THREATENING ICE

Plood Surpasses Any Former One in Allegheny Valley.

GREAT DAMAGE WILL FOLLOW

Water Falling at Williamsport-Philadelphia and Eric Railroad Tracks Submerged-Turkey Hill Threatened. Moisture at Wilkes-Barre.

By the United Press. Pittsburg, Pa., March 3.-Reports from up the Allegheny river tonight show that the large ice gorges at and above Kittanning have not yet moved out, and there does not appear to be enough water in the river to budge the The people at Kittanning and other towns above, where the gorges are expected to break, anxiously patrolled the streets today waiting for the upheaval which seems bound to come at any minute, but all agree tonight that there is not enough water to move the large body of ice and this has somewhat diminished the strain.

A dispatch from Templeton says that when the residents there arose this morning they heard a crushing, roaring sound and a large gorge, ten miles in length, was moving by. The former gorge that passed there had become so deeply imbedded in Pearl's Eddy, three miles below Templeton, that today's night and after a long discussion the gorge could not force its way through, but commenced climbing high in the air and down to the bottom of the river, almost entirely closing the water's course. The flood surpasses any former one in the history of the valley, the water being five feet higher than the flood of 1865. Several houses are inundated and the ice is piled up to the roof in several places.

Nothing has ever equaled the present gorge. If the present state of affairs continues down the river when the gorge goes out the towns of Kittanning and Ford City will surely be swept off the earth. A Kittanning dispatch says the ice broke a mile above Ford City today and passed down the river. No damage was done except by overflow. This clears the river from Ford City to Pittsburg, a distance of forty miles, and is a great relief to the people. Unless the weather is such that it will thaw out these large gorges gradually, great damage will surely follow when the final break takes place.

Williamsport, Pa., March 3. -The gorge which formed in the river west of here now extends from the head of the Lock Haven boom to Ferney, and promises to stay there. The gorge at Linden remains intact. Reports received from all points west of here state that the stream and its tributaries are practhe road will be clear tomorrow. Wilkes-Barre, Pa. March 3 -The Susquchanna river in this city is bank full and still rising. The ice began to move this morning, and at 4 o'clock this afternoon gorged near Nanticoke. One span of the traction company's new bridge crossing the river at Buttonwood was carried away.

At 7 o'clock tonight the flats on the west side of the river are inundated and traffic between here and Kingston is cut off. The water is twenty feet above low water mark.

Tarkey Hill Threatened.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 3 .- The ice on the Susquehanna river broke up yesterday morning. It gorged above Columbia and commenced to raise at the rate of five inches a minute, but broke after awhile and flowed on down below Columbia, between Turkey Hill and Marietta, where it gorged in a small channel. Turkey Hill is threatened with inundation. The river here is rising slightly.

Columbia, Pa., March 3.-The Susquehanna at this place is free of ice, but the river below is still jammed solid. At Washington borough the lower part of the town is threatened with inundation and the tracks of the Columbia and Port Deposit railroad are covered with great masses of ice Four trains are blocked at Safe Har bor, unable to move either way. Advices from further down the river show no change in the situation.

Port Deposit Flooded. Port Deposit, Md., March 3.-The ice gorge in the Susquehanna just above this town broke at noon today and the railroad tracks and streets along the river front were flooded to a depth of several feet. The congregations in all the churches were dismissed, many of the worshipers in the Presbyterian church being compelled to make their exit through the windows. Another gorge soon formed and the backwater ran off. At 3 o'clock the second break came. It proved more disastrous than the first. The water rose four feet in five minutes. Several houses were Daniel moved from their foundations, fences and outbuildings were carried away and many person / took their household goods out of the upper windows and moved them to higher ground. Telegraph lines have been broken down, and the Port Deposit and Columbia railroad tracks north of the town are covered with ice and debris to a depth of from five to fifteen feet. The people are fearful of a much higher stage of water, and are moving their effects to places of safety.

FIGHTING SILVER. Gold Men in the Senate Object to Sena-

By the United Press. Washington, March 3.—After the confirmation of a few nominations the senate, still sitting behind closed doors. was precipitated into a discussion of the membership of the proposed mone tary conference. The principal speech was made, up to midnight, by Mr. Vilas, who urged that it should not be the policy of the senate to appoint three pronounced silver men as the members to represent the senate. Mr. Vilas was assisted by Mr. Gray in his opposi-

SMALLPOX SCARE.

