FOR THE LAST TIME. Miss Bertha Macurdy conducts the Sunday Meeting at Y. W. C. A.

With great regret the directors of the Young Women's Christian association have accepted the resignation of Miss Bertha Macurdy, who has for over four years successfully acted as secretary of the association on Wyoming avenue. Yesterday being the last day on which Miss Macurdy would be officially connected with the association, she conducted the weekly meeting for young women. The spacious room was thronged, although by special desire of Miss Macurdy the meeting did not partake of the character of a farewell gathering.

The meeting was one of the most impressive held in the rooms, as the amiable and thoughtful lady has endeavored herself to the hearts of many girls, who felt the severance deeply. The cause of the resignation is regretted inasmuch as Miss Macurdy is suffering from overwork and her physicians have forbidden her to continue in her office, as it would in all probability entail a complete breakdown in her health.

No arrangements have yet been made for the appointment of a successor. The position is a responsible one.

AND THE POLICEMAN DID.

What followed the kick by one of the "beat" citizens.

A comfortably clad and middle-aged laboring man in a partially intoxicated condition swaggered up to Patrolman T. Jones, at the corner of Main avenue and Jackson street Saturday and said: "See, here, Mr. Policeman, you ain't 'fraid of no one."

"That's so? What's the trouble?" asked the bluecoat.

"Why, I'm drunk and you order run me in."

"Oh, you're all right; you'd better hurry along home."

"Now look a 'ere, I protest as a citizen against the appearance of even partially inebriated persons roaming like so many cattle around the streets. If you half know your business—" Patrolman Jones evidently did know his business, for he politely acceded to the partially inebriated citizen's request and locked him up.

The prisoner pleaded in vain for his release and increased his offer of bribes from $2 to $50 in cash during all of Saturday night, but to no avail.

In yesterday morning's police court he paid a fine of $2 and left the city hall saying things—bad things. He was James Donnelly, aged 32 years, a stone cutter, living on the South Side.

Yesterday the services were almost continuous from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m. A "musical treat" was provided. Several recitals were given in the afternoon meeting. A great Hindu meeting will be held at 8 o'clock this evening, when Major and Mrs. Halbin, Major and Mrs. Harris and Captain and Mrs. Frank Hart will have charge of the army.

One of the old-fashioned "love feasts and breaking of bread" was held at the Howard Place African Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon. Presiding, Rev. H. Brown, D.D., conducting the services. It is worthy of note that the colored section of the Methodist Episcopal church clings closely to the usage initiated in the early Methodist church, while the majority of the churches discard the old practices which they taught to their colored brethren. Elder Brown preached two powerful sermons to large congregations.

"How Should I Keep Lent?" was the appropriate theme of the Rev. E. L. Miller's sermon yesterday morning. The reverend gentleman discoursed upon the ancient meaning of the history and observance of Lent. The special duties of Lent he described as "fasting, if you see fit," a simple, formal fasting was wrong, as was fasting for ostentatious display. Fasting should not interfere with labor and health. Fasting was not meritorious in God's sight, but special attention should be given to repentance, faith and goodness. There were things to be avoided—feasting, luxury and sensuous pleasures.

On Wednesday—Ash Wednesday—the inauguration of Lenten services will be observed in several of the city churches. At St. Luke's church services will be held at 10:30 a. m. and 7:15 p. m. Special services will be held twice on each day during Lent. On Saturdays an organ recital will be given at 4 p. m. as a part of the afternoon service. Ash Wednesday will be observed at St. David's church, Jackson street, when matins will be sung at 10 a. m. During the Lenten season services will be held daily, excepting Saturdays. Services will also be held during the morning at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Green Ridge. Daily services will also be held, excepting Saturdays, at St. Peter's cathedral, St. Patrick's church, Hyde Park; Holy Rosary church, Providence; St. Paul's church, Green Ridge; and St. John's church, South Side, there will be masses each morning, a sermon followed by benediction of the blessed sacrament on Wednesday evenings, and the stations of the cross and benediction on Friday evenings. Special services will be held on Wednesday also at the Holy Trinity Lutheran church, St. Mark's church, Washburn Street Lutheran Mission, chapel of the Holy Zion German church, Millin avenue; St. Peter's German church, Prescott avenue, and at Christ church, Cedar avenue. Lenten lectures will also be delivered on Friday evenings.

MISSION AT CATHEDRAL.

It Will Be Conducted by Three Jesuit Missionaries.

FATHER BUCHHOLZ IN CHARGE.

His Assistants Are Father Haza, a Silesian Count, and Father Neumuller, Who Labored for Eleven Years as a Missionary in the East Indies.

Three Jesuit fathers, Rev. L. Buchholz, Rev. M. Neumuller, and Rev. A. DeHaza, from St. Ignatius college, Cleveland, O., opened a men's mission at St. Peter's cathedral yesterday. This week it is for married men and next week for single men.

