

NORTON'S BULLETIN.

March Ladies' Home Journal 10c.
March Godey's Magazine 10c.
March McClure's Magazine 15c.
March Scribner's Monthly 25c.
March Harper's Monthly 35c.
The Delicater for Spring 15c.
Art de La Mode for Spring 35c.
Bon Ton Fashions for Spring 35c.
25c. Paper Cover Novels for 5c.
35c. Cloth Cover Books for 15c.
35c. Cloth Cover Classics for 17c.
50c. Cloth Cover Classics for 35c.
A Large Assortment Standard Authors.
25c. Box Good Paper and Envelopes 15c.
50c. Pasteboard Box Letter File 25c.
All the Good, Desirable New Books.
Temporary Store, 115 Wyoming Avenue

A Foe to Dyspepsia

GOOD BREAD
USE THE

Snow White FLOUR

And Always Have Good Bread.

MANUFACTURED AND FOR SALE TO THE TRADE BY

The Weston Mill Co.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS

THE GENUINE POPULAR

Punch Cigars

HAVE THE INITIALS

G. B. & CO.

IMPRINTED ON EACH CIGAR.

Garney, Brown & Co. Mfr's Court House Square.

PERSONAL.

George S. Jessup, of Montrose, is in the city.

Charles M. Silgavsky, of Wilkes-Barre, was in the city yesterday.

Deputy Prothonotary Myron Kasson spent yesterday at Montrose.

R. Scott, Jr., of New York, is in town and will conduct Hull & Co.'s furniture sale.

Patrolman Martin Flaherty is detained at his residence on Cherry street by sickness.

Mrs. John W. Kellow, of Chestnut street, is recovering from a stroke of paralysis.

Miss Estelle Egan, of Adams avenue, is visiting friends at her former home in Middletown, N. Y.

Owen P. Keenly, Wilkes-Barre representative of the Elmira Budget, returned home yesterday after a short trip to this city.

Eugene D. Fellows, secretary of the board of control, is slightly ill from the grip and confined to his home on the West Side.

Mr. King, clerk at the Hotel Terrace, has been succeeded by George E. Danon, formerly clerk at the Tarbell House, Montrose.

Mrs. H. J. Sutherland, son and daughter, of North Washington avenue, left yesterday afternoon for Chicago, where they will remain for a few weeks.

Tuesday was the forty-third anniversary of the birth of Marketman W. H. Pierson, of Penn avenue. His employees, sixteen in number, gathered at his residence, 638 North Washington avenue, and presented him with a Turkish chair as a token of their esteem.

At St. Patrick's Catholic church on the West Side at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening the marriage ceremony which united Miss Lizzie Jordan, of Meridian street, to William Crowley, of Tenth street, was performed by Rev. J. B. Whelan. Miss Nellie Burgan was bridesmaid and Andrew Reilly groomsmen.

The well known manager, Harry Sanford, is in the city in the interest of Robert Mantell. Mr. Sanford, it will be remembered, had charge of the advertising of the "Pompeii" production given at the Driving park four years ago, and it was due to his energetic work that the "Pompeii" syndicate enabled to make money even in the face of the two weeks' rain that welcomed the open air production. During his sojourn in Scranton warm friends and gained the esteem of all with whom he had business relations by his uniform courtesy and honorable methods.

O'BRIEN USED A KNIFE.

Before Doing So He Told Moon He Would Be a Murdered Man.

Patrick O'Brien, of Meridian street, was charged before Alderman Wright yesterday with stabbing L. P. Moon, of 39 Dava street, an engine cleaner. The affray took place on Monday night near Emmett street. The prisoner jumped on one of the Central Jersey engines and Moon put him off. O'Brien jumped up again and attempted to kick Moon in the stomach.

Enraged at his failure he drew a knife and told Moon that he would be a murdered man, at the same time stabbing him in the left arm. The wound was dressed by Dr. Fulton and the injured man was able to appear yesterday and identified the prisoner.

O'Brien did not deny the offense, but claimed that he could not get off the engine as a passenger train was coming down the track. Alderman Wright committed him to the county jail to await his trial.

PURE RICH BLOOD is essential to good health, because the blood is the vital fluid which supplies all the organs with life. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great blood purifier.

HOOD'S PILLS are purely vegetable, harmless, effective, do not pain or gripe.

Telephone 232, W. G. Doud & Co., 509 Lackawanna avenue, for all kinds of plumbing.

BLOODSHED AT DUNMORE

Another Italian Murdered Apparently Without Provocation.