Shot-Gun Quarantines Have Been Established in Missouri.

By the United Press. Bismarck, Mo., March 3.-The smallpox scare is spreading and has seized every hamlet along the line of the Iron Mountain railroad. At some points shot-gun quarantines have been established and passengers are not allowed to leave trains.

It is said there were 200 cases of smallpox in Hot Springs Friday night.

as was also the preceding discussion. The senate at 10.30 passed the bill. 10.40, after an impassioned appeal from Mr. Blackburn, in charge of the diplomatic appropriation bill, the senate backed down from its insistance upon its amendment appropriating half a million dollars toward a Hawaiian cable. At midnight all the appropriation bills, save five, namely: Sundry civil, Indian, naval, general deficiency, the consular and diplomatic, had been sent to the president. The sundry civil and the consular and diplomatic were being compared and will be in the hands of the president by daylight. The Indian bill will be the next, after these, to reach him. The silver men were victorious and Senators Teller, Jones and Daniel were chosen as delegates to the proposed international monetary conference. The selection was not made until nearly 2 o'clock this morning. The total of the appropriations of this session of congress shows that the aggregate is $497,974,664.

IMMENSE STORES DESTROYED

The Simpson Building Recently Completed at a Cost of $150,000 Entirely Consumed-Fanned by the Breeze, the Flames Spread Rapidly.

By the United Press.

Toronto, Ont., March 3.—The third disastrous conflagration which has visited this fire-stricken city in less than two months occurred this morning, and the loss by today's disaster is fully as great as either of the two previous visitations.

This time the fire originated in the son's building was an immense sevenstory structure, completed only six in half an hour the whole building was a mass of flames. The front wall fell at 1 o'clock with a terrific crash and is dead." The hour at which it stopped twenty minutes later the whole building collapsed like an egg shell. Meantime the fire had crossed Queen street the difference in time was computed it and the big clothing store of Philip Jamieson, on the northwest corner of Yonge street, was quickly destroyed with its immense stock. The adjoining dry goods house of Joseph Sutcliffe & Sons, immediately north and west of Jamleson's, fronting on Yonge street, with an annex running through to Queen street, was completely gutted. and the stock is a total loss. Next north was George McPherson's boot and shoe store. This, too, was badly gutted. South of Simpson's, on Yonge street, the large jewelry store of John Wanless was damaged considerably in the rear, but the front portion escaped serious injury. Crossing Yonge street, the fire next attacked the Henderson block on the northeast corner of Queen street, occupied by James Bonner, gentlemen's furnishings, and Miss M. E. Brisley, millinery, both of whose stocks were completely ruined. The roof of the C. F. Adams & Co., house furnishings, next north, was burned through and their valuable stock of furniture, carpets, etc., was much damaged by

A change of the wind caused the flames to leap south across Queen street, and the Imperial bank, at the southeast corner of Yonge street, was soon ablaze. The lower flat, occupied by the Imperial bank as a branch was flooded, but escaped serious damage by fire. The remainder of the building, however, occupied by J. F. Brown & Co., as a furniture and carpet warehouse, was less fortunate, and their large stock is a total loss. The next two stores to the south, fronting on Yonge street, and occupied by James Milnee & Co., hardware, and C. M. Henderson, auctioneer, lost everything. South of these were Dunfield & Co., gentlemen's furnishings, and the Tremont hotel, both of which were badly gutted.

Creeping east to Victoria street, the fire found its way to the Knights of Pythias' hall, where its progress in this direction was finally arrested. This ball was considerably damaged, and the Knights lost most of their furniture and regalia. Just as the fire was believed to be under control, a cry went up from the crowd that the tall steeple of the Knox Presbyterian church, 200 feet high, on Queen street, drinking for some time past. When his was on fire. Before long the steeple wife left the house for a moment this burned and fell with a great crash. The falling of the tower enabled the firemen to reach the flames and they were quickly got under control, not, however, before the church had sustained great damage from water.

The Eaton Store Saved. The great departmental store of the T. Eaton & Co., was on fire several times, and was only saved with much difficulty. It would likely have gone with the rest had it not been for the excellent system of fire appliances with which the big store is provided. As it was, the Queen's street annex was considerably damaged. The firemen were greatly hampered by the inextricable mass of fallen wires and debris which filled the streets in the vicinity. The firemen had several marvelous escapes; three were some what seriously injured by falling walls. Total loss, $1,400,000; insurance, $550,000.
