AMONG THE RESCUED.

onverted Men Testify at the Third Anniversary of Rescue Mission-Many Prominent Ministers and Citizens Partleipate-Address by the President.

A large and enthusiastic gathering ssembled at 111 Franklin avenue last evening to celebrate the third anniversary of the Rescue Mission. Promi-nent among the large audience were the persons who profess their conversion by means of the mission, and who were present to testify their gratitude for the great benefit wrought to them. Rev. Dr. W. H. Pearce, of Elm Park church, read an appropriate portion of Scripture, followed by impressive prayrs led by Rev. Dr. C. E. Robinson, of the Second Presbyterian church, and Rev. Warren G. Partridge, of the Penn Avenue Baptist church. ber of converts then voluntarily expressed their testimonies, which were full of Interest to the audience. Sev eral related the depravity and immoralty of their former lives and the changed conditions since they became subject to the beneficent influences of he institution.

President Luther Keller delivered an ddress on the work of the mission and bade the new acquisitions of the mission to be of good faith, and be strong in their determinations to lead a new life. Words of encouragement were also spoken by Dr. Pearce, Dr. Robinson, ex-Judge Hand, A. W. Dickson, A. B. Williams, of the Traders' bank: Alderman Frederick Fuller, deorge Mahy, and others. Superintendent Sanborn also took part in the meeting. About 130 persons were enertained after the meeting. Physical Director Weston, of the Young Men's Christian association, ook a flash-light view of the meeting.

eran Constable, Martin L. Newman, of 531 Breck court died on Sunday at his daughter's residence at the ripe old age of 94 years. He was one of the oldest residents of Scranton, having taken up his residence in "Slocum Hollow" in 1844,

Mr. Newman was born, in Otsego county, N. Y., in 1800, and was for a lime in the employ of the Lackawann Iron and Steel company as a teamster and afterward engaged in business or his own account in selling wood and water, the custom, at the time, being to sell water in barrels to housekeepers He was also the first constable of the and was afterward elected justice of the peace, when, as "Squire New man." he figured prominently in the minor litigation of those days. The funeral will be held this afternoon at St Luke's church at 2 o'clock,

NOW WATCH OUT FOR IT

Good, Honest Secret Back of the Tribune's Y. M. C. A. Stories,

DETAILS ARE YET WITHHELD

Peculiar Obligation Rests on Many Scranton Adults and Children-An Cousual and Shameful Condition Which Must Be Changed.

There is a reason for all things, and there exists a vital reason for The Tribune's present series of articles on the Young Men's Christian association of Scranton. With this issue terminates the first portion of the historical and explanatory articles referred to while tomorrow will begin the second and most important portion.

Although the first batch of stories created an unusual interest, because they gave a peculiar insight into Scranton's most popular semi-public institution, the series which begins tomorrow will and must appeal to every fairminded and loyal adult and child in the

A deluge of questioning letters have been sent to The Tribune since Jan. 14 when the articles began to appear. The writers wanted to know the real purose of the stories and asked many other questions concerning the Young Men's Christian association. Queries of a like nature were made verbally or by letter to the association office. For certain reasons which will later be explained The Tribune has been prevented from answering, and this obser vation applies to the necessary silence of the association officers. The questioning and interest aroused, however have been gratifying and gives evidence of a success awaiting the object The Tribune has in view.

What Association Needs. Until tomorrow this object cannot be divulged in detail. At present it can only be stated that the Young Men's Christian association of Scranton is in need of a sum which will eat a big hole Into $10,000. A large amount is $10,000, but the cause is ten times greater. If sufficient money is secured, it means that an institution which has attained a greater result than any other organization in an equal number I years will be permitted to increase its usefulness in the same ratio as in yeurs past.

The cause is urgent-it is imperative. which indicates that the means must also be great. This large sum is actually needed and it is not believed that the public will stand and see such a brave and noble thing as the Young Men's Christian as-sociation crippled. It is itself too road-minded for such a result; and the ssociation is too useful to permit of such a contingency.

Now it must not be inferred that the ssociation is on the verge of dissolution or even approaches that condition No matter what happens to its material resources, it promises to be alive and young and vigorous when the present generation shall have ceased to breathe Briefly, but honestly, the local association needs this money, and tomorrow The Tribune will reveal its plan of securing for the association as great a sum as possible. Until then the reader may gain an insight into why the money is needed by a perusal of what follows:

Finishing and Furnishing Funds.

