A VERY PLEASANT EVENING

It Was Enjoyed by Those Who Attended the Entertainment of Dickson Club. Runaway on Main Avenue-Social at Home of Miss Richards.

The entertainment and social given in Mears' hall last night by the members of the Dickson Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar club attracted a large attendance. The room was profusely decorated. Over the center of the stage in brilliant ornamental letters was the word "Dickson," and suspended from each side were two large American From the center of the room were draped streamers of blue, and along the walls many smaller flags were arranged in unique designs.

The first number of the excellent programme was the "Heroic March," members of the Dickson club. Llew Herbert rendered a selection entitled "I Fear No Foe," in his usual good style, and the overture, "En-chantment," was skilfully executed by Arthur E. Morse, accompanied by Walter Davies on the plane. The soprane solo, "When the Heart Is Young," Miss Julia Allen, was warmly applauded. Master Stanley Swartz and Miss Bessie Fraunfelter played a duett on the banjo and guitar in an excellent manner, and were compelled to respond to an enthusiastic encore. traito solo of Mrs. Dora Metzgar was well received. Robert Friedrich gave a zither solo, accompanied on guitars by Messrs. Watkins and Mayo. Eos Cynon rendered a tenor solo entitled Children's Home," and the Dickson club followed with "Love and Beauty Waltz." "Flow Gently Deva" was rendered by Eos Cynon and Llew Herbert. This was the closing feature of the evening. Miss Annie Williams, of Tenth street, was accompanist.

After the entertainment dancing was indulged in to music by Miss Nellie Curran on the plane. The prompter was William Lake. The affair was successful throughout. The club members are: Banjaurine, Professor William W. Watkins: banjos, F. H. Canfield and Charles Sproal; mandolin, F. R. Shorts; guitars, D. Forest Mayo and F. E. Sheninger.

An Exciting Runaway

A horse attached to a light cutter dashed up Main avenue yesterday at a rapid rate of speed. When danger was the most imminent, Motorman Alex. McTaggart and Conductor Richard Phillips, who were running the Eynon street car up the avenue, jumped from the car and captured the horse just in time to prevent a smashup. The animal and cutter were placed in front of Mason's store to await the appearance of the owner. The latter came up a few minutes later and explained that the horse ran away from him while driving near Hampton street. The cutter was a total wreck.

Social Was Held.

The home of Thomas Richards, proprietor of the Lafayette house, on North Main avenue, was the scene of in honor of his daughter, Miss Margaret Richards. A very large number of guests were present and many hours of enjoyment were had in games and dancing. In addition to this songs were sung and instrumental selections rendered. Mr. Richards proved to be a genial host and the company were given free use of his home. Refreshments were served at a late hour. guests included many from the East
