DWARP ELOCUTIONIST

Gave a Pleasing Entertainment in the Hampton Street M. E. Church-Charles Daniels Preparing a Warm Berth for Himself-Live News Notes.

M. L. Comfort, of Owego, N. Y., was the attraction last evening in the fined to his home on Oak street by an Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal attack of the grip, has recovered sufchurch. He gave several recitations and played upon musical goblets. The entertainer-is not much over four feet in height and has a most pleasing manner. As an elocutionist he possesses great ability. His manipulations on the goblets gave evidence of much skill. Mr. Comfort was assisted by the Hampten Street Male trio, the choir and several Hyde Park soloists. The auditorium of the church was crowded. The recitations were humorous and sentimental and the several characters were clearly defined. All expressed themselves well pleased with Mr. Comfort's entertainment.

Most Unjust Discrimination.

LUTHERAN LEAGUE MEETS

Semi-Annual Convention of That Organization Held in Zion Church.

MANY PRACTICAL ADDRESSES

League Is Growing in Importance and Is Doing Valuable Work for the Lutheran Church-New Officers That Have Been Chosen.

Delegates from all parts of Northastern Pennsylvania assembled in the ity yesterday at the fifth semi-annual convention of the Central Lutheran league of Northeastern Pennsylvania, which was held at the Zion church, Mifflin avenue. The conference opened at 10 a. m., when devotional exercises were conducted by members of the league, after which Rev. P. F. Zizelman made an address of welcome to the delegates, in which he referred to the increasing importance of the league and its great value to the Lutheran church as an active auxiliary agency. President H. L. Hungerford made a felicitious response.

A business session was then held, when the following officers were elected: President, R. W. Newbauer, Scranton; first vice-president, Edward Eyerman, Wilkes-Barre; second vice-president, Peter Schmaltz, Pittston; recording secretary (English), Miss Estelle M. Roll, Wilkes-Barre; recording secretary (German), A. R. Butze, Scranton; financial and corresponding secretary, Oliver Robb, Wilkes-Barre; treasurer, Miss Clara Schmaltz; trustees, John Gahn, Scranton; Peter Wiesheyer, Pittston, and Henry Kolb, Scranton; delegates to the Reading state conference, H. L. Hungerford, Joseph Rohr-wassa, Peter Wiesheyer, F. H. Gerlock and Henry Kolb; alternates, August Kemmersale, Edward Ayerman and J.

Sphere of the League. The afternoon session convened at 2 o'clock, when Edward Everman initiated a discussion on "The Proper Sphere of Work for a League," in which he made many practical suggestions for the development of the field of labor. He was followed by R. W. Neubauer, who contributed some original ideas for the extension of the work. George Marshall read a paper on "Difficulties in the Way of Successful League Work." Edward Eyerman, of St.

Edward Eyerman, of St.

John's, Wilkes-Barre, delivered an address on the same theme, The impediments to the success of the work were clearly pointed out by both speakers and the point raised made a deep impression on the members. The bright side of the picture was thereupon presented by Rev. O. F. Ettwein, Pittston, who delivered an admirable address on "How to Overcome Such Difficulties," and E. A. Butze, in a German address, advocated several reforms for contributing to the welfare of the

At 7.30 p. m. the church was overcrowded in anticipation of the evening session, when R. W. Neubauer conducted the services. The feature of the evening was a German address by Rev. J. Randolph, who impressed upon the members the responsibility with which they were invested in carrying on the plans of the league. Its growth depended upon their collective and individual efforts and he urged them to fulfil their duties by painting a word picture of the bright prospect of the future to each one personally, the league and the Lutheran church if they would

Some Entertaining Fontures. Miss Speicher sang a contraito solo, Come Unto Me," and various selections were rendered by the church choir. Organ selections were also given by Professors Albin Corn and Rockwell. The Zither club acquitted themselves remarkably well in their renditions. Miss Edith Hallock and Miss Anna Von Koneeny gave recitations and the session closed by singing the long metre doxology.

NIGHT LUNCH WAGONS.

The Proprietors Again Arrested for Obstructing the Streets.

Aaron Goldberg and J. Burros, proprictors of the night lunch wagons, were arrested last evening about 8 o'clock. by virtue of a warrant issued by Alderman Donovan, of the Twelfth ward, upon information sworn by P. J. Farrell, charging them with violating the city ordinance in obstructing the streets. The defendants were taken before the alderman, who adjourned the hearing until I o'clock today in order to give an opportunity for Attorney Joseph O'Brien to be present on behalf of the defense. F. L. Wormser, who has taken deep interest in the matter, was present, and became ball for the two defendants in the sum of $300 each. Charles Van Vafin, of Linden street, plaintiff in the case now pending before Alderman Fitzsimmons, was also present to give evidence for the prosecution.

For the defense, the defendants presented a permit signed by Street Com-missioner Philip Kirst and approved by Mayor Connell. The permit bears the date of March 9, 1895, and states: "In accordance with application made, and agreement entered into and executed on the above date by Goldberg and Burros, permission is hereby granted the aforementioned parties * * * to the aforementioned parties ocupy street with lunch wagons."

Classes of Captain May and C. N. Lee Or ganize a Successful Social.

A delightful evening was enjoyed by the members of the Sunday school classes of Captain May and C. N. Lee at the Elm Park church parlors last night. One hundred and fifty members were present and were received by their respective teachers in the King's Daughters' room, after which an adjournment was made to the lecture room, where the following programme was rendered: Overture by the Lawrence orchestra; recitation, Miss Sweetzer; ladies' chorus, by representatives of Captain May's class; duet, by the Misses Gruner; quartette, by four mem-bers of Captain May's class; soprano solo, Miss Gruner . During the intervals the Lawrence orchestra played several selections and were complimented by the chairman, Captain May, upon their fine performance.

At the close of the entertainment the guests were entertained with refreshments in the parlors, and spent a considerable ime in a social manner, wher opportunity was given to renew friendship and make new acquaint-

BREAK DOWN AT SOUTH MILL Machinery in the Rail Shed Was the Cause.

The underground machinery in the rail shed of the South Steel mill got out of order early yesterday morning and before it was noticed that anything was wrong a serious break occurred in the gearing and shafting, throwing the mill idle. Work in the rail shed and at the rolls had to be immediately suspended, but in the converting department all the melted material was moulded into ingots and these were allowed to cool. SPRING LINE OF

The intention was on the part of the management to make an attempt at beating all former weekly records, but this disarrangement has thwarted that ambition. The break does not mean a suspension of any length. It is expected that operations will resume on Mon-Mathushes.
