Mr. Quay Presents Resolutions of the Manufacturers' Club.

THE DELAWARE RIVER BRIDGE

Proposition to Suspend Work Upon the Structure Is Warmly Contested-A Twelve Hour Session In the House of Representatives.

By the United Press, Washington, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday furnished the staple of the chaplain's opening prayer in the sen-te today. His petition was that the influence of that noble character should transmute the life and character of every American boy and man in this and all future times.

against a policy which, after impoverishing the American people by prostrating their industries and subjecting them new and wholly useless burdens of debt," and requesting the representatives of the state of Pennsylvania to voice the indignation of the plea and to demand that the treasury credit shall be strengthened solely by the obtainment of revenue from imports.

Mr. Quay moved to take up the motion made by Mr. McPherson, New Jersey, about a week ago, to reconsider the vote by which the joint resolution suspending work on the proposed bridge across the Delaware river at Philadelphia until after examination by a commission of army engineers to decide whether the bridge would be an unreathe river. The motions was agreed todebatable-so that he might make a few remarks; but Mr. Quay declined to The vote on the motion to lay on the table was being taken when the vicepresident announced the close of the morning hour and that the infinished business-the Indian appropriation bill -was before the senate.

Mr. Quay moved to lay the Indian appropriation bill on the table and proceed to vote. This motion being a debateable one, Mr. McPherson made a statement of the facts in the case and opposed the suspension of the work on the bridge; and Mr. Frye (Maine) remarked that there were 800 men on bridge who would be discharged if the joint resolution passed.

Gorman (Maryland) appealed to senators to let the matter go over till tomorrow and vote on it at 12 noon. That arrangement met with favor on both sides, and was agreed to.

House Celebrates the Day. George Washington's birthday was celebrated by the house today by sitting almost twelve hours with a recess from 5 to 8 o'clock this evening. It assembled at 11 o'clock under the order made vesterday and adjourned tonight at 10.30. The day session was occupied mainly in the consideration of the deficiency bill for the year, which was begun Thursday. There were matters which gave rise to extended debate. The first was the paragraph appropriating $140,000 to be paid by the attorney general for expenses in enforcing the orders of United States courts for the protection of propery in the hands of receivers during the railroad strike of last summer. This was antagonized by Mr. Livingstone (Georgia) and Boatner (Louisiana) and criticized by Mr. Breckinridge (Kentucky), and advocated by Messrs. Cannon (Illinois), Henderson (Iowa), and Sayers (Texas). An amendment was agreed to on motion by Mr. Baker (New Hampshire) directing the attorney general to report in detail to congress the disbursements under the appropriation, and in that form the item remained in the bill,

The concurrent resolution passed by the senate yesterday expressing the gratification of congress at the honors paid by the government of Mexico to e late Hon, Isaac P. Gray, minister to that country, was agreed to.

Before taking the recess at 5 o'clock, under the rule the house passed the senate bill postponing, at the request of Great Britain, the enforcement of the international regulations of August, 1890, to prevent collisions at sea.

At 8 o'clock the house reassembled for session of two and a half hours to he devoted to the consideration of private pension bills.

There are a number whether the bridge would be an unreasonable obstruction to the commerce of the river. The motions was agreed to exchange, and to prevent exports of ground where Phillips met his death is gold, the transaction has, indeed, greatly changed the financial situation in spite of the fact that government revenues are still deficient and that domestic trade shows scarcely any gain as yet. The industries are not enlarging productiom nor have prices of farm products improved. But a very important source of apprehension and hindrance has for the time at least been removed.

The volume of domestic trade represented by exchanges is but little larger than that last year, with allowance for difference of working days, and $2.5 per cent, smaller than two years ago. The more accurate test, the daily average for the month, is 6.8 per cent, larger than last year, but 34.4 per cent, smaller than in 1893. Railroad earnings do not fairly represent general conditions on account of the severe and extensive storms, though trade as well as transportation was checked by the delay of orders, malls and shipments; but earnings for February thus far have been 5.5 per cent, less than last year, and 19.8 per cent, less than in 1893, the largest loss being on southern roads, where such interruption by snow is

STAMPING GROUND FOR CRIME

Meanderings of the Missouri River the Real Cause of the Murder of Robert Phillips Somewhere Between Iowa and Nebraska.

Tekamah, Neb., Feb. 22.—The peculiar meanderings of the Missouri river have been responsible for more violent crimes in Burt county than all other causes put together. Sudden Muddy have caused numerous disputes over land titles, which the courts have resolutions of the Manufacturers' club, of Philiadelphia, "Solemnly protesting nearlist a pollow which can be settled by the satisfactorily to claimants and lawyers. The murder of Robert Phillips two growing out of this condition of affairs, and while the crime was a most cold blooded one, the murderer is at liberty because of the fact that the officers of Burt county are convinced that they have no jurisdiction in the case, and the Iowa officials do not profive miles east of Tekamah, and the title of it is now being contested in the courts. Fred Lass, a young man who thought that possession was "nine points of the law," carried some timber on the land while the case was in court and built a hut, in which he placed several men to hold possession. One of these men was Phillips. In the meantime some parties, as yet unknown, hired a gang of men to drive the squatters off. On the night of Feb. 8 an attack was made on the Lass shanty, and the four men in charge surrendered. After they had come out of the shanty and were standing with their hands in the air, James P. Blann, the leader of the attacking party. opened fire on them, and Phillips was so severely wounded that he died inside of twenty-four hours. The Authorities Timid. Blann escaped, but was later cap-tured and placed in jail, only to be released when the caunty authorities had investigated and discovered that the nade to have the low death of Phillips will go unavenged.

Just three years ago a man was killed on the very same spot and no arrests were made. Owing to the legal complications, none of this land where the crime was committed is taxed by the sounty.

On another tract of accretion land, welve miles northeast of Tekamah, a dispute arose over the ownership, when one Wils Wilson struck an antagonist with a heavy club and beat him into insensibility Monday evening. The fellow's recovery is doubtful.

On Holman's Island, a tract of several hundred acres cut off from lowa and owned by I. N. Holman, about fifteen miles north, or near Decatur, on the east, a free fist fight and slugging match took place a week or so ago, in which a young man by the name of Stevens was so hammered up that he has since died and no efforts have been made toward prosecution.
