$5 REWARD!

So many complaints of irregular delivery have reached us, which we have traced to stolen papers, that we now offer $5 reward for information that will lead to the conviction of any person caught stealing The Tribune from the doorsteps of regular subscribers.

CITY NOTES.

Jacobi J. Jones, of Prospect avenue, is having a broken knee cup treated at the Lackawanna hospital.

A marriage license was granted yesterday by the clerk of the courts to Walter Staff and Diana Chalmers, of Moscow.

Martin Gibbons, of the First ward of Dunmore, returned his assessment books to the county commissioners yesterday.

On Sunday evenings during Lent at St. Luke's church, instead of the usual evening prayer at 7:30, a mission service will be held.

The annual sermon to Southern ladies, No. 179, G. U. O. of P. E., will be delivered at the Howard Place Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow evening at 7:30.

Rev. S. C. Logan, D.D., will preach the dedicatory sermon of the Peckville Presbyterian church tomorrow morning. Rev. George R. Guild will preach in the evening.

The special committee of common council will meet at 8 o'clock this afternoon to investigate the charges that Chief Reber kept the Niagara Hose company out of service one week.

"Sailor" Jordan, who fell from the sixth floor of the Hotel Jermyn building Wednesday, still lies in a critical condition at the Lackawanna hospital. He was conscious several times yesterday.

Mrs. Fred Winters died early yesterday morning at her home on New street after an illness of several months. She is survived by a husband and two children. The funeral will take place Monday.

Employees of the Dalawara, Lackawanna and Western company at the Archbold, Hyde Park and Continental mines were paid yesterday. Today the employees at the Diamond, Haledent and Hanville mines will be paid.

The members of Professor Buck's Sunday school class of Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church entertained their many friends at the Scranton Business college last evening. A delightful entertainment was rendered, after which refreshments were served.

In view of the generally expressed desire to see the silver service presented to Lieutenant Governor Waters by the senate of Pennsylvania, Kerr & Siebecker will today exhibit the gift of Mr. Waters' colleagues in the window of their store on Lackawanna avenue.

Michael J. Schofield began an action against the Scranton Traction company yesterday to recover $20.00 damages. On March 29 last while Schofield was alighting from a car at Providence square the car started and he was thrown to the ground and his spine injured. He is represented by Attorney M. A. McGinley.

Tomorrow morning the pastor of the Hamon Street Methodist Episcopal church will conduct the last quarterly meeting services for this conference year. Love feast at 8:30 o'clock, sermon at 10, after which the holy communion will be administered. The presiding elder, Rev. J. G. Eckman, will preach in the evening.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Those Chosen at a Meeting of the Hook and Ladder Company Last Night.

A regular meeting of the Hook and Ladder company was held last evening at the company's quarters on West Lackawanna avenue and officers to serve for the ensuing year were chosen. They are: President, Fred Durr; vice-president, T. J. Jennings; recording secretary, George F. Kellow; financial secretary, W. W. Ross; treasurer, Charles H. Miller; foreman, Albert Henne; first assistant foreman, J. J. Thomas; second assistant foreman, Adam Steinhausen; trustees, Philip Schnell and Peter Ross; property clerk, Thomas Conlon.

Rev. F. A. Dony Addresses the Members on Canees with History.

A pleasant evening was spent by the members of the Elm Park Zenith society last evening in the parlors of the Young Men's Christian association, when Rev. F. A. Dony delivered an interesting address on twelve old canes which he showed his audience. They were once the property of slaves, old

PATRON SAINT OF WALES

His Memory Honored by the Welsh Residents of the City.

TWO BANQUETS ON WEST SIDE

One Was Held by the Ivorites in Mearns' Hall and the Other Took Place in the Tabernacle Church. The Addresses of the Speakers.

Patriotic Welshmen united yesterday in celebrating the anniversary of the patron saint of Gwalia and in perpetuating the memory of their loved and forgotten St. David. On March 1 the Cymru, in every continent, don their holiday attire early in the evening and wearing the proverbial look, combine together in singing the praises of the immortal bard and divine who accomplished so much for the enlightenment and education of their ancestors in the early ages.

To American citizens of Welsh descent or origin, St. David's Day possesses a peculiar charm, as they are enabled in their adopted homes to recall the songs and old lore of the country of their fathers in perfect freedom, yet at the same time point with pride to the illustrious Welshmen who have accomplished such great deeds in assisting in building up the vast empire of the United States. From Captain Jones—who was officer in command of the Mayflower to the present day their countrymen present a long array of distinguished citizens, whose names will ever be associated with the history of this great country.