HIS NAME IS VITO LAUSSO

His Assaulters Fired Five Shots at Him. Three Entering His Body—The Other Two Marked the Flesh—Five Men Have Been Arrested.

Vito Lausso, an Italian resident of Dunmore, was murdered at an unknown hour either Tuesday night or early yesterday morning. James Collican on his way to work yesterday morning about daybreak stumbled across the rigid corpse of Lausso, lying prone on the sidewalk on the opposite side of the street in front of J. H. Davitt's bottling establishment on Willow street, and not more than a block from the house where the dead man boarded. The body was frozen into the ice and the life-blood was coagulated in icy lumps on the clothing and the ground.

Lausso's body appeared before it was stirred as if it had been riddled with bullets. Articles found in the pockets of the clothing were an open faced silver watch, a chain with a ring and cheap charm attached, three razors, a scissors, a pocketbook containing two pens, a letter, a pipe and a paper of tobacco with a bullet hole through it.

Five men are now in the county jail awaiting the coroner's inquest, which will be held at the arbitration room in the court house tomorrow night. Their names are Leonardo Rosa, Salvatore Coroneo, Pasquale Bevalacqua, Joseph Fabiano and Joseph Rosa. The latter was taken in charge at 6 o'clock last evening by County Detective Thomas Leshon and lodged in the county jail. The others were arrested early yesterday morning by the police officers of Dunmore.

Indications point to Leonardo Rosa as the murderer, but the proofs are as yet only circumstantial, and the testimony before the coroner's jury tomorrow night may throw some light on an otherwise mysterious murder.

They Called Lausso Out.

Vito Lausso, the murdered Italian, was about 40 years old; his wife and family reside in Italy, and he had been a little over three years in this country. He worked in No. 1 shaft of the Pennsylvania Coal company, and for two months prior to his death had boarded with Leopold Nicoera, at 211 Willow street, only a stone's throw from St. Mary's Catholic church. Nicoera says that himself and Lausso retired to the same bed at 9 o'clock Tuesday night. About an hour afterward four men came to the door, which was locked, as Nicoera's wife had also gone to bed, and they rapped loudly for admittance.

They said they wanted Lausso, Nicoera got up and let the men in, whom he recognized as Leonardo Rosa, Pasquale Bevalacqua, Salvatore Cerminori and Joseph Fabiano. The three latter had masquerade costumes on and their faces were covered, but Nicoera knew them, recognizing them by their voices. Rosa was not masked. They urged Lausso to get up and go out with them; he did so, and as he opened the door and could see a light, he requested him to bring the instrument along. Lausso went out with them at 10 o'clock and never returned. Mrs. Nicoera was sleeping in the room off to the right of the kitchen and she heard all that went on. She sat up in bed, looked out to the kitchen and saw Leonardo Rosa take a revolver out of one pocket of his coat and transfer it to the other. Seeing the revolver and fearing trouble she could not sleep for an hour or so, and she says that about 11 o'clock the men came back and stopped outside the house. She was sure that Lausso and Rosa and one of the others were in the crowd because she heard their voices. They seemed to have angry words and she listened, but could not distinguish what they were saying. She told her husband it might be better to get up and get Lausso, but he would go to bed. He replied that there was no danger.

Heard a Shot Fired.

The men, however, walked off and started up the street. She immediately composed herself and began to doze off. Not long afterward she was startled by a pistol shot. She waited, but heard no more. The first thing she knew of the murder was in the morning when her husband, who had learned the news on his way to work, came back and told her of it.

Mrs. Nicoera was not aware of any trouble existing between Lausso and Rosa, but she knows that they at one time had some difficulty about money. Joseph Rosa, a brother of Leonardo Rosa, keeps a small grocery store and macaroni shop across the street from Nicoera's house. Mrs. Nicoera says that he came over to her house Tuesday afternoon and asked her why she harbored such a man as Vito Lausso in her house. He remarked on leaving that he would like to have the last drops of Vito's blood. She called him back and said that Vito was all right as far as she knew, and anyhow he would be with her only a short time, as he had sent for his family to the old country. Rosa told her that perhaps he might need somebody to bury him before his family arrived.

Vito Girardo runs a saloon at 252 Willow street. He was thinking about closing his place on Tuesday night when Leonardo Rosa, Vito Lausso Pasquale Bevalacqua, Salvatore Cerminori and Joseph Fabiano came in. Lausso had a guitar with him. All of the others had costumes on except Rosa. They appeared to be enjoying themselves and he invited them to have a drink. All but Lausso were a little under the influence of liquor.

