WHEELMEN'S NEW HOME. Opened with a Reception at Green Ridge

Last Night. The newly furnished, commodious and comfortable new club house of the Green Ridge wheelmen at the corner of Sanderson avenue and Green Ridge street was last night thrown open for inspection by the lady and gentlemen friends of the members. The event was an enjoyable reception in whch several hundred members and guests participated.

Throughout the evening music was furnished by Conrad's orchestra, and vocal music was furnished by a quarteete, Messrs. Florey, Knight, Rowlson and Foote. A running supper was served in the upper rooms. The entertainment was managed by a reception committee composed of Charles M. and W. L. Carr and James Garney.

For a week the members have occupled their ne whome, which is similar to that of the Scranton Bicycle club in the central city. The building is comparatively new and had been occupied as a residence. It has been slightly altered to meet the requirements of the wheelmen, and with its new furnishings and handy arrangement is now a model home for the club.

The wheel room and exercising quarters are located in the basement, and approached from the rear. On the ground floor are situated handsomely furnished reception parlors and cloak and lounging rooms. The library and billiard and smoking rooms are on the upper floor. Good taste has been used in the selection of the new furniture, draperies, carpets and other furnishings and it was the opinon of last nght's guests that the home of the Green Ridge wheelmen is among the best of similar establishments in the

MRS. FRINK SAID GUILTY

Then Her Attorney Asked Judge Buffington to Suspend Sentence.

CASE HELD UNDER ADVISEMENT

Accused Wrote Letters Revolting in Their Obscenity-Statement of the Case Made by Attorney Allen-Other Cases Heard in United States Court.

Mrs. Nell Frink, of Montrose, was called for trial before Judge Buffington in the United States district court yesterday afternoon on a charge of sending obscene letters through the mails. Mrs. Frink is short, somewhat stout and is verging on 40. Her hus-band, a bluff, hearty looking personage. sat beside her in court. Attorney H. C. Reynolds, of this city, and Attorney G. P. Little, of Montrose, appeared for Mrs. Frink, and after the case had been formally called to the attention of the ourts. Mr. Reynolds arose and said that his client would enter a plea of guilty and on account of her mental endition and previous good character they would ask the court to be merciful and suspend sentence Dr. Charles Decker, of Montrose, was alled to testify to Mrs. Frink's mental ondition. He had been her physician for over twenty years and said that during that time she had been a great ufferer from troubles peculiar to her sex which produced hysteria and unbalanced her mind during the duration of these attacks. When hysterical he had seen her expose her person at the winiws of her home and use language that was obscone. He was of the opin-ion that confinement in prison now ould produce either complete insanity sickness that would prove fatal.

Dr. Jackson's Opinion. Dr. D. P. Jackson, of Binghamton, N Y., next went on the stand with a purple necktle and thirty years' experience as a physician and surgeon. It was soon evilent that notwithstanding the purple scarf the doctor is a man of judgment and possesses a thorough knowledge of his chosen profession. He examined Mrs. Frink, he said, as to her mental condition and was led to the conclusion that while she may have delusions and temporary aberration of mind, due to her physical condition, he hd not think she was insane. A lack of moral sensibility such as was shown by Mrs. Frink in the letters, might be ome evidence of insanity though not if a conclusive character. A same per-on could have that lack of moral feel-

S. P. Loomis, who has known Mrs Frick for years, testified to her good haracter and to the fact that he had hysterical fits. Attorney Reynolds said that they had a number of other character witnesses to call, but would rerain from doing so.

Attorney M. S. Allen, of Montrose, private counsel for Mrs. Minnie Stoddard, the complainant in the case, at the request of District Attorney Harry Hall, then stepped before the court and utlined the circumstances and condiion of affairs that led to the arrest of Mrs. Frink.

Attorney Allen's Story.

"During last November," said Mr. Allen, "letters of a very obscene character were received by residents o Montrose. In December John Sweet and Miss Messenger, also residents of that town, received letters that were ile in the extreme, which led to an inestigation as to the source they came om. Before Mr. Sweet received the letter, Mrs. Frink told him he was to receive such an epistle and that he could blame Mrs. Minnie Stoddard for

t. Mrs. Frink declared that in vain she had endeavored to prevent the letters from being sent. After the letter was received, Mrs. Stoddard was acquainted with the statement made by Mrs. Frink and decided that the matter should be investigated that she might be set right in the eyes of the ommunity.