The Young Men's Christian association of Scranton has all that it needs in permanent and salaried officials, or space, departments of work, teach ers, members, fuel, light, supplies and incidentals. It is healthy, growing and always "quite well, thank you." What the association, or rather the building needs is a Finishing and Furnishing

It is a fact-a disgraceful fact, many believe-that the building has never been completely finished or furnished since it was first opened; really, it has not been half finished or furnished This may be a rather bitter truth for the progressive Scrantonian to swal but it is the simple truth. Whon the building was first occupied t was but partially equipped and the bare walls poorly finished by the judiclous expenditure of about $3,000. That was in 1887. Since that date no fur ther outlay has been made, excepting here and there some patchwork plaster ing has been done, a chair or table re paired or something of that kind Enough has been done only to keep things from going to pieces. During the past few years the free ducational classes have been made an important part of the work and it has made a heavy demand on tables, chairs and other articles with the result that the rest of the association has had to get along without these necessaries, Rather peculiar condition of affairs. isn't it?

Only a Few Illustrations.

A whole page of The Tribune could be properly utilized to call attention to the Finishing and Furnishing needs of the building. The bath rooms, for instance, are of the makeshift order and were originally constructed to serve their purpose temporarily. The condition of the bathing appliances are today the same as in the beginning. The gymnasium classes and the demands made upon it have grown until mornng, afternoon and night it teems with ys, youths and business men. The roof is supported by a number of posts whose only purpose seems to be in the way. It is necessary that these posts be taken out, the roof reconstructed and new athletic appliances added. The second and third floors might be facetiously termed "studies in brown and gray"-they are so rough and gloomy looking. As a matter of fact the walls have never been finished nor tinted, nor has the furniture of these two floors ever been even partially sufficient. The fourth floor, which promises soon to be utilized for an industrial school, contains, or rather it does no contain much of anything. The amount mentioned by the asso ciation officers as necessary to bring about the desired Finishing and Furnishing is really many thousands of dollars in excess of the sum mentioned in this column. This makes the deplorable condition of the building all the more shameful and The Tribune be lieves an interested Scranton public will rectify this condition.

Whether the Young Men's Christian association is deserving of aid or not is too well known to invite comment. Its members pay only 40 per cent. of its annual expenses. That is all they are asked or expected to pay. The balance 60 per cent., is supplied by outside friends, whose only benefit is the satisfaction of having spent their money

It is proposed to raise the Finishing and Furnishing fund by a general subscription. The plan will be revealed in tomorrow's Tribune. Read it carefully.

PRETTY CITY PROBLEM.

Trying to Fit $331,000 Expenses to $275,000 in Receipts. After holding two meetings and mak-Ing a cut of over $31,000.in the estimated city expenditures for the coming year the estimates committee will tonight hold its third session. There is yet to be whittled down $23,685.35 in order to make expenses fit the $275,988 available. Originally the diff:erence was $53,385.75.

The biggest slice taken off thus far was about $23,000, the difference be tween the cost of a volunteer and paid fire department. How the committee will make the further necessary reduction cannot be exactly foretold, but it is probable that about $9,000 will be taken away from the estimate for Connell park, and from $400 to $600 shaved from the incidental and stationery items of ten departments. There will still be $10,000 to eliminate and it is believed that a portion of it will be met by re ducing clerkships and office expenses.

Whatever action is taken at the sev eral meetings, such action is not nece sarily final. The estimates will not be made official until the committee is ready to report to councils.

TWO DIVORCE CASES.

Testimony with Regard to Them Heard Before Judge Edwards.

Before Judge Edwards vesterday evidence was taken in the divorce proceedings of Claude B. Holly against Corah The couple were married June 15, 1891, and resided at Park Place. It is alleged that Mrs. Holly was more atentive to a neighbor of her's named Wescott than she was to her own hus band, and that she neglected her home and household duties to bask in the sunshine of Wescott's smiles.

