DR. J. J. WALSH PASSES AWAY

Large Attendance at the Mid-Year Convention of the Woman's Temperance Union-Brown's Bee Hive Soaked. Social Events of Interest.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Pittston, Feb. 15 .- Almost while the words penned yesterday concerning the illness of Dr. J. J. Walsh were being printed, death claimed him for its own. thus adding another to the many sad instances of quiet martyrdom, achieved not on fields of glorified warfare nor in the walks of conspicuous official eminence, but in the unobtrusive duties of honorable private life. For Dr Walsh was a martyr, and nothing less. The life that he has lost went from him because its vital forces were sacrificed for others; because as a physician he gave to his profession a measure of modest yet heroic devotion seldom paralleled upon this earth. As a practitioner of medicine he may have had equals in this part of the state, but it is doubtful if he had a superior. As a man he was singularly warm in his friendships, frank in his dislikes, generous in his impulses and unaffected by any form or phase of hypocrisy or deceit. The writer of this finds it difficult even yet to comprehend that a friend so dear, a man so true, has been so suddenly, and as it seems so cruelly called from earth. Only the knowledge of his rarely equaled worth and of the good which will ever asso ciate itself with his memory reconciles us to the loss of one of nature's genuine noblemen, whom to know was to love Dr. Walsh died this morning at 4 o'clock. He had been unconscious for several hours. Two weeks ago he contracted pneumonia, which later as sumed a malignant form. Dr. Walsh was born in this place in 1854. He was son of ex-Burgess James Walsh. His brother, Rev. Richard Walsh, of Moscow, and his sister, Miss Mary Walsh, survive. The following sketch is from this evening's Truth: Dr. Walsh attended St. John's academy at this place and the public schools in his early years, and when old enough entered the Georgetown university at Washington, D. C., from which he was graduated and took a collegiate course. Later he entered the medical depart-ment of the University of Pennsylvania and was awarded his diploma as a physician and surgeon eighteen years ago. Since that time he has been in the continuous practice of his profession at Pittston, where he did a most extensive 1881 to Miss Anne Kelly, daughter of Hon. John Kelly, of Carbondale, and large carrier of coal up to 1893 was as business. Dr. Walsh was married in the union was blessed with seven children, six of whom with his estimable and sorrowing wife, survive him. The oldest child is ten years and the young-est nine months old. STOCKS AND BONDS.

New York, Feb. 15 .- Some disappointment was felt in stock circles this morning at the defeat of the Wilson gold bond resolution in the house, but the pressure to sell was not pronounced. In the first hour the decline was less than a point. Later on there was considerable selling of Jersey Central, Northwest and Lead. Other weak spots were Erie, Lackawanna, Delaware and Hudson, Louisville and Nashville, Missouri Pacific and Western Union. Jersey Central was sold down from 86% to $3% on bad statements for the year. Northwest fell from 90% to 89%, and the other grangers % to % per cent. In
