association, to be held at the association rooms tomorrow (Tuesday) evening, will be as follows: Charles E. Douglass, experiments in digital sleight of hand: Glass staining in the year 1995, A. Knotty Affair, mysterious coins, manipulation of cards, demon hat; plane sole, Professor Ernest Hodges; solo, John M. Tyson; violin solo, John Farrer; ventriloquism, Mr. Douglass, spiritualistic mysteries solved. Mr. Douglass comes highly recommended as a magician, and his entertainment will be pleasing and instructive. Members in good standing are entitled to one ticket. Additional tickets, 25 cents each.

Mason Home Burglarized.

The home of Mrs. Mason, widow of the late Colonel Mason, was burglar-ized last evening. The robbers were evidently in search of valuables which ere concealed beyond their reach. They ransacked the whole house, leaving clothing strewn about on every hand and the house in a general disorder. It has not been ascertained, as yet, if anything of value was taken. The thieves have not been apprehended.

The death of Mrs. McCarthy, of Tremont street. West Side, occurred last night at H o'clock. The deceased was 71 years old. Funeral announcement

Three cases were admitted to the hospital today. They are Jacob Miller, of Port Griffith, who had his right hand crushed at Ewen breaker. He was employed as runner and was in the act of spragging a car when his hand was caught between the wheel and the sprag. His index and third fingers are badly crushed. The middle tinger was amputated. John Huny, a lad of 14 years, employed as doortender at No. , was run into by a car and received a broken limb. His home is in Hughestown. The other admission is that of George Dayton, a conductor of Yates-ville, who is suffering from a frost hit-ten foot.

The total number of killed for 1894 is 71 and injured 227. In addition closs, one killed and one injured; Hanover slope, two killed; Maxwell, one killed and two seriously injured; South Wilkes-Barre air shaft, one injured, Adding these makes the total 77 killed and 22 injured. Ashland Telegram: A little piece of rough lickory wood, four inches in diameter and six inches long, is all that con fines 500,000,000 gallons of water in a grea nine, into which it poured several years ago. By the liberation of this volume of water free and easy access will be gained to some of the richest velus of anthracite coal ever discovered. The successful placing of this little piece of wood marked the completion of the greatest feat of engineering in the history of cost minion. It was the driving of the great Jeddo tun-nel, a hole seven feet by nine, through five miles of solid rock, under two great mountains, for the purpose of tabling the mines in which the water imprisoned thousands of tons of coal. In the valley between the ridges of Buck and Jedio mountains is the richest coal basin in the world. But one day in the early serious. world. But one day in the early spring of 1887 work in this basin had suddenly stopped. A creek that flowed through the valley, swellen into a torrent by the meltin snow on the mountain lops, broke from its bed and poured into the mines, flood ing them and driving theminers to flight to save their lives. There was talk of pump-ing them out, but the expense would be so great that, with no security against another flooding, it was deemed impracticable, J. R. Markel, a prominent coal operator, of Jeddo; conceived the idea in 1890 of draining the flooded mines by driving a great tunnel from the Butler valley five miles under the mountains to the lowest part in the center of the coal basin, With the assistance of Mining Engineer Thomas McNair, of Hazleton, plans were to be in Butler valley, 17,098 feet from the face or end of the main tunnel, and a second tunnel, 9.888 feet long, was to run from Markle's mines. The entire tun-nel would thus be five and an eighth miles long. Work was begun early in 1891, and it was carried on from two different slopes by five gangs of men. The surveys and caluciations were made with such nicety that there was not more than an inch difference in the floors of the sec-tions. As the tunnel neared completion with which the Union Improvement com-pany was interested, was formed to carry them out. The outlet of the tunnel was done so that the outflow could be regu-lated. Iron encased the drill as it went downward, and when the drill finally plerced the tunnel a plece of hickory six inches long was driven into the four-inch New York Produce Market.

As soon as the pipes are removed and the plug withdrawn the water will flow out. A difficulty was encountered in regard to the outflow into Butler creek of the poisonous sulphur. The creek runs through a prosperous farming region, and the farmers objected to the pollution of it. The right of way was purchased from most of the farmers, but some would not sell, and when the tunnel was finished they applied to the court for an injunction to restrain the commany from emptying the mine waters. company from emptying the mine waters into the creek. After three months in the court Judge Rice, of Wilkes-Barre, decid-John Morris, a well-known young man, who resides at Barbertown, died of that the company should empty the water into the creek, provided they did not do so in such quantities as to overflow and damage the farm lands. This the company can do, owing to the four-inch bore holes, and they will in a few days withdraw the plug and commence the work of drainage. It is expected that it will take about three months to

ROOF TINNING AND SOLDERING All done away with by the use of HART-MAN'S PATENT PAINT, which consists of ingredients well-known to all. It can be applied to tin, gaivanized tin, sheet iron roofs, also to brick dwelings, which will prevent absolutely any crumbling, cracking or breaking of the brick. It will outlast tinning of any kind by many years, and it's cost does not exceed one-fifth that of the cost of tinning. Is solid by the job or pound. Contracts taken by ANTONIO HARTMANN, ST Birch St.

TO OUR PATRONS:

Washburn-Crosby Co. wish to assure their many paterons that they will this year hold to their usual custom of milling STRICTLY OLD WHEAT until the new crop is fully cured. New wheat is now upon the market, and owing to the excessively dry weather many millers are of the opinion that it is already cured, and in proper washburn-Crosby Co. will take no risks, and will allow the new wheat fully three months to mature before grinding. This careful attention to every detail of milling has placed Washburn-Crosby Co.'s flour far above other brands.