Girardo Heard Shots.

They went out in a little while and Girardo paid no heed to what they went. About twenty minutes afterward he heard five shots, but it did not cost him a thought, as he was often used to hearing the Italians use that means of letting out some of the exuberance of their half drunken joy. Lausso, before leaving the hotel, played a tune on the guitar. Nicoera found the guitar some time yesterday morning thrown on a heap of coal in the coal shed.

The four men who were with Lausso boarded together and slept in one small stinky room on separate ill smelling bunks in the house of Joseph Carb, who lives opposite Davitt's bottling works. The alley divides the two properties. The boarding house is not over seventy-five yards from where the body of Lausso was found. The other men under arrest besides Rosa, in an interview with county Detective Leshon, allege that they went to their boarding house about midnight. Rosa and Lausso came in a few minutes after them. They talked together for an hour and Rosa and Lausso went out. Rosa says he came back right away, but this is denied by the other boarders; but they

AFTER MR. DECKELNICK

Two Remonstrances Filed Against His Application for License.

STRONG CHARGES ARE BROUGHT

It Is Asserted That He Is a Violator of the Law and an Unfit Person to Have a Hotel License.

William Deckelnick is the proprietor of a hotel at South Main avenue and Luzerne street on the West Side, against releasing which two remonstrances were yesterday filed with the clerk of the courts by Attorney E. H. House, who represents those who are remonstrating.

One year ago Mr. Deckelnick erected a hotel at the point mentioned, for which a license was granted. The petition for the license was fiercely opposed because the hotel is directly across the street from St. John's German Catholic church, and for the further reason that Mr. Deckelnick was not a fit person to conduct a hotel.

One of the remonstrances filed yesterday is signed entirely by the members of the congregation of St. John's church, the name of the pastor, Rev. P. A. Fricke, heading the list. Besides his name there are eighty-five others on the remonstrance. It is set forth in the protest that the hotel "is less than 100 feet from the doors of the church, the school and the convent, and is a nuisance, a menace and a hindrance to the comfort and happiness of the members of the congregation, the teachers and the children of the school." For these reasons the court is asked not to re-issue the license this year.

The second petition is signed by the citizens of that vicinity generally without reference to nationality or creed, and contains sixty signatures, many of them being those of the most representative citizens of that part of the city. They protest against a license being granted to the hotel for the reason that a hotel is not necessary at that point; that Mr. Deckelnick is not fit person to have a license; that he has violated the law and that his place is a nuisance from the fact that it is so close to a place of worship.

These are the first remonstrances filed this year. Mr. Deckelnick is the owner of one of the buildings on Luzerne street destroyed by fire early yesterday morning.

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

"For Revenue Only," which will be presented at the Academy of Music this evening is a political satire and deals with the funny adventures of a banker who gets a nomination for congress and hires a reporter to take charge of the literary features of his campaign. It was written by Milton Cobble and will be produced here by him.

The renowned and ever popular H. H. Henry's minstrel, numbering forty fine music celebrities and offering the very latest and best features in the minstrelsy, will appear at the Academy of Music Friday evening. Among their principal people may be mentioned Frank E. McNish, the originator of "Silence and Fun," J. Marcus Doyle, Larry Mack, Matt Diamond and Lew Baker, comedians; Master Edward Percy, the juvenile vocalist; the marvelous Rexford; Hugh McVey, the club swinger; the Premium quartet, Winters, Lambson, La Londe, Michaelis and Salomon; the eight funny pickaninnies; the comical bicyclists in their challenge, wing and buck dancing and startling transformation sensation; the famous cornet virtuoso, H. Henry, terminating with their own original classic art pictures in imitation of classic marble statuary.

Hoy's "A Bunch of Keys," published up to date with its comic situations, will be the attraction at the Academy of Music Saturday evening. The fun provoking powers of this rattling farce comedy are so well known that it is needless to say that it keeps the audience in a continuous roar of laughter from the rise to the fall of the curtain. An almost entirely new company has been engaged for this season, and contains some well known artists. The three principal parts are in the hands of clever performers, namely, Ada Basher, as Lady; Harry Fox, Grimes, and Charles W. Bowser, as Snags, (his original creation). The rest of the company are above the average, and subscribe much to the evening's entertainment. Many new songs, dances, melodies and features are introduced, but the business, but the old "Two Dollars" gag seems to be the favorite with the public.

