Some bad spirit might have been flying about in the mines of the North End yesterday. A water bailer had his legs seriously crushed in the Cayuga and a series of painful accidents happened almost simultaneously in the Dickson shaft.

John Earley, of Clover Hill, a Cayuga water bailer, while standing against the rib of a run was struck by car which jumped the track, Both of his legs were injured and he was taken to the Moses Taylor hospital, where the left leg will be amoutated below the knee this morning.

He was badly injured internally and was taken to his home, where Drs. Fulton and J. J. Sullivan attended

While young McGuire was lying in the engine house at the top of the shaft waiting for the ambulance, a Polander came up with three fingers of his right hand crushed. He went to his boarding house on Breaker street. Soon after these two were injured an tallan had his right hand badly queezed between a rall and the roof n the fourteen foot vein, A car had often off the track and a rail used to replace it was forced upward, carrying the Italian to the roof, where he hung for a moment with his hand caught as in a vise. One finger may have to be amputated.

BURNING A MORTGAGE.

Joyful Services Held at North Main Avenue Baptist Church,

Interesting services were held at the North Main Avenue Baptist church last night when the mortgage for $5,000 against the church was publicly burned. The meeting opened with a praise serice led by Rev. W. G. Watkins, who afterwards introduced Charles Henwood, who gave a history of the financhal condition of the church since the first service was held in Company H armory on Feb. 15, 1885.

At the close of this address the choir sang "Our Harvest Song," and threeminute addresses were then made by Mrs. M. E. Cutler and Marshal Finn, both of whom were among the first members, Miss Nellie DeGraw sang the soprano solo, "Babylon," and Glies L. Clark was then introduced, who spoke on the subject, "The Faithful Ones: Their Toil and Their Rewards." William J. Owens sang "The Old Sexton" and was followed by Mrs. John Sherwin, who gave a brief history of the ladies' work. After a short address by Mrs. Elizaboth Hannah, Mrs. John Stopford sang 'Flee as a Bird." Charles F. Crossnan, president of the board of trustees, spoke, and after a number of 2-minute addresses by various members quartette consisting of Miss Phoebe Smith, Miss Alma Clancey, Rev. W. G.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP.

Requisites Discussed at a Meeting in Con servatory Hall.

A public meeting was held in Conservatory hall last evening in the interest of the good citizenship movement. C. H. Chandler presided and, in a brief address, outlined the purposes of the meeting and explained that an effort was being made for the better understanding of the plans and purposes of local government.

Professor D. A. Stone read a well-written paper on "The Citizen," defining the word and its meanings, and describing the origin of town government. A number of those present discursed the paper.

E. S. Williams delivered an address on "Town Government," in which he said that the old town meeting had been displaced by the caucus, the change, in his opinion, being detrimental to the interests of the community. Any citizen was possessed of the right to attend a town meeting and advocate reforms or nominate any man for publie positions, but only members of the party could participate in the caucus. Harry Lathrope gave a brief history of the early settlement of towns, the method of town governments and the duties of the various officers. In the discussion which ensued the following made short addresses: W. W. Lathrope H. M. Walton, E. S. Williams, Tallie Morgan, and A. G. Thomason.

instances spoken of last evening were quite corroborative. They were small people, generally 5 feet and 4 inches in stature, with small eyes, flat nose and expansive mouth. Since the advent of the missionaries their condition had vastly improved, and settlements were now formed with a governor, doctor, teacher, blacksmith, etc., and a church in every settlement was becoming the rule. The adventures of the lecturer were related in a thrilling manner, and his remarks were followed with deep interest.

The lecture was organized under the auspices of the Young Peoples' society of the Calvary Reformed church, and the proceeds were devoted to the building fund of the new edifice.

FOR REVENUE ONLY.

Milton Nobles' Sparkling Comedy Presented at Academy of Music. Milton Nobles and his company pre sented "For Revenue Only" at the Academy of Music last evening to a small audience that thoroughly enjoyed the comedy, which is the work of Mr. Nobles' pen. It deals with the efforts of Tom Knowall (Milton Nobles), a free lance journalist, to beem Jefferson Potter, a banker, as the third party candidate, for congress. Knowall is a thorough Bohemian and his native wit, droll sayings and many-sided character furnish a constant source of merriment. The comedy is a broad burlesque of country newspaper, and it unforunately descends to horse play as the curtain is rung down on the third act. A modification of that scene would improve the comedy, which has two simple, natural love stories entwined

Milton Nobles gave a natural and very successful interpretation of the character of Tom Knowall and he received clever support from Dolly Nobles, Eva Taylor, May Davis, E. A. Lack, W. F. Courtenay, Henry Pierson and Fred Richter. It is to be regretted that Mr. Nobles was not greeted by a larger audience. His comedy contains many sparkling and original lines and some clever epigrams.
