$5 REWARD!

So many complaints of irregular delivery have reached us, which we have traced to stolen papers, that we now offer $5 reward for information that will lead to the conviction of any person caught stealing The Tribune from the doorsteps of regular subscribers.

CITY NOTES.

School teachers and employes were paid yesterday.
Good skating at the Driving park. Much this evening.
Henry Rogers, of Fifth avenue, was sentenced to thirty days imprisonment for leaving his wife by Alderman Fuller yesterday.
This will be pay-day at both steel mills; the employes at the North works will be paid in the morning and at the South works in the afternoon.
W. J. Bonner, of the First ward, of Blakey, and Michael Shanley, of the Third ward of Olyphant, returned their assessment books to the county commissioners yesterday.
A coffee dam is being built for the eastern pier of the Linden street bridge along the edge of the river. The masonry will extend from four to eight feet below the surface of the water.
Rev. A. C. Whitmer, superintendent of home missions of the Reformed church in the United States, will preach tomorrow in the Calvary Reformed church, Monroe avenue and Gibson street.
A new use for the tired messenger boy has been found in Scranton. Last night a diminutive specimen was observed walking a pick in a hopeless endeavor to dig the ice from the gutter in front of a Spruce street saloon.
Rev. J. L. Sibole, of Philadelphia, lectures in Trinity church, Adams avenue, Monday evening, Feb. 18. Subject, "Within the Shadow of the Cross: or, a Virginia Boy's Experience in War Times." No charge of admission.
The Central Railroad of New Jersey has arranged excursion rates to the Kirmess at Wilkes-Barre. Between Feb. 14 and 23 they will sell round trip tickets from this city to Wilkes-Barre for $1.25. This also includes admission to the Kirmess, good only on day of arrival.

MINOR COURT CASES.

Put on Trial Before Judge Gunster and Purdy.
Mrs. Catharine Hyman, of Olyphant, was tried yesterday before Judge Gunster and acquitted of being a common scold. Thomas Benson was the prosecutor. The jury placed two-thirds of the costs on her and one-third on the prosecutor.
Down in No. 3 court room before Judge Purdy the embezzlement case of the Prudential Life Insurance company against William Axon dragged its slow length along. Hulstrand & Vosburg represented the commonwealth and Attorney George W. Beale the defendant. All the evidence of both sides was in at adjournment and the attorneys will argue to the jury this morning, after which Judge Purdy will deliver his charge. The amount embezzled, as shown by the books, sums up to about $24.
The first lecture of the illustrated course on Venice by W. Hudson Shaw, Fellow of Balliol college, Oxford, England, will be given at the Young Men's Christian association hall on Monday evening, Feb. 19. Tickets for course of six lectures, $2.50, may be obtained from any one of the ladies of the Reading club or at Powell's. Diagram for reserved seats open at Powell's Thursday, Feb. 15, at 6 o'clock.
Immense bargains in cut glass, bric-a-brac, silverware and other goods at Freeman's.

Hundreds of precious little ones owe their lives to Dr. Thon's Electric Oil, the sovereign cure for cramp and all other throat or lung diseases.

EX-JUDGE JOHN HANDLEY

Much Regret Expressed Throughout the City at His Death.

LEAVES AN IMMENSE ESTATE

It is Supposed to Be Worth About $2,500,000—Funeral Will Take Place Tomorrow Afternoon—Services at St. Luke's Church.

The death of ex-Judge John Handley, which was announced in THE TRIBUNE yesterday morning, was the great topic of discussion about the city yesterday, and there was a general expression of deep regret at his demise.

Mr. Handley had for a long time suffered greatly from stomach and other troubles, and his death was directly the result of the digestive organs. At his bedside when he died were Dr. W. E. Allen, Dr. N. Y. Leet, Franklin Howell and John T. Richards.

The executors named in Mr. Handley's will yesterday assumed charge of the estate. They are his attorneys, H. W. Palmer, of Wilkes-Barre, and Lemuel Amerman, of Scranton, and John T. Richards, who was for years cashier of the Merchants and Mechanics' bank of this city, of which Mr. Handley was for years president. Up to the time of his death he continued to be one of the largest individual owners of the stock of that institution. The exact amount of his estate his executors refuse to make known, but it is believed that it amounts to $2,500,000. He carried insurance policies aggregating $100,000. His real estate in this city consisted of the Wyoming House, with the stores attached to it on Lackawanna and Wyoming avenues. The plot of ground occupied by these buildings is the largest owned by any individual in the center of the city, and this property would undoubtedly bring half a million of dollars if placed on the market.

Refused Offer of $250,000.
Another property owned by Mr. Handley is the block at Wyoming avenue and Spruce street, for which he refused an offer of $250,000. He owned the buildings occupied by the Merchants and Mechanics' and Scranton Trust and Savings Bank buildings, the buildings at 477 and 232 Lackawanna avenue, besides lots on Penn avenue and coal land in Minocha and Peckville.

In the south he also had extensive interests. On the Kanawha river in West Virginia he owned 17,000 acres of land, the great part of which is underlaid by coal. A mining town on this tract of land has been named after him. At Winchester, Va., he owned a large hotel and other property.