The Fay Foster Folly company opens a three days engagement at Davitt's theater this afternoon. The performance opens with a laughable skit, entitled "An Electric Hotel," after which a number of high class specialties are introduced. A burlesque, "The Tenderloin Chappies," closes the programme. Some of the incidents are suggestive of the comic opera "Ermeline." The tenderloin bums—Taggart and Marlon—representing the city thieves. Performances will be given afternoon and evening.

A good calf, double sold, hand sewed $100.00, selling at $130 for the balance of this week at Schank's, 49 Spruce street.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

(Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied by public notice by the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.)

Those Night Lunch Wagons.

Sir: I was glad to see your editorial note yesterday in defense of the night lunch wagons of this city. The mean, cowardly attack made upon them by Councilman Morgan being published in your issue, the noted law-abiding and temperate Twelfth and Sixth wards, should be shown up in the papers. These wards are pretty far away from the central city, yet these are the men who complain that the wagons obstruct the streets. Why should not these matters be left to the representatives of the Eighth ward? Or were the

THE BEZEK ARGUMENT.

Those Who Spoke Before the Supreme Court.

Attorney George M. Watson returned Tuesday night from Philadelphia, where he made an argument before the supreme court in the Bezek case.

Mr. Watson opened the argument and spoke for one hour. Ex-District Attorney Kelly replied to him on behalf of the commonwealth and Attorney George S. Horn replied to Mr. Kelly.

The justice of the supreme court gave no indication of when they would give a decision in the case.

Buy the Water and get the best. At Guernsey Bros.

AFTER MR. DECKELNICK

Two Remonstrances Filed Against His Application for License.

STRONG CHARGES ARE BROUGHT

It Is Asserted That He Is a Violator of the Law and an Unfit Person to Have a Hotel License.

William Deckelnick is the proprietor of a hotel at South Main avenue and Luzerne street on the West Side, against releasing which two remonstrances were yesterday filed with the clerk of the courts by Attorney E. H. House, who represents those who are remonstrating.

One year ago Mr. Deckelnick erected a hotel at the point mentioned, for which a license was granted. The petition for the license was fiercely opposed because the hotel is directly across the street from St. John's German Catholic church, and for the further reason that Mr. Deckelnick was not a fit person to conduct a hotel.

One of the remonstrances filed yesterday is signed entirely by the members of the congregation of St. John's church, the name of the pastor, Rev. P. A. Fricke, heading the list. Besides his name there are eighty-five others on the remonstrance. It is set forth in the protest that the hotel "is less than 100 feet from the doors of the church, the school and the convent, and is a nuisance, a menace and a hindrance to the comfort and happiness of the members of the congregation, the teachers and the children of the school." For these reasons the court is asked not to re-issue the license this year.

The second petition is signed by the citizens of that vicinity generally without reference to nationality or creed, and contains sixty signatures, many of them being those of the most representative citizens of that part of the city. They protest against a license being granted to the hotel for the reason that a hotel is not necessary at that point; that Mr. Deckelnick is not fit person to have a license; that he has violated the law and that his place is a nuisance from the fact that it is so close to a place of worship.

These are the first remonstrances filed this year. Mr. Deckelnick is the owner of one of the buildings on Luzerne street destroyed by fire early yesterday morning.

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

"For Revenue Only," which will be presented at the Academy of Music this evening is a political satire and deals with the funny adventures of a banker who gets a nomination for congress and hires a reporter to take charge of the literary features of his campaign. It was written by Milton Cobble and will be produced here by him.

The renowned and ever popular H. H. Henry's minstrel, numbering forty fine music celebrities and offering the very latest and best features in the minstrelsy, will appear at the Academy of Music Friday evening. Among their principal people may be mentioned Frank E. McNish, the originator of "Silence and Fun," J. Marcus Doyle, Larry Mack, Matt Diamond and Lew Baker, comedians; Master Edward Percy, the juvenile vocalist; the marvelous Rexford; Hugh McVey, the club swinger; the Premium quartet, Winters, Lambson, La Londe, Michaelis and Salomon; the eight funny pickaninnies; the comical bicyclists in their challenge, wing and buck dancing and startling transformation sensation; the famous cornet virtuoso, H. Henry, terminating with their own original classic art pictures in imitation of classic marble statuary.

