FUNERAL OF PETER MORTON

Funeral of the late Peter Morton, who died at his home, 302 Keyser avenue, last Saturday morning, took place at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the family home. Long before the services had commenced, large crowds of people had gathered at the home to pay their last tribute to the deceased and view the remains, which were placed in a handsome black casket. Mr. Morton, who had for years been a foreman at the Capouse mines, had possessed a genial disposition, and the heads of his fellow workmen who attended in a body, as the Accidental fund, were bowed in sorrow. A delegation of Lodge No. 201, Sons of St. George, were also present. Rev. D. C. Hughes, pastor of the Jackson Street Baptist church, preached the funeral sermon and referred with feeling to the many kindnesses which the deceased had performed during his life. The shop hands sent a beautiful token in the shape of a pillow inscribed "Shoptmate." An anchor was presented by the relatives. The funeral procession, measuring the length of three blocks, moved to the Washburn Street cemetery, where interment was made. The pall-bearers were: From the fund, Philip Thomas, Emanuel James and William Williams; from the lodge, John C. Morris, George Maylin and James Thompson.

An Initial Supper. The ladies of the St. Stephen's Methodist Episcopal church, whose initials comprise with any letter from M to Z inclusive, will give their final initial supper for the season tomorrow evening. A large number is expected to attend. The supper is the last one prior to the annual accounts of the church festival which have been held during the year, and which will be summed up at the conference in April. The ladies have worked industriously with these suppers and the proceeds have been large. Their report at the conference will no doubt be a good one, and they are to be highly commended on the provisions furnished and the excellent talent selected for their entertainments.

Broke Her Arm. Miss Lorena Archer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Archer, of North Summer avenue, had her arm broken yesterday morning. Mr. Archer went to Pittston to meet his daughter, who was returning from a college in Philadelphia. They drove about the city and intended coming home in a few hours. During the drive, the spirited horse became frightened and the occupants were thrown out. Mr. Archer, who was less fortunate, broke her arm near the wrist. The couple took a train for Scranton and arrived home yesterday afternoon. Dr. E. G. Beddoe was summoned and set the bone. The young lady is now resting comfortably.

Brief Notes of Interest. John H. Williams, of South Main avenue, is in Danesville, N. Y. Charles Hadley, of Eynon street, is improving after a severe illness. Miss Scanlon, of Lafayette street, has returned from New York City. The members of Company F held a drill in St. David's hall last evening. John Davies, of South Main avenue, has been seriously ill for the past month. William Powell, of Kingston, has returned home after a visit with friends on this side. The committees of the Lewis Watsons Glee club, will meet tonight in Jones' hotel on Jackson street. Misses Mary Davies and Anna Jenkins, of this side, have returned from a visit with friends in the city. NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

Robert E. McKenna was sufficiently recovered yesterday to pay a visit to the machine shop. Conductor Theo. Polhamus, of Elmira, visited the city yesterday, and paid visits to many friends. It was reported yesterday that engineering on the Erie, the Erie, Lackawanna and West Shore companies will issue no more "circular orders." Many of the other roads have refused to do this, but the former roads have decided that it is not profitable. A special detective has been assigned on the Delaware and Lehigh, to watch for persons stealing rides on freight trains. Any person caught in the act is liable to a penalty of $10 or twenty days imprisonment. An unusual cargo of freight passed through Carbondale yesterday, being a special train of twenty-four car loads of Philadelphia root beer, forwarded from Philadelphia to Boston via the Philadelphia and Reading and Delaware and Hudson railroads. This is regarded as the most extensive shipment of one commodity made. The consignment is sufficient to make nearly three millions of gallons of beer and has been sold to wholesale dealers of New England. Engine No. 5, "W. F. Hallstead," ran a trial trip yesterday morning to Great Bend, and was reported to have answered the test quite satisfactorily. The appearance of the engine was a great surprise to the railroaders who had not seen her in the shops. The cab is handsomely finished with walnut and bird's eye maple panels, and the front hand rails and driving wheel cover bands are of polished brass. She has been suffering for a number of years, but was able to attend to her household duties until taken ill rather suddenly last Thursday morning, but seemed to be recovering Sunday. The funeral announcement will be made later.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

Robert E. McKenna was sufficiently recovered yesterday to pay a visit to the machine shop. Conductor Theo. Polhamus, of Elmira, visited the city yesterday, and paid visits to many friends. It was reported yesterday that engineering on the Erie, the Erie, Lackawanna and West Shore companies will issue no more "circular orders." Many of the other roads have refused to do this, but the former roads have decided that it is not profitable. A special detective has been assigned on the Delaware and Lehigh, to watch for persons stealing rides on freight trains. Any person caught in the act is liable to a penalty of $10 or twenty days imprisonment. An unusual cargo of freight passed through Carbondale yesterday, being a special train of twenty-four car loads of Philadelphia root beer, forwarded from Philadelphia to Boston via the Philadelphia and Reading and Delaware and Hudson railroads. This is regarded as the most extensive shipment of one commodity made. The consignment is sufficient to make nearly three millions of gallons of beer and has been sold to wholesale dealers of New England. Engine No. 5, "W. F. Hallstead," ran a trial trip yesterday morning to Great Bend, and was reported to have answered the test quite satisfactorily. The appearance of the engine was a great surprise to the railroaders who had not seen her in the shops. The cab is handsomely finished with walnut and bird's eye maple panels, and the front hand rails and driving wheel cover bands are of polished brass. President Ashley, of the Wabash, has published a new plan for pensioning and providing insurance for employes. The company will set aside a certain sum of money each year, to be invested in an insurance fund, the men to be paid according to length of service and good record. Five years from now, in 1900 representatives will be entitled to $1,000 at the death of an employe. For five years thereafter, $1,000 additional will be paid until the plan, as provided, is reached. The plan also provides for a pension under which employes who become disabled, or grow old, in the service will receive stated amounts.

CAUTION

Washburn-Crosby Co. wish to assure their many patrons that they will this year hold to their usual custom of milling STRICTLY OLD WHEAT until the new crop is fully cured. New wheat is now upon the market, and owing to the excessively dry weather many millers are of the opinion that it is already cured, and in proper condition for milling. Washburn-Crosby Co. will take no risks, and will allow the new wheat fully three months to mature before grinding. This careful attention to every detail of milling has placed Washburn-Crosby Co.'s flour far above other brands.