Father Buchholz will be remembered as the same eloquent priest who conducted the mission for women, which was held at the cathedral three months ago. Father DeHaza is a remarkable man. He was born in Silesia, Germany, of noble birth and at present possesses the title of count. His parents were very wealthy but he gave up all claims on his education; so that he, being a most studious and apt pupil, acquired a magnificent degree of learning.

He cared nothing for the pleasures and honors of a secular pursuit and preferred to become a laborer in the Master's vineyard. He is not an old man, apparently not more than 50 years. He has been only six months in this country, coming here from England, where he had been for some time. Prior to his reaching England he remained in his own country. He is very averse to telling anything about his past as a pupil orator he is regarded among the foremost.

The other priests joyfully call him "The Count." He has a beaming countenance and always a smiling expression. Father Neumuller is also but a short while in this country. He was a missionary for eleven years among the heathens of Bombay, in the East Indies. He is renowned for his piety and devotion to his calling and is a magnetic speaker. His hearers are strongly impressed with the logic and earnestness of his preaching.

Opening the Mission.

The 10:30 mass was celebrated by Rev. M. J. Millane and at its close Father Buchholz came upon the altar and in an introductory sermon opened the mission. He spoke of the approaching season of Lent as the acceptable time to return to God. He then made the announcements for the coming week of the mission.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a large congregation had assembled and Father Neumuller preached a beautiful sermon. He said that every step in a man's life is a step toward the end. Man's life is like the vapors mentioned in the Scriptures; they are here for a moment and then vanish.

A man's body may fall to pieces; this world may dissolve, but the soul is immortal and will never die. Our souls are like our Maker, imperishable; the body is not the soul's resting place.

Time is short. This is a perishable and a miserable life, and all must pass out of it. Therefore, how foolish and blind are those Christians who love the sinful pleasures of this life to the detriment of their souls; those who prefer the honors of this world to the honors of the kingdom of heaven. Men are not pilgrims on this life, as Saint Augustine says, merely visitors. All this world will pass away and then eternity. Here Father Neumuller gave a description of how utterly impossible it is for a man to grasp the image of eternity.

What Our Destiny Is.

The destiny of man on this sphere is to serve God, hereafter to adore Him and enjoy his presence forever. Our Heavenly Father desires us for an eternity of happiness; in heaven man will be in company so choice that nothing on this earth can compare with it. The speaker related the incident between Sir Thomas More and his daughter, Margaret. When England's monarch, King Henry VIII, was excommunicated from the church, Sir Thomas was thrown into prison and sentenced to death because he refused to acknowledge allegiance to the king, remaining true to the sovereign pontiff at Rome. Margaret went to her father in prison and begged of him to acknowledge the king. Sir Thomas said how long would he enjoy the favors of the king? "O, father, you will live twenty long years!" said the daughter. "My child, my child," replied Sir Thomas, "what are twenty years compared with eternity?"

The Evening Sermon.

Father De Haza preached in the evening and discussed the necessity of religion, or rather he unveiled the true picture of what irreligion is. So many Catholics believe that they are doing enough for God if they abstain from committing serious crimes, and these are the worst kind of sinners; they are like the Pharisees of old. It is not enough for God, not to offend Him seriously; however shall enter the kingdom of heaven not only must lead a sinless life, but he must lead a pious and holy life. The sinner cannot enter the kingdom of heaven, and although the sinner may be forgiven and die repentant, for there is no end to the mercy of God, still penance must be done for sin, if not in this world, it must be done in purgatory.

Father De Haza has the gift of putting his thoughts in grand, yet simple language, clothing them with magnetic feelings, and arousing the congregation to high moral motives. He proclaimed the love of God than His justities; instead of exciting in his hearers the fear of everlasting punishment, he enkindled in their hearts a love for the God who came down from His high throne of glory in heaven and died upon the disgraceful wood of the cross to save sinful man from his sins.

Upon the mission which these noble fathers are entering in this city, the prayers will arise from every Christian lip that they may accomplish untold good in the reclamation of the sinner.

Every morning during the mission there will be a mass and short sermon at 5 o'clock at 8 o'clock a mass and sermon for all the congregation; and each evening a sermon and benediction at 7:30.

THE GREAT MISSIONARY.

Rev. Mr. Watkins Discourses on the Life of Dr. Gordon.

The North Main Avenue Baptist church was well filled last night when Rev. W. G. Watkins preached an eloquent sermon in memory of Dr. Adoniram Judson Gordon, who died in Boston the early part of this month. The reverend gentleman took his text from II Samuel, III, 28, where David, on Finishing and Furnishing Fund Is Being Helped Along.

BUSINESS MAN'S POSITION

Saturday's Contributions Are from Young and Old in Many Walks of Life. What Two West Side Boys Did.

The $12.62 received Saturday for the Finishing and Furnishing fund swells the amount up to the grand total of $29.47.

