THIRD ORGAN RECITAL. Given by Professor Conant in St. Luke's

Church Saturday. The third Lenten organ recital at St.

Luke's church was a fitting prelude to the simple yet beautiful service of the finglish church which immediately followed. But though intended and arranged as an essential part of these Lenten services, the recital of Saturday calls for more than passing refer-It was devoted wholly to selections from the works of J. S. Bach, and the programme was, with one exception, adhered to in its entirety.

In the opening number Mr. Conant's exquisite interpretation of the Fantasie, forming the introduction to the big G minor Fugue, was as pronounced as was later his broad and dignified reading of the Fugue known as the "little G minor Fugue." Indeed, in two numbers especially, the listener was unmistakably impressed with the fact that Mr. Conant is thoroughly imbued with the best traditions of the true school of organ music Scholarly work and faultless technique were everywhere apparent.

Of versatility Mr. Conant gave abundant evidence in the delicate, musicianly manner in which he treated arrangement from a string suite in D. vocalist, and gave a very sympathetic rendering of the quaint old air, "Forget Me Not," and for "My Heart Ever Faithful' substituted Dudley Buck's "My Redeemer and My Lord."

ISLE OF CHAMPAGNE.

Seabrooke Will Produce It at the Academy Friday Night. Thomas Q. Seabrooke and his comiopera company will produce the "Isle of Champagne" at the Academy of Music Friday night. In the company is Irene Murphy, for a long time the prima donna of the Bennett and Moulton Opera company. She is a great favorite in this city.

The conception of the opera is whimsical one and whimsical are the names of the characters and setting of piece. This production will be one of the comic opera events of the season.

PLANS FOR THE SEASON

Arrangements for Scranton to Take the Pield About Completed.

THE RULES WILL BE EXACTING

Manager Barnie to Insist That His Players Keep Right to the Line-Improvements to Be Made on the Grand Stand Before Season Opens.

Within just twenty-two days the 1895 Scranton Base Ball team will have Crawford's Raistons, 2 vols. cloth, $1.00 gathered together in this city and on April 9 will leave to play the first practice game at Harrisbrug. One week later, on April 15, the Scranton cranks Du Maurer's Trilby, illustrated, $1.25 will have an opportnity to judge the Coffin's Gist of Whist, 4th edition, 75c. with Pottsville. All the dates, excepting Sundays, between April 10 and 27, are already scheduled for practice games either here or abroad. The regular Eastern league season opens April 29 with Syracuse in this city.

Manager Billy Barnie arrived here Saturday after having succeeded in signing eleven players of quality. All the positions are filled. Patchen, last eason's catcher, is at his home in Willlumsport, and Quarles, pitcher, is at his home in Petersburg, Va. A con-tract is waiting for the signature of each, and it is probable that they will soon tire of playing coy.

A meeting of the directors was held Saturday night in the office of A. L. Francois and many matters of interest were gone over between them and Manager Barnie, From interviews with President Betts, Manager Barnie and several of the directors it is evident that a line of broad, business policy has been mapped out for the season which will not hamper the maniger, but will work to such an end that the public will be attracted and pleased.

The Scranton Players, To begin with the list of players looks promising, not only on paper, but from their work last year. Only four played on the old Scranton team. Their names follow:

	Players.	Position.	Last Year.
	Rogers	Catcher	Seranton
			Seranton
	Fox	Pitcher	Pottsville
			Lincoln, Neb.
	Clark	First base

When the season opens the grandstand will have been altered to such a degree that it will have lost almost all emblance to its former crude, uncomtaken down and several broader BAUER'S ORCHESTRA AND BAND, 40 PIECES flights built up from the rear, where will be located the only entrances. The tunnel stairway in the center of the stand will be abolished, and a comodious exit stairway built on the end of the stand next the street. The row of into a passage way. According to present plans there will be no necessity for scrambling up on the rear seats in order to escape the sun. A projection or hood is to be built out from the roof and will keep out the hot rays which last year were wont to scorch spectators' faces all colors from a delicate pink to nut brown.

A proposed improvement which will be not the least appreciated is a section to be set aside for women and their escorts. A partition will separate this section from the main part of the stand.

No Carriages on the Field.

Carriages are not to be allowed withn the grounds, but the association has secured a space in the field directly across the street where hitching places will be provided and a man permanently employed to watch the orses and whatever articles may be left in the carriages.

It had been intended not to sell any season tickets, but the demand has been so great that at Saturday's meeting it was decided to sell within a limited number of weeks tickets at $18 each for the fifty-six home games.