Hoy's "A Bunch of Keys," published up to date with its comic situations, will be the attraction at the Academy of Music Saturday evening. The fun provoking powers of this rattling farce comedy are so well known that it is needless to say that it keeps the audience in a continuous roar of laughter from the rise to the fall of the curtain. An almost entirely new company has been engaged for this season, and contains some well known artists. The three principal parts are in the hands of clever performers, namely, Ada Basher, as Lady; Harry Fox, Grimes, and Charles W. Bowser, as Snags, (his original creation). The rest of the company are above the average, and subscribe much to the evening's entertainment. Many new songs, dances, melodies and features are introduced, but the business, but the old "Two Dollars" gag seems to be the favorite with the public.

The Fay Foster Folly company opens a three days engagement at Davitt's theater this afternoon. The performance opens with a laughable skit, entitled "An Electric Hotel," after which a number of high class specialties are introduced. A burlesque, "The Tenderloin Chappies," closes the programme. Some of the incidents are suggestive of the comic opera "Ermeline." The tenderloin bums—Taggart and Marlon—representing the city thieves. Performances will be given afternoon and evening.

A good calf, double sold, hand sewed $100.00, selling at $130 for the balance of this week at Schank's, 49 Spruce street.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

(Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied by public notice by the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.)

Those Night Lunch Wagons.

Sir: I was glad to see your editorial note yesterday in defense of the night lunch wagons of this city. The mean, cowardly attack made upon them by Councilman Morgan being published in your issue, the noted law-abiding and temperate Twelfth and Sixth wards, should be shown up in the papers. These wards are pretty far away from the central city, yet these are the men who complain that the wagons obstruct the streets. Why should not these matters be left to the representatives of the Eighth ward? Or were the

THE BEZEK ARGUMENT.

Those Who Spoke Before the Supreme Court.

Attorney George M. Watson returned Tuesday night from Philadelphia, where he made an argument before the supreme court in the Bezek case.

Mr. Watson opened the argument and spoke for one hour. Ex-District Attorney Kelly replied to him on behalf of the commonwealth and Attorney George S. Horn replied to Mr. Kelly.

The justice of the supreme court gave no indication of when they would give a decision in the case.

Buy the Water and get the best. At Guernsey Bros.

AFTER MR. DECKELNICK

Two Remonstrances Filed Against His Application for License.

STRONG CHARGES ARE BROUGHT

It Is Asserted That He Is a Violator of the Law and an Unfit Person to Have a Hotel License.

William Deckelnick is the proprietor of a hotel at South Main avenue and Luzerne street on the West Side, against releasing which two remonstrances were yesterday filed with the clerk of the courts by Attorney E. H. House, who represents those who are remonstrating.

One year ago Mr. Deckelnick erected a hotel at the point mentioned, for which a license was granted. The petition for the license was fiercely opposed because the hotel is directly across the street from St. John's German Catholic church, and for the further reason that Mr. Deckelnick was not a fit person to conduct a hotel.

One of the remonstrances filed yesterday is signed entirely by the members of the congregation of St. John's church, the name of the pastor, Rev. P. A. Fricke, heading the list. Besides his name there are eighty-five others on the remonstrance. It is set forth in the protest that the hotel "is less than 100 feet from the doors of the church, the school and the convent, and is a nuisance, a menace and a hindrance to the comfort and happiness of the members of the congregation, the teachers and the children of the school." For these reasons the court is asked not to re-issue the license this year.

The second petition is signed by the citizens of that vicinity generally without reference to nationality or creed, and contains sixty signatures, many of them being those of the most representative citizens of that part of the city. They protest against a license being granted to the hotel for the reason that a hotel is not necessary at that point; that Mr. Deckelnick is not fit person to have a license; that he has violated the law and that his place is a nuisance from the fact that it is so close to a place of worship.

These are the first remonstrances filed this year. Mr. Deckelnick is the owner of one of the buildings on Luzerne street destroyed by fire early yesterday morning.

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

"For Revenue Only," which will be presented at the Academy of Music this evening is a political satire and deals with the funny adventures of a banker who gets a nomination for congress and hires a reporter to take charge of the literary features of his campaign. It was written by Milton Cobble and will be produced here by him.

The renowned and ever popular H. H. Henry's minstrel, numbering forty fine music celebrities and offering the very latest and best features in the minstrelsy, will appear at the Academy of Music Friday evening. Among their principal people may be mentioned Frank E. McNish, the originator of "Silence and Fun," J. Marcus Doyle, Larry Mack, Matt Diamond and Lew Baker, comedians; Master Edward Percy, the juvenile vocalist; the marvelous Rexford; Hugh McVey, the club swinger; the Premium quartet, Winters, Lambson, La Londe, Michaelis and Salomon; the eight funny pickaninnies; the comical bicyclists in their challenge, wing and buck dancing and startling transformation sensation; the famous cornet virtuoso, H. Henry, terminating with their own original classic art pictures in imitation of classic marble statuary.

