About the Y. M. C. A.

2ditor of the Scranton Tribune.

I have read with interest several of the articles devoted to the work of the Young Men's Christian association in this cit I appreciate the benefits to be deriv from this association and have always been willing to help it in every possible way; but I never could understand why i is that its active membership is limited to the so-called evangelical churches

If this is an association of the people and for the people, why have not all the people an equal right to active member-ship? I would like to hear through your calumns, why the members of the Universalist or "All Souls" "church, have not an equal right to active membership, wi'n members of the Methodist, Baptia and Prespyterian churches? If you will kinelly answer this inquiry through your columns you will greatly oblige uly, Frank A. Branda, Scranton, Pa., Feb. 15, 1995.

[The Tribune is unable to answer Mr Branda. So far as this paper is concerned it is satisfied to know that any man, whether he believes in any church or not, can enjoy the great benefits of the Young Men's Christian association. We know its good work and broadness, which includes everyone, but we have

Death of Hon. John Handley. At a meeting of the directors of the Merchants' and Mechanics' bank, it was resolved: That we have heard with great regret of the death of Hon. John Handley, who organized and was the first president of this bank. In intimate business association with him for many years we have found him to be a man of strict integrity, superior judgment and great foresight—in his intercourse with his fellows he was ever a kindly and courteous gentleman. His acts of benevolence were frequent and his generosity as wide as the wants of the suffering who came to his notice. Nn or with a real claim of charity ever appealed to him in vain. ## CHURCHES AND YOUNG MEN

Discussion by the Young People's Christian Union.

TRIUMPH OF UNIVERSALISM.

The Issue of a Learned Sermon by Rev. F. A. Bisbee, of Philadelphia - Mysterles of Modern Theology Denounced. Proceedings of Convention.

A well attended conference of the Susquehanna Association of Young People's Christian unions was held at All Soul's Universalist church, Pine street, Saturday and yesterday. The following out-of-town delegates were present: Brooklyn, Susquehanna county, Mrs. S. B. Eldridge, Miss Emma Eldridge, Miss Maud Waldie, Miss Gertrude Waldie, Mrs. Giles; Hopbottom, Miss Flora Tiffany; Nicholson, E. G. Bacon, Mrs. Bacon, Miss Genevieve Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Shields, J. L. Tiffany, Rev. F. C. Adams, Mrs. E. Adams, Miss Grace Crock, Robert Adams, Clifton Adams; Fleetville, Mrs.

Depue, Miss Mand Depue, Alford Hibbs.
The convention was called to order by the president, E. G. Bacon, on Saturday at 11 a. m., when Miss Certie Waldie, of Brooklyn, read her report, which was considered highly satisfacory as indicating material progress in the work of the society. J. L. Tiffany, editor of the Nicholson Examiner, presented the treasurer's report, which also showed a healthy condition in the affairs of the society. The question box was opened and the following question placed before the neeting: "What is your idea concernng amusements, and how far should the church support them?" Rev. F. A. Bisbee, of Philadelphia, opened the disussion and argued that it was the duty of the churches to provide attractive and harmlessamusements for the young men to counteract the prevalent immoral attractions. Rev. G. W. Powell, pastor of All Soul's, took a broad view of the question, and said that it was unquestionaly the duty of all churches to provide amusements for the younger nembers of their congregations, and further to establish means where all young men, whether church members not, could find some means of passing their evening free from the contaminaion of saloons and other resorts which velcome, with open arms, the young nan whose time hangs heavily.

Plea for Young Men.

The reverend gentleman made a powrful appeal on behalf of the young men beset by temptations on either hand, have no opportunity for social empanionship in an atmosphere congestal and at the same time of an elevating tendency. The question was dis-Irift of the speeches were favorable regarding it as the duty of all hurches to provide means for the recreation of the rising generation. On Saturday evening an excellent musical pro-

Yesterday morning a large congregaion was attracted by the announcement that Rev. Frederick A. Bishee, of the Church of the Messiah, Philadelhia, would preach a special sermon, in the course of his remarks the revernd gentleman said:

"Universalists never grow old, so it "Universalists never grow old, so it is easy to assume that we are all young people here today, no matter what may men on "Social and Economic Wrongs." be the condition of our heads; so it is ly to the interest of this organization. There is one group of men to which I want to call your attention, and that is group of interested men and interestd churches within the Universalist denomination itself. Men and organizaions that have grown up within the ast 160 years, strong, vigorous, seeming to embody all that is necessary to ontinuelife, yet theresprings up in the nidst of this last group a little sprout of life, and there are some in this group. who have questioned what will this thing amount to? It has in it the else nents of strength, of endurance, and f growth, and today, after only a very w years have passed, we rejuice in he growth, the promise, the present eauty of the Young People's Christian

What are the conditions necessary the growth of this sprout that is rowing up in our denomination? Menhave tried in the past to make different churches grow, different religious organizations grow, by rooting them in their own opinions, or in the opinion of others. They have tried to make them grow by rooting them in what we called 'creed," but all creeds are human and we have found that all creeds are built on exceedingly shallow ground, where here is not much depth, and when the sed is put into that ground because t has not much depth it feels the heat quickly, the seed springs up and grows, out, because it has no depth, it withers away. There can be no possible enduring growth except that which is rooted in the eternal truth of God.

Spirit of Jesus Christ.

