VERY QUIET ELECTION DAY

Little Excitement at Any of the Polling Places in the City.

Candidate Hoban Charges Fraud-Conn cils Will Probably Be a Tie on Joint Ballot-An Independent from First and Citizen's from Twentieth.

The result of yesterday's battle in his city will leave the councils of the city a tie on joint ballot if the claims of the Democrats are correct. In two wards men who ran as independent candidates and were elected are claimed by the Democratic party.

The select council prior to the re tirement of A. T. Connell of the Twentieth ward stood thirteen Republicans and eight Democrats. If Mr. Coyne, the new member from the Twentieth ward, votes with the Democrats the new select council will stand twelve to nine. There will be no change in the political complexion of the common ouncil. It will continue to have twelve Democratic and nine Republican members, providing Mr. Loftus, the independent member from the First ward. votes with the Democrats, as the members of that party last night said he will. In the event of such action by Mr. Coyne and Mr. Loftus, the councils will be a tie on joint ballot. The standing of the new councils will be as

All over the city it was unusually quiet for an election day. Except to oters or anxious candidates there was nothing to indicate that an election was transpiring. There was even an absence of excitement and strife in the icinity of the booths, save in wards ere and there where a contest was in follows: progress for aldermanic and council-The day was void of all that uncerdection of municipal, county, state or o bring in tardy voters, no gossiping brongs on the street corners, no hotheaded betting, no general anxiety and but few fights which usually feature an exciting election. Business men paid little attention to what was going on terday for the Young Men's Christian as- and at midnight the returns showed a remarkably light voic.

Concerning the peculiar mayoralty election in Philadelphia there were more inquiries on the streets than con-cerning the election in Scranton. The Tribune's telephones were kept conveying answers to "How is Phila-delphia going?" or "Is it Warwick or " This disinterestedness conerning local returns is due to the fact that no city officers were elected in The taxes committee will meet at 7.30 Scranton. Neither politicians nor cititens seemed to care what transpired in the city generally. The politicians concerned themselves only with the results in their own wards, and the public was apparently lukewarm to everything.

Lively Fight in the Eighth.

One of the wards which showed marked exception to the general apathy was the Eighth, where W. S. Millar, Republican, was elected alderman by 78 majority over John Fitzsimmons, the Democratic candidate and the present incumbent of the office. Of late years the Eighth ward has been considered doubtful fighting ground with chances slightly in favor of a Republican vote There were 568 votes polled as against 550 votes polled in the state election last November. These figures best tell the amount of work done in the Eighth ward yesterday.

Seldom in the history of West Side politics has there been as much uncertainty and strife as that which attended the aldermanic contest in the Fifteenth ward between Daniel Moses, Republican, and T. T. Morgan, the Democratic candidate. The friends of the candidates indulged in some 'very warm discussions during the day, but no disturbances occurred. Mr. Moses was elected by over a hundred ma-

Seamans, Republican, obtained nolds, Democrat, for common council in the Thirteenth ward. Mr. Seamans will succeed Thomas B. Howe, a Republican incumbent. For P. P. Smith, the Prohibitionist candidate, 52 votes were east; for Mr. Reynolds, 297 votes; for Mr. Seamans, 281 votes. In the Sixteenth ward, where all the Republican minor candidates received more votes than their Democratic opponents, L. P. Zeidler, a Democrat, was elected to common council by 66 majority over Walter E. Davis, Republican. Thomas Norton, Democrat, was reelected to common council from the Twenty-first ward. In the strong Democratic Seventh M. F. Gilroy, Democratic, received 166 majority over W. H. Smallridge, to sucseed J. W. McClean, Democrat, in common council. Fraud Charged in the Third Ward.

Considerable trouble was experienced in the Third ward, where only Democratic candidates were running for common council and the lesser offices. The polls were closed at 6 o'clock. Fraud is claimed by one candidate each for common council and assessor of voters, and they will contest the result. James Grier, the present incumbent, Thomas Hoban and James J. Gallagher, all Democrats, were on the ticket for common council. According to the returns, when the polls closed Democratic cardidate for at 6 o'clock, Mr. Grier will be returned courcit, did not poll as many votes as by 52 plurality. Mr. Hoban claims that his colleague, but he attained a pluralorder to shut out a large number of his publican. The vote follows in detail: prospective votes.

RESULT BY WARDS.

TROUBLE IN THE THIRD WARD Number of Votes Cast for the Several Candidates. The voting in the different wards of the city resulted as follows:

Fifth District-Alderman, L. N. Roberts, H., 22; P. J. Clark, D., 28.

Third Ward.

From the Third comes charges of irregularity among the three Demeratic candidates for common council. On the face of the returns James Grier received 52 plurality to succeed himself. There were no Republican nominee in either district. Thomas Hoban claims that the polls were closed one hour earlier than the legal time in order to prevent a large number of his friends from voting. M. J. Nolan received 37 votes for assessor of voters in the Second district; John McNulty received $5 votes. The former claims that Mr. McNulty withdrew from the contest thirty days ago, although his name was printed on the ticket. Mr. Nolan last night said he would contest. Both are Democrats. The detailed vote is as

Sixth Ward.

The returns in the Second district of the Sixth were not hung outside the booth, so the complete returns from this ward cannot be given. However John W. Millet, the Democratic candi date for alderman, received 70 plurality in the First and Third districts over Edward Harris, Republican. It is rea sonably certain that Mr. Millet is elected, as the Second district is Democratic. The vote in detail follows, with one district missing:

First District-Alderman, Edward Harris, R., 5; John W. Millet, D., 206, Asssor of voters, John Casey, D. Judge of election, P. F. Calpin, D. Inspector of election, Michael Regan, D.; John McGrenvy, R. Third District—Alderman, Edward
