Some Events of the Day on the West Side of the City Noted.

TWO VERY ENJOYABLE EVENTS

Conducted Last Night in the Washburn Street Presbyterian and Simpson M. E. Churches-Address by Henry P. Davies Before the Ivorites.

The young ladies of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church, known as the X. Y. Z. circle, gave an entertainment and orange social last evening in the church parlors. The spacious lower rooms of the beautiful edifice were thronged with people during the whole evening. Delegations were also present from other churches. The young ladies had made great preparations for the evening, and the result of their ef-forts was shown by the manner in which matters were arranged.

Preceding the supper was an entertainment. Miss Kate Davis was chairman. The programme opened with a plano solo by Miss Anna Williams, after which Miss Anna Bunnell gave a recitation entitled "In the Usual Way." A dialogue by the Misses Annie Jones. plause. Miss Bertha Conger, a talented young lady, gave a recitation. A man-dolin solo by Art Morse was creditably given. Miss Bessie Fraunfelter ren-dered a guitar solo, and a piano duett was given by Misses Anna and Daisy Poole in a manner which brought forth hearty applause.

A social time was then indulged in and supper was served. The members of the circle are Misses Jessie Becker, Ella Sanders, Bessie Winans, Kate Davis. Daisy Poole, Mame Whetstone Anna and Nellie Jones, Grace Walker, Lou Deppon, Margaret Hutton, May Keen, Margaret Edwards and Bertha Lodge Members Addressed.

At the regular meeting of Robert Mor ris lodge, No. 58, Order of American True Ivorites, which was held last even ing in Masonic hall, Henry P. Davies Eynon street, gave an interesting talk on "Yellowstone Park" and points of interest in the west. Mr. Davies revisited that territory, and his talk last evening was very instructive. He told of many natural wonders which are to be seen, and described many of the lofty peaks in the Rockies. When Mr. Davies had concluded he was given a hearty vote of thanks.

THE MIMIC WORLD.

Peter Maher and his first-class vaude rille company will pay a return engage ment at the Academy of Music Satur day night. Moher will give a boxing exhibition with Professor P. J. Murphy of this city, who is conceded to be one of the handlest men with his hands in this part of the state. There is a good deal of interest taken in the coming to gether of these two men. It will be nothing more than a friendly encounte but it is predicted that Murphy will give the Irish champion one of the liveliest set-tos he has had for some time Billy Hennessy, of Boston, and Peter Lowery, the Dublin champion, will also give an exhibition. These "goes" will only be incidental features of the perormance, which is made up of some of the best variety acts now on the stage.

Cleopatra at the Academy. No production seen here in a long time is of as much dramatic importance or has aroused such a general interest as the one of "Cleopatra," which Miss Lillian Lewis will present at the Academy of Music on Monday, March 25. Barn of Scheuer Brothers, Bakers Damaged by Fire.

WORK OF THE FESTIVE FIRE BUG

No Insurance Was Carried on the Stable or Contents-Narrow Escape of Seven Horses - Damage by Fire and Water Estimated at $1,500.

Some persistent fire bug is engaged at his nefarious work on the South Side, out fortunately, except in one instance, he destruction of the barn of the Casey & Kelley Brewing company's barn, his attempts have failed. Whoever the individual is, or whatever his purpose, the property owned by Scheuer Broth ers, bakers, appears to be his special object of attack. At one time it was suspected that a woman residing on Locust street was responsible for the fires, but enough of proof could not be collected to convict her, and on that account her name is not given to the

The fire which broke out last night at 8:45, the alarm being sounded from box 53, at Cedar avenue and Elm street, originated in the barn owned by the Scheuer Brothers. It is situated between Locust and Brook street, and stands on the edge of the creek. It is directly in the rear of the Meadow Brook brewery and surrounded on all sides with frame buildings. A superhuman effort would have to be made to control the fire if it had not been disovered in time.

Harry Rennie lives at 343 Locust street, less than a block from the barn, and he works as teamster for Scheuer Some one shouted to him that the barn was on fire, and he rushed to the scene. When he arrived he found the fire broke out in the rear part of the stable where a large quantity of bedding straw had been stored away. The flames were eating their way rapidly to the roof. Seven horses were stabled in the barn and it was Rennie's first effort to liberate the animals, which he succeeded in doing with some diffi-culty. In the meantime the fire companies had arrived, the Centurys first, and their hose was the first to direct a stream on the fire. With the assistarce of the Neptunes and William Connells the fire was got under control in less than an hour.

Chief Engineer Ferber was punctually on the scene and directed the efforts of the firemen. He was seen by a Tribune reporter after the fire and expressed the opinion that it was of in-cendiary origin. Philip Scheuer, of the was interviewed, and declared positively that it was the attempt of a fire bug. No insurance is carried on the building and counting the damage to Peckville. the barn and to the stock of hay, feed and straw, he estimates the loss incident to the fire at $1,500.

been set on fire in that vicinity, he chooses a very appropriate field of operations. The fire last night is the sixth attempt made in that neighborhood. Less than twenty feet across the story are packed away upwards of 500 empty barrels and boxes. The Meadow Brook Silk mill, Hand's brewery and Helreigel's wagon making establish-ment are all situated closely together and would feed the fire most disastrously. Evidently this is a case for the police to investigate.

WICKED WILKES-BARRE.

Mr. Nichols Says It Is Difficult to En force the Law There. Emmett D. Nicholls, of Wilkes-Barre, brother of the mayor of that city, addressed a meeting of the Central Prohibition league last evening at Conservatory hall upon "The Present Licensing System." He traced the authority, responsibility and results of the system and argued that the government had entered into a partnership with the liquor traffic in 1862 to raise more revenue, and that the interest of the government exceeded that of the liquor deal-He condemned the alliance in ers. scathing terms and denounced it as contrary to the established principles of Christianity, which should always govern a Christian nation.

Mr. Nicholls dwelt on the difficulties contended with at Wilkes-Barre in enforcing the laws, and made a powerful appeal to Prohibitionists to remain in field and fight the battle politically until the liquor traffic had been "wiped out of existence.

Chairman W. W. Lathrope initiated a general discussion, in which he expressed his disappointment at the granting of a license to a person in the Thirteenth ward, notwithstanding that the presiding judge had declared that the applicant had been guilty of violation of the law and that sufficient evidence had been given to warrant a con

BOUTH SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 10, 1894.

Mr. C. W. Campbell—Dear Sir: I have given my boy, Freddie, 7 years old, some of Dr. Campbell's Magic Worm Sugar and Tea. and to my surprise this afternoon about 2 o'clock he passed a tapeworm measuring about 85 feet in length, head and all. I have it in a bottle and any person wishing to see it can do so by calling at my store. I had tried numerous other remedies recommended for taking tapeworms, but all failed. In my estimation Dr. Campbell's is the greatest worm remedy in existence.
