for help was sounded at No. 28. The accident of yesterday was caused by a break in the machinery of the engine that hauls the cars up the plane. As a trip of five loaded coal cars were being drawn up the back plane and were nearing the top the machinery snapped causing a slack in the cable and the sling ahead of the cars unhooked and let the trip back down the steep incline at the foot of which stood a trip of load ed freight cars; into this trip the run aways crashed. The collision over turned and smashed several cars, spill ing many tons of coal. The freight carwere not badly wrecked. Frank Fer rell, a trainman employed on the freight train, jumped and thus escaped unin jured. This was the fourth accident that has occurred at No. 28 this week one every day.