"There is another condition. This aprout needs not only good ground, it needs watering and this growth of the oung people needs a constant watering by the spirit of Jesus Christ. Now all have recognized that as a statement of truth, but men have interpreted it in times past foolishly. They have said that to be a Christian means that you are to receive the spirit of Jesus Christ, not dissected deep enough into its and that you are thereby to be made regulations to answer Mr. Branda's over after the fashion of some one else; that to be a Christian means that we are all to be run into one mould; that we are all to go out in one shape; that there is to be uniformity and then Christianity. Now, I do not find that such is the law of nature. I look into a garden and I see that there are growths of many kinds. There is the rose and the lily and the violet; there is the palm, there is the grass growing. The gardener does not put one kind of water at the root of the rose and another at the root of the lily, but it is the same water that flows to the root of each and every plant in the garden. So, I thing, pouring the Spirit of Christ in this great garden of humanity to the roots of life, we will find that it has not made all people alike, and it is not designed to, but it brings each one to his or her own peculiar perfection. "Another condition is that it must have room to grow in the invigoration of freedom; it must have room to grow in the field of reason; it is not to be marks by plainly pointing out the remedy circumscribed; not to be held in; it is to be a movement that is free, and a many phases which he courageously exmovement that has liberty with the posses. His recommendation, but follows up his recommendation. movement that has liberty, not license. A great many religious growths have been crushed in times past, crowded out of existence, choked out. There is a need today in all religious forces that we recognize a changed condition of life and base our religious conclusions upon the carefully made premises of our reason-we must know why a thing is so. It is simply folly for any one to go before the modern audience with all the mysteries of modern the-ology ,or to preach that you must believe this in order to be saved, or fur-ther to say, that if you do not believe you die. They are not scared any

Things We Cannot Understand.

"The final condition of growth is that It be baptized constantly in the sunlight of God's love. In the very na ture of things there are a good many things in this life that we cannot understand, no matter how high the average intelligence may have gone, until we see things as God sees them; there must be a great many mysteries. will all come to stand sometime in the presence of that great mystery that we call death. We are confronted with one of life's great mysteries that we cannot reason out, and there comes into our life the opportunity for the action of that great force, faith, confidence and trust.

"Rich as you are in the food of universal thought and spirit, outside these are the great multitudes who have failed to get satisfaction in other churches who are starving for spiritual Will you sit quietly in homes and let them starve. We have had one ebb and now I see the oncoming flood, and I rejoice that on the summit of a wave are to be seen the bright, hopeful, strong forces of our young people, bearing the banner of the Young People's Christian union."

RELIGIOUS TOPICS.

Rev. L. C. Floyd, D.D., preached at Elm Pack church yesterday morning. Rev. D. C. Phillips, of Hyde Park, preached an English sermon at the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church, Providence, last evening. Rev. G. W. Powell, of the Universalist church, will leave today for Jamestown, N. Y., to conduct special services for the next two weeks.

W. C. Weeden has been engaged for one year, beginning on April i, to organize and direct a chorus choic in the Second Presbyterian church. Secretary Mahy, of the Young Men's Christian association, is spending two week in Missouri, where Mrs. Mahy is visiting her parents. The quarterly meeting of the Welsh Congregationalists of Luzerene and Luckawanna valleys will be held at Minersville on Saturday and Sunday.

On Sunday next a series of revival services will be commenced at the Eim Park church. The services will continue for a period of two weeks at least.

Church services in the city yesterday e notable for the large number of outof-town elergymen who occupied the va-rious pulpits of the churches. At the Universalist church an important conference was held Saturday and yesterday, a full report of which appears elsewhere.

F. W. Pearsall addressed a large audionce at the Young Men's Christian asso-ciation hall yesterday afternoon, when excellent music was discoursed by Conran's orchestra. General praise was given for the fine singing of the glee club. Their performances yesteriay displayed re-

Rev. A. C. Whitmer, of Lancaster, su-perintendent of the board of home mis-sions, preached two able sermons at the Calvary Reformed church, on Monroe avenue, yesterday. The reverend gentleman occupies an important position in the omination and his presence attracted two large congregations. Rev. J. L. Sibole, of Philadelphia, a well known pulp't orator, will lecture at the Holy Trinity church, Adams ave-nue, this evening on the subject, "Within the Shadow of the Massanutten; or, a Virginia Boy's Experience in War Times."

The admission is free, and a large audience should great the eloquent lecturer.

This evening's dime concert at the Welsh agregational church, Providence, is an assured success, as considerable time has been devoted to the preparation of the juveniles, who in the rehearsals have shown themselves to be very proficient in the work. The programme is well arranged and contains several numbers of standard music by adults.

Services at the Washburn Street Presbyterian church are now conducted in the spacious school room. The vacance caused by the resignation of Rev. D. W. Skellenger has not yet been filled, and supplies are procured for each Sunday. Yesterday Rev. J. A. Davis, D.D., of Nyack, N. Y., officiated, The congregation is much pleased with the handsome appearance of the new school room.

The regular monthly meeting of the Scranton Christian Endeavor union will be held at the Young Men's Christian association parlors tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The usual notices will not be sent to the presidents and the corresponding secretaries of the individual societies this month, but the attendance of each one is urged. Business of importance will be considered. In addition, F. M. Bouton will read a paper.

Rev. P. R. Hawxhurst preached a powerful sermon at the Court Street Methodist Episcopal church last evening on "That Fast Young Man," analyzing the char-acter of Absalom for the benefit of the young men in his large congregation. The reverend gentleman deducted considerable valuable and practical advice from his sermon which should prove of great as sistance to the younger members of his church in meeting the temptations of ev-ery-day life. Dr. Hawxhurst is engaged in a very useful task in preaching a series of sermons on the common sins of the day which are seldom denounced in the pulpit. He does not, however, rest content with a mere denunciation, but follows up his re-
