The lecture will be under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of Calvary Episcopal church, and the proceeds will be devoted to the building fund of the church.
 Mr. Stubblebine spent June, July and August last year in that far-off land, and while there gained much information regarding this country and the custom and mode of living of its strange inhabitants. NEW MEMBERS OF SELECT
J. A. Lansing and T. J. Coyne Sworn in at Last Night's Meeting.
OPPOSED TO THE PUSH CARTS
 Merchants Ask Councils to Have Them Removed from the Streets—Ordinance for a Sewer on the West Side Passes on Third Reading.

The new members who were elected Tuesday were sworn in at last night's meeting of select council. They are James A. Lansing, who succeeds Sheriff Frank H. Clemons in the Seventeenth ward, and Thomas J. Coyne, who succeeds Representative Alex. T. Connell in the Twentieth.
 Mr. Lansing has a prominent connection with the central board of trade and is president of the Scranton Stove works. Mr. Coyne is principal of the Greenwood grammar school in Lackawanna township.

Camelion Duror, of the Eighth ward, introduced a petition signed by a long list of the merchants of this city asking councils to take some action in suppressing what the petition termed a rank nuisance. It referred to the number of push carts and hand wagons now tolerated on the streets to the detriment of the merchants who pay high rent and a license. The petition alleged that in other cities this nuisance does not exist.
 Mr. Manley imparted the information to Mr. Duror that there is an ordinance now in effect, but it may not be in force, which prohibits these street merchants from doing business. The matter was thereupon referred to its proper committee to act in conjunction with the mayor.

Sewer for West Side.
 Mr. Thomas called up the ordinance providing for the construction of a sewer, commencing on North Main avenue at the Mount Pleasant ravine, thence along Main avenue to Howell street, to Decker court, along Decker court to Lafayette street, to Hyde Park avenue. Also a branch thereof, commencing at the intersection of Decker court and Swetland street, extending southeasterly on Swetland street 160 feet, and directing that the expense of construction shall be paid by assessments on abutting property. The ordinance passed third and final reading.
 Two other ordinances passed third reading, one providing for the erection of an electric light at the stone arch on Bridge street in the Eighth ward, and an ordinance providing for the erection of an electric light at Alder street and the Lackawanna river in the Eleventh ward. A number of exemptions of dog tax and abatement of assessments were read and referred to the board of city assessors.

To Succeed Patrolman Hagg.
 A communication from Mayor Connell recommended the name of Patrick F. May, of the First ward, as a regular patrolman in the place of Harry C. Haag, resigned. The recommendation was referred to the police committee. The names of Thomas H. Allen and William H. Kime, as engineer and stoker respectively for the Franklin Engine company, were submitted by the mayor and the recommendation was referred to the fire committee.
 Another communication from Mayor Connell was received in regard to levying a tax for the purpose of devising means to meet the expense of buying or the ground upon which is included in Nay Ave park. As a majority of the qualified electors of Scranton voted for the parks the statutes of the state confer the power upon councils of cities of the third class to make an assessment specially for the expense of purchasing ground for the parks and voted for Mayor Connell recommended the levy of a 1-mill tax for this purpose. The communication was received and referred to the estimates committee.

DR. SPRAGUE'S DENIAL.
 He Refutes Certain Reports Concerning Wyoming Seminary.
 Rev. Dr. Sprague, president of Wyoming seminary, has issued the following denial of a sensational story recently printed in a number of vicinity papers: "The attention of the press is called to the gross exaggerations contained in sensational accounts of alleged disorder at Wyoming seminary. These accounts are essentially untrue. The features that make them at all worthy of newspaper note are absolutely false. In the accounts referred to, there was no breaking into the ladies' department whatever. There were no intoxication, no riot, no rebellion, and no suppression of the faculty. The stramen had nothing to do with the circumstance, trifling as it was, and Messrs. Rymer and Reese were not expelled.

 "The grossly exaggerated accounts of the affair published by the newspapers have done more to injure the patrons of the school, and the school itself, grave injustice."
IT'S A MERE GUESS.
 State of Affairs in the School Board Reorganization.

A peculiar condition of affairs is presented in connection with the coming reorganization of the school board Tuesday night. Two Republican members are in the race for the presidency and both Democrats and Republicans will split in voting for them.
 Two weeks ago a caucus was called by the Republican members to select a candidate for president. All of the Republicans were not present, but those that did attend informally hit upon Dr. Schriever, of the Sixteenth ward, as the most likely timber. Recently Geo. B. Carson, of the Fifth ward, has been selected as the other candidate.
 From present indications it cannot be said who is most likely to be elected. The board is composed of twelve Republicans and nine Democrats.

ROSTOSKY JURY OUT.
 Case Given to it for Consideration at Noon Session.
 Lackawanna county's criminal calendar was yesterday cleared of murder cases when the Rostosky trial ended and the jury retired to its room to deliberate upon a verdict. There is, of course, one more murder, that which was perpetrated a few weeks ago on the South Washington avenue flat, but the criminal in that case is yet unapprehended.
 Court opened yesterday at 8:30 and ex-Judge W. H. Stanton addressed the jury in behalf of the defendant. The feature of the plea was the argument in favor of Rostosky's acquittal on the self-defense. Judge Stanton's address was a careful rehearsal of the evidence, and the strong points in favor of the defendant were commented upon forcibly.
 District Attorney Jones argued to the jury in favor of a first degree verdict, and very unsparingly alluded to the disposition in other jurisdictions in this county to commit murder without any provocation. The district attorney finished his eloquent argument in less than an hour, and then Judge Albright opened his charge. It was a comprehensive and most impartial recapitulation of the evidence and a clear, vigorous expounding of the statutes relating to the crime of murder.
 Judge Albright did not gloss over any of the circumstances in order to create a feeling for the defendant. He instructed the jurors that they were sworn to do justice between the parties at the bar and the commonwealth regardless of the consequences to the defendant; they had heard both sides of the case and if they believed that the murder was done in self-defense, the defendant should be acquitted, or if a reasonable doubt, fairly arising from the evidence, should enter their minds, the defendant should receive the benefit of that doubt and be acquitted then. Court also impressed the jurymen with the grave responsibility of their task and ordered them to give due consideration to the interests of the defendant.

Jury Sent Out to Deliberate.
 All of the law points submitted by the defendant's counsel were, except two, confirmed. The jury retired a few minutes before noon and immediately prepared to go out to dinner. Judge Albright left on an afternoon train for his home in Allentown. Before his leaving an agreement was reached so that Judge Archibald can take the verdict. Tipstaffs Walsh and Franz were placed in charge of the jury.
THE WHITE CROOK.
 An Enthusiastic Reception Accorded to This Company at Davis' Theater.
 An enthusiastic reception was yesterday accorded to the "White Crook" company at Davis' theatre by two crowded audiences. The performance opened with a charming musical burlesque entitled "A Royal Reception" in which the ladies and gentlemen of the company create renewed peals of laughter by the succession of comic situations.
 This is followed by some clever specialty work. Ward and Leslie are very humorous in their comic sketches, while Jenny Lamont and Josie Love perform some clever feats in their original novelty act. Emma Rose Lee, the vocalist and dancing soubrette, displayed great talent and was compelled to repeat her performance. Sanford and Lee, comedians, caused roars of laughter by their droll talk and songs. Miss Pearl Bradburn sings some excellent topical songs.
 The performance concludes with the "White Crook," which is placed in three scenes, concluding with a grand tableau, "North and South United."