The anniversary was observed on the West Side by two banquets, one by the Ivorites in Mearns' hall, and the other in the Tabernacle church, on Hyde Park avenue. At the latter place 600 guests partook of a sumptuous banquet which had been arranged by the ladies of the church. The lecture room was transformed into an elegant banquet chamber, being decorated in a tasteful manner, the Stars and Stripes of Columbia intermingled with the flag of Gwalia in a most artistic manner.

Arrangements Were Perfect.

Although the number of guests pouring into the rooms was sufficient to dismay any caterer, the arrangements were perfect. The menu was a comprehensive one, including all the dainties of the season.

The following ladies, who were neatly and appropriately attired, were in charge of the various tables: No. 1, Mrs. Richard Edwards, Mrs. Edward S. Price, Miss M. Price, Mrs. James M. Mayer, No. 2, Mrs. D. P. Jones, Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. Griffiths, Mrs. Owens, Miss Jenny Bevan and Miss Evans; No. 3, Mrs. John R. Thomas, Mrs. Philip J. Leonard, Mrs. Fanny Jones, Mrs. Margaret Jones, Mrs. George Reese and Miss Jennie Evans; No. 4, Mrs. Reese W. Lloyd, Mrs. Evan H. Thomas, Mrs. David B. Evans, Miss M. J. Evans, Mrs. Simon Thomas and Miss G. Davies; No. 5, Mrs. Richard E. Thomas, Mrs. H. Williams, Mrs. David Hopkins, Mrs. Tydvil Williams, Miss Maggie Jenkins and Miss Louise Jenkins; No. 6, Miss Annie Edwards, Mrs. Hayden Eldridge, Miss S. A. Evans, Miss Rachel James, Miss Sarah Evans and Miss Maggie Evans.

At 8 o'clock the company adjourned to the auditorium, which was soon over-crowded, and a large and disappointed crowd was left without admittance. Rev. D. P. Jones introduced Assistant District Attorney John M. Harris, who, in a Welsh address full of the characteristic Celtic fire, congratulated the meeting upon the success of their celebration of the patron saint. There was no question of the existence of the old Welsh colony, as his wife was born in 601. When St. David received his education he taught his countrymen the religion of the only God, and there was every evidence that he was a man of God, consecrated in his service.

Thoughtfulness of St. David.

St. David was instrumental in organizing the church in Wales, and throughout his life was the prophet and missionary of his country. Above all others he was a true patriot, and could be deducted from his life, and that was that he never forgot the interests of his countrymen and countrywomen. Mr. Harris said that he owed much himself to the principles and religion taught in the old Welsh home. Referring to those who were desirous of going from the old Welsh colony, he said they would be torn loose from a magnet of morality which would save them in the critical periods of their lives.

Dr. J. J. Roberts, conductor of the meeting, introduced Rachel O. Fox (Mrs. Rachel Davies) an accomplished lady orator, who delivered a pleasing Welsh speech upon the progress and growth of religious work among the Welsh in Scranton. An interval of musical selection followed, during which the following numbers were given: "Bedd Llewelyn," by Eos Eynon; "Life is But a Dream," Miss Clara Sanders; declamation, Mrs. Helen Jones; "Y Bannogwr," John T. Watkins; duet, Miss Fanny Jones and Miss Clara Sanders.

Mr. Harris, who received an ovation, then delivered the oration of the evening, his subject being "The Welshmen in America." He said that a genuine Welshman was a Welshman all the world over, and after making a warm tribute to the influence of the Welsh upon English literature and in other directions in the British Isles, he referred to the prominent position and great influence of the Welsh in America. They first settled in this state in 1802, and in 1803 the Welsh colony became strong in the state. Among those who witnessed the declaration of independence were seventeen men of Welsh birth or origin. Jefferson's ancestors were from the foot of the Eryri-Snowdon in North Wales. In all the struggles of our country, from first to last, the American citizens of Welsh descent have been faithful and unflinching, and the great volunteer army of '61 to '65 was filled with them.

Banquet of the Ivorites.

The banquet of Robert Morris lodge, No. 58, Order of American True Ivorites, which was held in Mearns' hall, was a brilliant affair. The guests began to arrive as early as 8 o'clock, and were entertained in the club rooms, and about 9:15 o'clock the guests entered the hall.

The room had been gorgeously decorated for the occasion. Suspended from the ceiling were streamers of yellow and blue, and in convenient places were hung American flags. A large number of potted plants were arranged at the various windows in a manner pleasing to the eye.

As the procession entered the hall the orchestra played the march, "Salute to Chicago." The guests were then assigned their places at the table. A blessing was asked by Rev. W. S. Jones. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Warren, Mr. and Members of Poor Board at Their Meeting Yesterday Listened to a Communication from Attorney Scragg with Regard to Her.