Hoy's "A Bunch of Keys," published up to date with its comic situations, will be the attraction at the Academy of Music Saturday evening. The fun provoking powers of this rattling farce comedy are so well known that it is needless to say that it keeps the audience in a continuous roar of laughter from the rise to the fall of the curtain. An almost entirely new company has been engaged for this season, and contains some well known artists. The three principal parts are in the hands of clever performers, namely, Ada Basher, as Lady; Harry Fox, Grimes, and Charles W. Bowser, as Snags, (his original creation). The rest of the company are above the average, and subscribe much to the evening's entertainment. Many new songs, dances, melodies and features are introduced, but the business, but the old "Two Dollars" gag seems to be the favorite with the public.

The Fay Foster Folly company opens a three days engagement at Davitt's theater this afternoon. The performance opens with a laughable skit, entitled "An Electric Hotel," after which a number of high class specialties are introduced. A burlesque, "The Tenderloin Chappies," closes the programme. Some of the incidents are suggestive of the comic opera "Ermeline." The tenderloin bums—Taggart and Marlon—representing the city thieves. Performances will be given afternoon and evening.

A good calf, double sold, hand sewed $100.00, selling at $130 for the balance of this week at Schank's, 49 Spruce street.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

(Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied by public notice by the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.)

Those Night Lunch Wagons.

Sir: I was glad to see your editorial note yesterday in defense of the night lunch wagons of this city. The mean, cowardly attack made upon them by Councilman Morgan being published in your issue, the noted law-abiding and temperate Twelfth and Sixth wards, should be shown up in the papers. These wards are pretty far away from the central city, yet these are the men who complain that the wagons obstruct the streets. Why should not these matters be left to the representatives of the Eighth ward? Or were the

THE BEZEK ARGUMENT.

Those Who Spoke Before the Supreme Court.

Attorney George M. Watson returned Tuesday night from Philadelphia, where he made an argument before the supreme court in the Bezek case.

Mr. Watson opened the argument and spoke for one hour. Ex-District Attorney Kelly replied to him on behalf of the commonwealth and Attorney George S. Horn replied to Mr. Kelly.

The justice of the supreme court gave no indication of when they would give a decision in the case.

Buy the Water and get the best. At Guernsey Bros.

SIX DOLLARS

For this nominal amount you can buy a heavy, extra long, comfortable and durable Ulster.

Come in and See Them

MARTIN & DELANY'S.

HAIR CHAINS FROM YOUR OWN HAIR.

Something nice for a gift. Chains made out of your own or some dear friend's hair. Leave orders as early as possible. E. M. HETZEL, - 230 Lacka. Ave.

Third National Bank OF SCRANTON.

CAPITAL - $200,000
SURPLUS - $260,000
UNDIVIDED PROFITS - $50,000

WILLIAM CONNELL, President.
GEO. H. CATLIN, Vice-President.
WILLIAM H. PECK, Cashier.

DIRECTORS:
William Connell, James Archbald, Alfred Hand, George H. Catlin, Henry Belin, Jr., William T. Smith, Luther Keller.

The management of this bank points with pride its record during the panic of 1893, and previous panics, when special facilities were extended to its business accounts.

THE SALE IS ON

If you are wise you will be there. The entire stock for less than cost. This is no sham. See the prices. You know what kind of goods we keep.

SALE FOR 30 DAYS ONLY

After April 1 will occupy 134 Wyoming Ave.

China Hall

WEICHEL & MILLAR, 116 WYOMING AVENUE.

SCHANK The SHOE MAN

Will sell Footwear at greatly reduced prices during the month of February,

To Make Room For Spring Stock

Rubber Goods of every description at lowest prices to be had at

SCHANK'S

410 SPRUCE STREET.

MIT. PLEASANT COAL

Coal of the best quality for domestic use, and of all sizes, delivered in any part of the city at lowest price. Orders left at my Office NO. 118 WYOMING AVENUE, near First National Bank, will be promptly attended to. Special contracts will be made for the sale and delivery of Lumber, Coal, etc.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

(Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied by public notice by the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.)

Those Night Lunch Wagons.

Sir: I was glad to see your editorial note yesterday in defense of the night lunch wagons of this city. The mean, cowardly attack made upon them by Councilman Morgan being published in your issue, the