It is probable that some of the players will be surprised by the training and practice methods under which they will be managed. The disciplinary features of the team will not be more ardous or more lax than the discipline maintained by and expected from the managers of the major leagues. Never in the history of Scranton base ball has a player been obliged under penalty to report for practice play at a certain hour every week day morning; nor have they been obliged to seek their beds at or before a certain hour of the night. They will be expected to do both this year.

Billy Barnie has never been accused of being too exacting or mandatory with his men, but he has managed base ball teams many years and has brought in pennant winners at the end of several seasons. He owes his repute less to his knowledge of the game than to his knowledge of how to manage men, keep them active and strong and merit their respect and obedience. It is obvious that during 1895 there will severity imposed on the Scranton players, but they will be expected to "play ball" in the figurative as well as the literal sense of the term. Two kinds of Uniforms.

The home uniform will be of gray. with royal blue cap and stockings away from home the team will be clad in navy blue uniforms, includings caps and stockings of that color.

The men will not be put at even both the Pastorale and the Aria in-knock about or catch practice at home cluded in the programme, the latter an until after the first week's play abroad. The reasons are plain. Adverse criti-Mrs. G. du B. Dimmick was the cism might produce an incurable case of rattles, or a player might seriously cripple himself by overdoing. April the players will leave here to play in Harrisburg April 10 and 11; Pottsville, April 12 and 13; Newark, April 14. They will return here to play Pottsville, April 15 and 16; Murray Hills, April 18 and 19; Binghamton, April 20; Carbondaledale, April 22; Binghamton, April 23; Hazleton, April 25 and 26; Cuban Glants, April 27. April 24 they play in Carbondale. Of the holldays, the Scrantons will play here on the afternoon of May 30 and the morning of July 4 with Wilkes-Barre, going to that city for the morning and afternoon games respectively Fourteen Saturday games will be played here, and the opening game on the Toronto grounds will be played with Scranton. The local team also goes to Toronto for Labor Day. Concerning the recent New York meeting which arranged the schedule and made several important revisions of the by-laws and rules, Manager Barnie yesterday spoke in the highes terms of the unity and common feeling. He makes no boasts or promise of what the Scranton team will do, but in speaking of the season's prospects generally and of the accommodations to be made for the patrons of the game in this city he is ardent and sanguine

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

"City Government," M. J. Gilbride's new sensational political drama, which will be presented at the Academy of Music this afternoon and evening, is admitted to be a magnificent plece of scenic work. The play is a satirical comedy on the politics of the day, and can be justly called "a play for the people." There is not a tame inciient from the rise to the fall of the curtain, one event following the other n rapid succession. The boodle poli ticians, the ward heeler, the corporation councilmen and the policemen are handled in an interesting manner. By request "Without a Name," the famous mining play by the same author, will be reproduced tomorrow evening This piece received its first production two years ago at the Academy and proved a great success. A large engine, the most realistic on the stage today, has been built and will cross the stage in full view of the audience. Both plays will be given by a select company of New York players, including Ernest Allen, William Wheeler, Charles J. Harris, W. E. Davis, Web Scism, J. W. Carroll, R. W. Rankin, P. Barrett, T. F. Rush, William Niedler, Miss Flornce Sherwood, Miss Maggie Gallagher and Miss Bessie Grayson.

The Metropolitan Comedy company will open a week's engagement at the Frothingham tonight and play at popular prices. Matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday. The repertoire for the week is as follows: Monday, "The Fugitives;" Tuesday, "A Royal Pardon," Wednesday afternoon, "Fanchon, the Cricket;" Wednesday even-ing, "Lost in London;" Thursday, "Colleen Bawn;" Friday, "A Grass Widow;" Saturday afternoon, "Colleen Bawn;" Saturday evening, "Little Ferret."

Pugilist Peter Maher and his specialy company will appear at the Academy of Music Wednesday evening and give a first class athletic and vaudeville entertainment. The performance concludes with the laughable farce comedy entitled "McCracken's Reception," introducing the Irish champion, Peter Maher, who will have a go with Harry his establishment. Courtright, of Scranton, while Billy Hennessy, of Boston, will meet James Judge, of Scranton.

"In Old Kentucky," which comes to the Academy of Music on Thursday evening, stands at the head of last season's successes. It is a very elaborate scenic production and it possesses a story of absorbing interest exceedingly well told. An odd feature is a pickaninny band composed of about twenty little darkies. These diminutive ne groes were secured in the south and trained by the management especially fortable and unhandy self. The for "In Old Kentucky," A genuine ladder-like stairs at either end are to horse race is also an attractive and spirited incident of the performance.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Manager Davis presents the New York Uniques, an organization of high-class specialty performers, from which he expects much. Several of its members boxes, excepting a reporters' box, is to have been connected with the very best be removed, and the space converted traveling combinations at the heaviest salaries The aggregation derives its title from the fact that it conducts its enterprise on an unique plan-each is interested in the success of all.

