Darkest Russin Will Be Produced Tonight and the Danger Signal Tomorrow Night - Field's Minstrels and the Pay Train Saturday Night.

Rebert Mantell appeared at the Academy of Music last night before a large audience in Dumas' striking drama, The Corsican Brothers." It is in six doors, steal books, pads and pencils, acts, and tells the story of two and when school is in segsion their brothers—twins—who resemble each other so closely that it is almost impossible to tell them apart. They have also the same feelings, and unfortunately both fall in love with the same woman, Emilie de Lesparre. Before either can declare himself the object of their affections suddenly departs for Paris with her father, and there marries a man to whom she had been betrothed in her infancy.

The brother Louis, as Fabien is un-willing, also starts for Paris ostensibly to become an advocate, but really to be near Emilie. On his arrival in Paris he ray and Barney Berry, the alleged perlearns of her marriage, but this does not interfere with their past friend-ship. The husband being obliged to leave France, he asks Louis to be the wife's protector during his absence. The wife, who is a good and pure wohonor, Louis is compelled to fight a duel and is mortally wounded.

Fabien, the other brother, through he bond of spiritual sympathy that binds them together, knows what has that will instil a greater regard for happened to Louis, and swears to matters educational into the minds of avenge him. Five days afterward he overtakes Chateau Renaud in the Forest of Fontainbleau, and in the fight that follows kills him on the very spot where Louis breathed his last. #### The Danger Signal

What promises to be one of the notable events in the history of the local stage, will undoubtedly be the production in this city of the famous comedy-drama from the pen of Henry C. De-sidewalk. Mille, entitled "The Danger Signal," at the Academy of Music on Friday even-ing. The play deals of life in the far west, its scenes being laid at a lonely railroad station of the Montana and Cheyenne railroad. The play deals of characters in that far western country and is aptly termed an idyl of the rail, and contains many realistic railroad effects, including a monster locomotive composed of steel and iron, a freight train, railroad station and telegraph office, a cyclone rotary snow plow at work, and the cannon ball express, which crosses the stage at the rate of fifty miles an hour.

EDUCATION IS A FOE.

so Young Men of Providence Think School Houses and School Teachers Twin Enemies and Fit Objects of Assault.

Up in Providence they have a lot of hoodium young men who are living, breathing, tangible examples of the need of compulsory education.

They will not attend school them selves and so far as possible they endeavor to prevent others from so doing. A school house is to them an institution that should be rooted out and destroyed.

Representatives of that class of aspiring youths reside near No. 24 school and have caused untold annoyance. During vacations they deface the school buildings, break windows and favorite pastime is throwing missiles of various kinds at teachers and pupils. A few days ago several young men entered No. 24 school while a session was being held, took the children's hats and coats and threw them in the mud, the teachers and janitor being unable to stop them.

The board of control decided that it was time to make the verdant Razorville boys realize that this is a civilized community, and warrants were sworn out before Alderman Roberts for the arrest of Charles Barrett, Martin Murpetrators of the outrage.

They were arrested and yesterday were arraigned before the alderman. He reprimanded them most severely and directed that they pay the costs of the proceedings. The boys promised man, becomes entangled with a noted that hereafter they would respect the roue. Chateau Renaud, and to save her property of the school district as if was their own, and thereupon it was decided not to push the prosecution this time.

Evidently there is need of something the youth of Providence.

AND ITS TERRORS

The Subject of Rev. Pather De Haza's Discourse at Cathedral.

DESIGNED TO PUNISH SINNERS

Speaker Says That It Is a Place of Eternal Torment-Sin Always Brings Its Own Punishment with It Even in This World.

Father DeHaza preached a sermon on hell at the cathedral last night. There was such a large number of young men present that the church was taxed to seat them all.

A deep impression was made by the speaker in the eloquent and realistic manner that he enunciated his disourse on the subject. Some persons, Father DeHaza said, do not believe in hell; they do not want to accept it as a part of their faith because the thought of it is too disagreeable. They prefer to make themselves believe that God never created so terrible a place as it is pictured; that man could not be consigned to such a fate for life everlasting.

Quotations from the Scriptures were used frequently by the speaker to prove that there is a hell, and that it is everything which its name implies. This cean of fire was created by the Almighty to punish sinners. Its fire consumes the marrow of the bones and the fires of this world are but a picture to How terrible then must be the wrath of God!

This life is but a fleeting shadow; at the longest a man's existence is very brief, and then eternity. Sin will be punished as sure as God has said it, and there are ample and intelligent proofs that the Creator has declared his hatred of sin and his determination to inflict a terrible penalty on those who commit it. Even in this world the sinner is punished; no man can go on offending God and escape temporal visitations. Those who are prosperous in worldly pursuits to the neglect of their duties toward God cannot be happy. Sin always brings its own punishment with it. Father DeHaga implored his hearers to lead pure lives and be chaste and pure in the sight of the Lord. God will street, flooding the cellars of business not be merciful to those sinners who offend him through the sin of impurity.

He beseeched the young men to reflect gravely on the judgment of God and now in this appropriate time to return with true contrition to the right path. Father O'Rielly imparted the benedic-

All the letters were written by his mother, Mrs. Susan M. A. Wire of Erieville, a small town on the Syracuse and Chenango Valley railroad. The letters were couched in most affectionate and endearing language, in which the passionate love of an anxious mother was manifested in every sentence. Yesterday the unfortunate man was the recipient of a particularly so licitous and lovingly worded letter at Binghamton, which was posted at Erieville on Tuesday. It reads as fol-

THE AMERICAN WHEELMEN.

National Assembly of the League at Grand Union Hotel, New York-Business of the Meeting.

New York, March 6-The national assembly of the League of American Wheelmen met today in the Grand Union hotel. It was an adjourned meeting, the regular meeting having been held some weeks ago. The spe-cial business of the meeting was the consideration of the question of making arrangements for the publication of the official organ of the league, to be known as the Bulletin and Good Roads. Messrs. Potter, Kernan, Perkins, Carson and Dickerson were appointed a committee to consider the proposition submitted, and they decided to recommend that a contract for the publication of the "League of American Wheelmen Bulletin" be made with Sterling Elliott, of Boston. The report was approved by the assembly.

An amendment to the constitution of the league was adopted providing that the annual dues should be reduced from $1 to 75 cents. This is done to circumvent the postoffice department, which recently decided that the Bulletin was not a paper having a bona fide paid circulation and was not second class matter. As a matter of fact, most of the members will still pay $1, but 25 cents of that amount will be paid definitely as a subscription for the Bulletin. It was decided that the dues in future should be divided, so that 46 cents shall go to the National association and 35 cents only to the state divisions. Back dues are to be divided even, and the initiation fees go to the state divi-
