RECITAL AT MEARS' HALL

It Was Given by the Pupils of Miss Kittle Cummings—Accident Sustained by Mrs. William Dolmetsch—Death of John Williams—Personal News.

Miss Kittle Cummings, teacher of elocution, and her pupils gave their first public recital at Mears' hall last night. They were assisted by Miss Harriet Ward, violinist, and William Shean, dramatic elocutionist. The recital attracted a large audience, showing the interest that is felt in the work Miss Cummings is doing as well as in the pupils who are being instructed by her. Miss Cummings began the entertainment with a piano solo, and then Miss Lida McCabe recited "Sister and I" with feeling and expression. After a vocal solo by Miss Name Finnerty, Miss Loretta Fahy rendered with splendid effect the lines in "Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight." A violin solo by Miss Ward won high praise for its delicate rendition, and after a recitation by Miss Anna Weisenfuh, Mr. Shean gave a sketch, entitled "McClain," in a manner that captivated the audience and called forth a hearty encore. Next was rendered by Miss Name Finnerty, Miss Loretta Fahy, Miss Sullivan and Miss Katie V. Cummings, Miss Cynthia Quackebush, Miss Sadie McGuire and Miss Etta Caddie. The tableaux "Sunflower" and "Position" showed artistic posing. The entertainment closed with a song by Miss "Leah, the Forsaken" by Miss Kittle Cummings. The earnestness, naturalness and dramatic fire she threw into her lines proves that Miss Cummings is an actress as well as an elocutionist of more than ordinary ability.

They Discussed Shakespeare. A large number of the members of the Hyde Park Literary and Debating society met in their rooms last evening and held a most interesting discussion over the characters in Shakespeare's play, "As You Like It." David J. Latta presided. After the regular order of business Emerson Owen opened with an essay on the play in general. The character of Orlando was described by Charles E. Danlels and the peculiarities of Rosina and Celia were portrayed by Herbert J. Latta. A general discussion followed after which a general discussion followed. The meeting was interesting and enjoyed by those who attended.

Broke Her Leg. Mrs. Dolmetsch, wife of William Dolmetsch, the headwaiter at Goldsmith's Bazaar, sustained a broken leg yesterday morning about 9 o'clock by falling on the ice. Mrs. Dolmetsch intended calling on a friend and had her baby in her arms. She had hardly taken a dozen steps from the house when the accident occurred. Fortunately, by making a great effort, she saved her child from harm. She was carried to her home on North Sumner avenue, where Dr. A. A. Lindbury was called and set the bone. Both bones of the leg were found to be broken just above the ankle.

Funeral of John Williams. The funeral of John N. Williams, who died at his home in Decker's court on Sunday afternoon, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home. Services will be conducted in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church.

A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. John's church on Pig street, and interment will be made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery. HE BROKE ALL RECORDS.

That's What a Pittsburg Paper Says of Colonel Herman Osthaus. The Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph pays the following tribute to Colonel Herman Osthaus of this city: "Colonel Herman Osthaus, the general inspector of rifle practice, appointed during Governor Pattison's term of office, was born near the village of Overton, in Sullivan county, this state, about forty years ago. He was educated in the common schools; took a course at Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., studied at the University of Heidelberg, in Germany, and took a course in law at Ann Arbor, Mich. He has since practiced as a lawyer at Scranton, Pa. Colonel Osthaus has been a member of the National Guard of Pennsylvania since May, 1878. At that time he enlisted as a private in Company A, Thirtieth regiment. One year after his enlistment the company qualified as marksmen every one of its members, and has done so every year since. In 1887 he was appointed regimental inspector of rifle practice for the Thirtieth regiment. In the second year of his term he secured the qualification as marksman of every man in the regiment, and that regiment has since, and was the first regiment that ever qualified all its members.

In 1891 he was appointed upon the staff of Governor Pattison as general inspector of rifle practice. At that time the Pennsylvania National Guard qualified as marksmen about half its membership. During the past year he secured the qualification of 8,575 men, being substantially the entire National Guard of the state, and established a record never made before.

Dr. and Editor Morse. Finds Great Curative Qualities in a Simple Remedy. (From the Westfield, N. J., Leader.) The fact of the editor of the Leader being a physician of the old school, encourages some of us to ask why we kick ourselves and quackery. We do hate charlatans the worst way; that's a fact. But every proprietary medicine isn't a quack medicine. In some cases we believe as devoutly as we do in calomel and quinine. There, for example, is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. It has our faith. We know that because we believe in it has fully approved itself as containing just those ingredients which every physician knows the materia medica to indicate for the disorders for which the remedy is prescribed. In clinical experience its further proof has not been wanting, as we have reason to know. We have no hesitancy in saying that we would prescribe the remedy in any case where it is really indicated.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has no rival as a blood-purifier and nerve food. It has met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all diseases of the skin, liver, kidneys and the blood. It restores the disordered liver to a healthy condition, and factually cures the worst cases of habitual constipation. It has cured cases of Bright's disease, erysipelas, rheumatism, dyspepsia, gravel, sciatica, bladder and urinary troubles, where all else has failed.

It is a certain cure for all the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females, and affords great protection from all that originate in change of life. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is for sale by all dealers in medicine at one dollar a bottle or six bottles for five dollars. Write for a treatment within the reach of all.