Olyphant's theatre goers may expect something good in the way of shows during the coming season at the F. M. Opera House. J. G. Reese, of this city, has taken the management of the house tions.

The production of "Cleopatra" by Miss Lillian Lewis has been talked and written about so much that its presentation here on Monday, March 25, at the Academy of Music is looked forward to with much interest. Colonel Marston, who is here making final arrangements, was seen by a Tribune reporter and said: "A classic drama produced with spectacular splendor is of course a novelty, and to that is doubtless due, in a great degree, the sensation which Miss Lewis' 'Cleopatra' has

THE CULTURE OF CELERY.

Once a Discarded Vegetable, It Is Now

Universally Used. Celery, like the now popular and uniersally used tomato, was not long ago considered to be poisonous, or at least unfit for human food. To-day the demand for the crisp esculent is met by gardeners, north, south, east, and west, ten months of the year. Formerly the celery season was confined to the winter Alexander, withdrawn; Louis Scho months, and prices ranged so high that James T. Kearney. the tables of the rich were alone decorated with the graceful stalks. Celery in a wild state is rank, if not noxious, and certainly unpalatable. It is a plant that only attains its appetizing perfection after much labor and watchful care. For this reason the best celery comes from the section of the country settled by German gardeners.

The great celery beds of the nation tre in Michigan, especially in the vicinity of Kalamazoo, where no less than be no undue slackness and no undue its culture. A deep, rich, well-drained height of two or three inches they are taken up and transplanted into long 12 inches tall. They are again transplanted for bleaching. The stalk is kept covered with a dark, rich soil heaped in low, flat bottom lands, and the dikes in which the celery is bleached are laid out with precision, regular ditches intervening. Celery bleaches best when the surface of the dykes or mounds is frozen. Care must be taken, however, that the frost does not reach the stalks themselves else the bleaching process is at once arrested, and a tough stringy plant results. It is in the watchful care of the thermometric condition that the patience of the gardener is exercised. If the weather is open or warm the thickness of the dykes must be decreased. else the plants in a too ardent warmth grow too fast, and thus become hollow and tough. Owing to competition in Iowa and Minnesota on a large scale, and the increasing cultivation of the relish by truck gardeners, the price has steadily declined every year, and 10 cents buys to-day what ten years ago was considered cheap at a half-dollar.

Judges of the Court Make War on Applications for New Houses.

DANCE HALLS ARE NOT WANTED

John M. Casey Refused on Account of a Duncing Hall at His Place-John Majernyik; Must Get Rid of His Dancing Platform. Saturday morning in court was handed down the liquor licenses that Scranton. had been granted, and also a list of the applications that thad been refused. The total number granted is 532; and several were under advisement because the papers were not properly drawn up. The number refused is 124. Judge Archbald remarked that he was not in favor of renewing the license of John Horn in the Thirteenth ward. 'It was plainly proven," Judge Archbald said,"that Horn sold liquor to minora and the license was granted to him without my consent." All new applications in the Thirteenth ward were refused Judge Archbald, in speaking about the refusal of Deckelnick's license, gave out the information that the court was unanmious with regard to prohibiting him from selling liquor The evidence was strongly against Deckelnick that liquor was sold on election day, and the court held it was no excuse that Mrs. Deckelnick was the one who made the sale.

John M. Casey, proprietor of the St Nicholas hotel, on lower Lackawanna avenue, was refused because he did not provide sufficient hotel accommodations last year. Mr. Casey admitted Danner, his only opponent. before the court that the space that should have been set apart for lodging building. This year, howere, he promised to remedy the matter.

William J. Robb, of Lackawanna ave nue, whom many suspected from the speech of Judge Gunster, would be refused, was granted a license, but he will be required to improve the tone of Dancers Will Have to Go. John Majernyik, who has conducted granted a license with the qualification promptly at 8 o'clock that dancing as it has been carried on in his place must be stopped or his granted, but it was against the wishes of Judge Archbald.

There were scarcely any licenses granted to applicants for new houses, and many who have had licenses were refused on the ground that the law was violated by them last year. It was a banner term of license court for re-monstrances, and the cognizance taken by the court shows that the complaints were heeded. The experience of the judges in the criminal courts had a good deal to do with the refusing of many applications. List of Those Who Were Refused.