Director Gibbons presided at yesterday's meeting of the Scranton Poor board in the absence of the regular chairman, Mr. Lanstaff. Secretary Lynott read a letter received from the management of the Home for Feeble Minded Children at Elwyn, Delaware county, in this state. This institution receives money annually from the state and in addition a certain number of feeble minded children are accepted free of charge. The number is regulated by the number of legislative districts in each poor district.

The Scranton poor directors had for some time been endeavoring to get three boys of this district admitted to the Elwyn Home, but all their efforts appeared to be disregarded by the management of the home. Very curt letters containing absolutely no information were received in reply to the letters of Secretary Lynott. This became so tiresome that the board concluded to enter a complaint with the secretary read a letter from Resident Physician Martin Barr, of the Elwyn Home, apologizing for past discourtesy. Dr. Barr also outlined the proposition that if the Scranton board would take charge of three hopeless cases now being treated at this district would be received in exchange.

Mr. Shotton moved that the three boys, John Atkinson, David Thomas, and Albert Heine, be sent to the Elwyn Home and the superintendent of the Hillside Home be authorized to take the boys to Elwyn and return with the best boys he can select from the number of hopeless cases at Elwyn. This home, it is said, does much good for that class of children that are about half witted, but many children are sent there who are absolutely idiotic. The Scranton poor district will support three of that kind in exchange for the three above named boys.

After Aid from the Estate.

Mr. Lynott reported also for the special committee on legislation. When the sub-committee on appropriations was here a week ago from the state legislature at Harrisburg, the special committee met the sub-committee at the Terrace hotel. The outcome of it was that the special committee of the board decided to draught two bills and send them to the Lackawanna delegation. One of the bills proposed to place the Hillside Home on the same plane as state hospitals, so that it might come under the million-dollar appropriation made biennially by the state. The other bill recommended a specific appropriation for the state for the care of the indigent insane of this district. Both bills were mailed to Representative Farr.

Attorney Scragg was present to give his opinion in the case of Sarah Jane Bailey, who is now in the insane department of the Hillside Home. It is over 20 years since she was committed, and was found wandering aimlessly on the streets of this city. The police picked her up, and Mayor Connell sent word to Director Tropp, who had two physicians examine her. They declared her insane and she was committed to the home. Her husband lives in Bradford county, but she does not know him. She has a son 25 years old. A small fortune has been spent in trying to have her adjudged insane so that she may be properly taken care of and not allowed to roam around at will. But she is so strategic and lavishes her money in opposing all efforts to make a legal change of her status that she has frustrated all of the plans of her family. At the suggestion of Attorney Scragg, Mrs. Bailey's son will be required to indemnify the board for her keeping if she is allowed to remain at the Hillside Home, because she is not a charge on the Scranton poor district, as her estate is with her husband in Bradford county.

Invitation to the Public.

Mr. Gibbons advised that a general invitation be sent to the taxpayers of the district to visit the buildings at the home and see for themselves what the directors are doing with the public money. About $60,000 worth of improvements have recently been made there. Secretary Lynott will notify the directors of the Archbold poor district to remove Maggie Murphy, who is confined at the Hillside Home. She is not a charge on this district. The usual number of relief applications were granted.

Superintendent Beemer's report that the number remaining in the latter place at the end of February was 172. During the month of February sixteen were admitted; eleven were discharged, and one died.

The report of Resident Physician Ben P. Evans showed that 134 patients are now remaining in the hospital at the home; four were discharged during

WILL REBUILD AT ONCE.

William A. Colliery to Arise Phoenix Like From Its Ashes.

The work of re-building the William A. Colliery at Durycroft, which was destroyed by fire two weeks ago, will begin at once. William Connell has had plans for the new structure made and will have the work of re-building pushed forward as rapidly as possible. It is the intention to make it the best equipped colliery in the valley. By prosecuting the work of building with vigor it is thought that within five months the new breaker will be in readiness to prepare coal for market.

The insurance adjusters yesterday completed the work of appraising the damage done by the fire and made arrangements with Mr. Connell for the settlement of his claims against the companies they represented. The adjustment of the damages was most satisfactory to all concerned, and was arrived at without any difficulty or contention.

"WE'RE RIGHT IN THE PUSH."

When the advertising atmosphere is so heavily charged with exaggeration, it is well to remember who the honest advertisers are. Windy assertions about GREAT reductions—advertising goods at impossible prices, find no lodging place in the minds of intelligent people. Dull trade throughout the legitimate business season may make necessary wild statements from some clothiers to attract trade, but the schemers will have to scheme harder and find new disguises for their lame excuses before they can stop the people from coming to this store for honest values. The triumph of this store is the triumph of intelligence, and you have made it so. Trade has been up to the mark here, yet there's a touch of attractiveness in the styles and assortments. We've added another and more taking attraction—REDUCED PRICES, natural order of things here at this season: LOWER PRICES than you find ELSEWHERE.