The letter of Mrs. Thomas Dickson, who sent $10, is reproduced: "Cast X" is a gentleman of moderate means well known for his liberality with public movements and charitable work; Max Phillips and Clarence Coons earned their 25 cents by giving a marble-lantern exhibition on the West Side, and Paul Holgate says he earned his 12 cents by shoveling snow—altogether the list of one day's contributions well illustrate the general interest in a good cause.

Will Encourage Others.

The well-wishes of a woman so well known for her good deeds and kindly interest in connection with many public movements in the past as Mrs. Thomas Dickson, cannot help but encourage others to contribute toward the Finishing and Furnishing fund; Editor of The Tribune:

Enclosed you will find my check of ten dollars toward the Young Men's Christian association Finishing and Furnishing fund.

Trusting you may find you most assuredly will be very successful in your undertaking, I am very sincerely yours,
Mrs. Thomas Dickson,
Scranton, Feb. 23, 1895.

Max Phillips and Clarence Coons can have the satisfaction of knowing that their 25 cents is just as gratefully acknowledged as the largest sum yet received. The boys earned the money by an entertainment and have unashamedly turned it in toward the fund. Their letter, which follows, indicates that in them the association has two ardent members:

Dear Mr. Editor:

Me and Clarence gave a Marble Lantern show last week in Hyde Park. We did not have very much luck with our show as we only made $5. We belong to the gym and we want to see the gym fixed this summer and we want to do all we can to help furnish the building and when we get bigger we will give you more.
Clarence Coons,
Max Phillips.

Does This Mean You?

For those members of the association who feel that they are receiving more than the amount of their yearly dues, no better opportunity will be offered for "squandering" themselves than now. It wouldn't realize any great amount of money.

FIVE DIVORCES GRANTED.

Work Did by Judges in Court on Saturday.

Claude B. Holly, of Park Place, was on Saturday granted a divorce from Corah Holly. The couple were married in 1891 and resided at Hyde Park. A young man named Westcott was their neighbor and he was named as the co-respondent in the present divorce proceedings. The testimony heard in the case was of a somewhat unsavory character. The couple lived together until Dec. 5 last. The work of securing a divorce was carried on most expeditiously and the decree was granted.

Charles S. Edwards, an expression, was granted a divorce from Susie L. Edwards. She became Mrs. Edwards at Hartford, Susquehanna county, Dec. 21, 1889, and deserted her husband in this city in 1886.

A divorce was also granted to Mrs. Kate J. Boyce Fuller from G. Gordon Fuller. They were married Nov. 25, 1886, at Leslie, N. Y., but Mr. Fuller offered such indignities to his wife as to compel her to leave him on March 25, 1892.

Other cases in which divorces were granted were Roberts against Roberts and Turner against Turner.

LOCAL SPORTING NOTES.

A match has been arranged between Harry Conroy, of this city, known as "Phine Knoll," and Jack Carroll, of Brooklyn. The fight will take place on March 9 and will be a finish with four-round gloves. The fight will be paid off for a purse of $150 a side. Carroll claims to have thirty-one victories to his credit. The men will meet at catch weight, about 140 lbs. The result of the contest is manifested in sporting circles.

On Monday evening, April 22, the members of the Excelsior Athletic club of this city will conduct their annual spring tournament. The place where it will be held has not been engaged. A letter has been received from the secretary of the North Side Athletic club, of Pittsburg, asking if members of the Excelsior intended to enter the annual tournament of the National Amateur Union of Athletes of the United States, which will be held next month, under the auspices of the Pittsburg club. The sentiment among the members was against any of their number going to Pittsburg, but the matter was left entirely in the hands of Captain J. D. Purser of the club.

An effort is being made to bring together in the little arena James Judge, of Stone avenue, and Jack Carroll, of Brooklyn. Before Judge forsook the amateur ring to fight for money, he was the most formidable youngster in the Excelsior Athletic club. Carroll came here recently from Brooklyn, looking for a match and declares he can beat any gentleman in that city to put up money on him.

At any rate Judge has grown heavier and would not be much out of his class. If Carroll enters for a match with Judge, and can get backing Judge will meet him willingly.

"WE'RE RIGHT IN THE PUSH."

When the advertising atmosphere is so heavily charged with exaggeration, it is well to remember who the honest advertisers are. Windy assertions about GREAT reductions—advertising goods at impossible prices, find no lodging place in the minds of intelligent people. Dull trade throughout the legitimate business season may make necessary, wild statements from some clothiers to attract trade, but the schemers will have to scheme harder and find new disguises for their lame excuses before they can stop the people from coming to this store for honest values. The triumph of this store is the triumph of intelligence, and you have made it so. Trade has been up to the mark here, yet there's a touch of attractiveness in the styles and assortments. We've added another and more talking attraction—REDUCED PRICES, natural order of things here at this season: LOWER PRICES than you find ELSEWHERE.