Mr. Handley was born in Dublin, Ireland, on Jan. 7, 1835, and was therefore 60 years of age. He emigrated to this country at an early age, but of his antecedents or boyhood days but little is known, as he was very reticent about them. He was what is known as a self-educated man, never having had the advantages of a liberal education in either school or academy, but he had a fine, intellect, a good memory, and was an omnivorous reader, and before reaching manhood he had acquired a better education along practical lines than many graduates of universities possess.

When a young man he obtained a position in one of the departments at Washington, where his towering form and dignified bearing attracted much attention. He had for a companion a young man who was in the same position, and the two were chosen from among the men who were closest to him and in whom he had the greatest confidence.

Mr. Handley frequently intimated that he intended in his will to liberally endow some institution and it was possible that at one time he had in mind the location of some educational institution in this city. But he was highly displeased when the city councils designated the street in front of the Wyoming house as a hay market, because he would not pave with the same kind of material as the rest of the street. At that time the hay market ordinance would cost the city $1,000,000. Many believed he will endow an institution at Roanoke, Va.

Rumor has it that he leaves large sums to the Home for the Friendless, following among the Democrats of the county, and for the erection of a town hall at Winchester, Va.

In the prothonotary's office is a mark showing the height of Mr. Handley. He stood against the wall one day and allowed Deputy Prothonotary Kasson to make the mark. The mark shows that some of the other tall men of the county. He heads them all by several inches, being six feet and seven inches in height. A special casket had to be made for his remains, the regular sizes not being large enough. Miller & Co., are making the casket, which will be six feet and ten inches in length.

Mr. Handley left no children or immediate relatives in this country. His only brother, Michael Handley, died some years ago in Wisconsin. He has many relatives in Dublin, Ireland, however.

GOING UP TO THE FRONT

Flooding, Steady Gait Has That Y. M. C. A. Fund.

LAST STEP WAS A BIG ONE

Over Fifty Dollars Was Received Yesterday—Total Is Approaching Two Hundred Dollars—Room for Lots of Small Enclosures.

Last Wednesday morning, Feb. 13, THE TRIBUNE announced in its columns that it would give $100 to start the Finishing and Furnishing fund of the Young Men's Christian association. On that day this paper presented its plan for receiving any sum from 1 cent upward, and on the day following began publishing a daily itemized statement of the contributions received. Up to 6 o'clock last night THE TRIBUNE's $100 had been increased to $175.97, or in three days $75.97 has been received from general subscriptions. The first response was made by F. W. Shear, of the State & Shear company, who sent a dollar for each one of his three children.

What One Day Did.
Yesterday was the banner day, over $50 being devoted to the Finishing and Furnishing fund, which was balanced at 6 o'clock last night as follows: THE TRIBUNE..... $99.00
Previously acknowledged..... 76.97
Total..... $175.97

NEW CONTRIBUTIONS.
J. D. Williams..... $2.77
Ladies' auxiliary..... 19.00
James H. Watson..... 3.00
C. H. C..... 1.00
James H. D..... 1.00
C. A. W..... 1.00
57 77

Grand total..... $175.97
During last evening there were received through the mail and by messenger a number of letters addressed Finishing and Furnishing fund. What their contents are will not be ascertained until this morning. In order to properly keep the accounts of the fund, no contributions received after 6 o'clock in the evening can be acknowledged the day following. Contributors should remember this and send their letters as early in the day as possible.

This Will Help You.

If you desire, cut this out and send with your contribution to THE TRIBUNE.

FOR THE Y. M. C. A. Finishing and Furnishing Fund.

WOOLWORTH'S COMBS

Three schools are already being canvassed for money by enthusiastic scholars.
The process of sending money is simple enough: It is only necessary to say that your enclosure is for the Finishing and Furnishing fund. It will save you trouble if you cut out and use the above coupon.

Who Shall Be Honored?
Who will be the first business man to send his check for $50? Come, now, you've got a number of employes and THE TRIBUNE will give that many of them their uprightness and good health to the Young Men's Christian association. Is that worth anything to you? If it is, then send along the equivalent in cash.
You couldn't make a better investment, because every cent for the association is a cent for the general good of the community.
Don't guess or a rash statement; it's a good fact.
The best time to send it is now.
Don't procrastinate.

OLDEN TYME CONCERT.
Delightful Evening at the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church.
"Songs of Ye Olden Tyme" were very appropriately rendered by quaintly-attired musicians in the lecture room of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church last evening under the able direction of Charles F. Whittemore. The choir sang "Majesty" and "Sheburne." The latter tune is peculiarly typical of the popular sacred music of the early part of the century, in English churches, and the hearty and free manner in which it was sung was a natural reproduction of the work of the early choristers and musical congregations. "WE'RE RIGHT IN THE PUSH."
When the advertising atmosphere is so heavily charged with exaggeration, it is well to remember who the honest advertisers are. Windy assertions about GREAT reductions--advertising goods at impossible prices, find no lodging place in the minds of intelligent people. Dull trade throughout the legitimate business season may make necessary, wild statements from some clothiers to attract trade, but the schemers will have to scheme harder and find new disguises for their lame excuses before they can stop the people from coming to this store for honest values. The triumph of this store is the triumph of intelligence, and you have made it so. Trade has been up to the mark here, yet there's a touch of attractiveness in the styles and assortments. We've added another and more taking attraction --REDUCED PRICES, natural order of things here at this season; LOWER PRICES than you find ELSEWHERE.