Mary Thomas, Alice Henshaw and Mr. Holly testified to the conduct of Mrs. Holly and Mr. Wescott. It was in onsequence of this trouble that Holly left his wife on Dec. 8, 1894, he having become convinced that she was unfaith-

Testimony was also taken in the divorce case of Mrs. Margaret Turner against Joseph R. Turner. Attorney W. Gaylord Thomas appeared for Mrs. Turner. Her husband's home was at Olyphant, but he was a student in Kansas in September, 1884, when they were married. They went on a wedding tour and when they came back he left for his school in Kansas, leaving his wife here after him. He never returned to claim her. Subsequently she learned that he was living with another woman at Tacoma, Washington. Mrs. Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lowry were among the witnesses sworn in the case

TO WORK IN UNISON.

Health Boards of the County Soon to Get Together. All the boards of health of Lackawanna county will probably be repre sented at an important convention to be held in this city Tuesday, Feb. 26. The idea originated with the Blakely board, upon whose suggestion the Scranton body has notified the boards throughout the county and is now planning for the meeting. A two-fold purpose is attached to the meeting: The lesser boards will aim to get new ideas, and an arrangement will be made whereby all the organizations may in the future work in unison The Scranton board has been organized ten years and has quite properly been selected to father the project for the reason mentioned and because the voluminous nature of its work makes it the most important and central of th county boards.

The convention will convene at 16 o'clock a. m. in the board of health

Illness and Accident Cripple Executives of the Street Department.

Peter Hiltz, the foreman of the street ommissioners' department, who ha been acting commissioner during the illness of Mr. Kirst, fell on the ice and broke his leg Friday night. At present the department is without a head, but fortunately the recent heavy fall of snow has rendered impractical much of the operations in the street depart

Mr. Kirst is still quite ill with rheumatism and possibly may not be able to leave his home on the South Side during this winter.

HEALTH OF THE CITY.

Generally Good Although Contagious Disease Is Quite Prevalent. During last week the death rate in the ity was normal. There were twentysix deaths from all causes. Of contagious diseases there were twelve new cases and four deaths, as follows: Of typhoid fever 2 new cases and I death, of scarlet fever 6 new cases and I death, and of diphtheria 4 new cases and two deaths. The report indicates an unusually large num ber of new cases of contagious diseases although the general health of the city

MR. NOTZ AS A HUMORIST

Made Some Fun at a Board of Control Meeting.

TWENTY MINUTE SESSION HELD

The Board Took No Action on a Reconsideration of the flunt & Connell Contract-High School Teachers'

Committee Reports.

Twenty-one members responded to the roll call at last night's meeting of the board of control. There was no econsideration of the contract awardng the heating and ventilating of the ew high school to Hunt & Connell. The matter did not come up, but Mr. Notz, the member from the Ninetecnth ward, took the floor and made a permai explanation about his vote.

Mr. Notz voted to award the contract o Hunt & Connell and one day last week the Scranton Times contained an unfavorable allusion to him. Mr. Notz harged a member, whom he did not rame, of going to the Times office and elling stories about him. He made : austic and humorous speech and said that he voted for the awarding of that contract on its merits.

The meeting would have been a very spiritless one but for Mr. Notz's little speech. Outside the meeting room there was a good sized representation of dizens who expected that the matter f the contract would be taken up.

After the minutes of the preceding meeting were read the members started n with a rush to transact the business that came before the body. say-roll for the month of January was approved as follows; Teachers' aries, $11.211.13; substitutes for day school, $384.50; janitors, $1,250.50; night school teachers, $1,442; night school janlitors $14.19

Mr. Wormser, of the teachers' committee, reported that the illness o Superintendent Phillips prevented the committee from making any progress toward securing a teacher for the train ing school, but that the committee has been in communication with several teachers who are specialists in th training school line. However, until Superintendent Phillips gets well it will be impossible to make any progress.

Night School Attendance. Mr. Wormser recommended that the secretary of the board shall communicate to the principals of night schools to close any room where the attend ance falls below an average of lifter pupils, and that these pupils shall b taken by the teacher in the grade above the room closed. The board adopted

Mr. Wormser's suggestion. Mr. Welsh, of the high school com mittee, reported that the committee de ided unanimously to recommend that Contractor Conrad Schroeder's name b substituted as surety on the bond of Engineer Smith Instead of the Amer can Surety commany. The bond is for $5,000, and is offered by Mr. Smith to guarantee and indemnify the boars gainst any litigation on the heating o the high school. The report of the committee was adopted.

The building committee reported favorably on a bill of $1,800 in favor of Contractor Edwin Hughes for war lone on the new No. 27 building

The meeting adjourned after having been just twenty minutes in session