"She went to Mrs. Frink's house obtained a specimen of the latter's handwriting, and comparison showed that it was identical with the hand in which the obscene letters were writen. Mrs. Stoddard's next move was to pay another visit to Mrs. Frink and charge her with sending the letters. She further stated that if Mrs. Frink did not tell the truth about the matter her husband would be acquainted with the details of the case. Mrs. Frink thereupon wrote a confession admitting that she wrote the letters, and then the case was allowed to rest until some time later, when Mrs. Frink again began to accuse Mrs. Stoddard of writing the letters. That lady then entered complaint and had Mrs. Frink arrested for violating the laws of the United States. Hold the Case Under Advisement.

After listening to Mr. Allen's state-ment Judge Buffington said that he would hold the case under advisement for a few days. He was not sure that Mrs. Frink was an irresponsible agent was it was his opinion that she should ning for prominent residents. While be placed where she would not have an passing out of the Wyoming House opportunity to perpetrate similar let-

He denied that he had any appliances for making counterfeit money, and said that he was an innocent holder of the spurious coin found in his possession. He was defended by Attorney D. P. In the case of the United States against George Hess, a nolle prosequi was entered.

Torrey Was Fortunate.

Wilson Torrey, of Strumpstown, Snydey county, was tried on two indictments charging him with passing counterfeit money. He was represented by Attorney D. P. Replogle, of this city. There was evidence given on the part of the government showing that in August, 1894, Torrey passed a counterfeit dollar and half dollar. He alleged that he did not know the coin was bad and the jury believed him. Verdicts of not guilty were returned in both cases. In discharging the accused Judge Bufflington said that he was not entirely satisfied of the innocence of Torrey in the matter of pass ing the coin, knowing it to be bad and advised him not to again get into that court or he would regret it. John Meyers and Abel Meyers wer put on trial for burglarizing the postoffice at Roaring Springs, Blair county, on Oct. 26 last. The safe in the COMMON PLEAS COURT.

Cases That Came Up in That Department of Justice.

Common pleas court was listless yesterday, being overshadowed by the famous Anna Dickinson case in No. 2 court room. In the main court room nothing was going on in the afternoon, as Judge Edwards discharged all the jurors in his court from further attendance, the attorneys interested in the cases open for trial being engaged in the trial of cases in the other rooms.

The appeal suit of G. E. Powell against Constable S. M. Sloat and Mrs. Minnie Johns, brought about by a dispute over an amount of $28, was decided in favor of the plaintiff, but the amount returned by the verdict of the jury was only $18.25. The appeal suit of S. N. Callendar against H. D. Hinsdell was called for trial before Judge Edwards, and the defendant did not put in appearance; therefore judgment in the sum of $127.06 was ordered by the court in favor of the plaintiff.

In No. 3 court room before Judge Purdy the trespass suit of Jackson Merryweather against the city was on all day and had not been finished at adjournment. It will not go to the jury before this afternoon. Merryweather alleges that his property was damaged to the extent of $2,000. Civil Engineer E. F. Blewitt was city engineer the time that the sewer was built which overflowed and damaged Merryweather's property. Mr. Blewitt swore positively that the sewer was properly constructed, and that the city was not liable for the overflow. The rain storms of July. 1888, were very severe.

Jones Replevin Suit. Refore Judge Archbald the replevin suit of John P. Jones against C. W. Maxwell was tried. It was tried nearly a year ago and a verdict for the defend ant rendered. A rule for a new trial was granted, and when it was heard on several occasions been called to at argument court a new trial of the hold her when she was suffering from case was ordered. Jones owned a team case was ordered. Jones owned a team of horses, a wagon, double harness blankets, etc., all of the value of $400, and leased them to a man named Wands, who did not pay his debts, and the property was sold at sheriff's execution. Maxwell and others bought in the property and Jones is suing them to recover the value of the property taken. Jones claims that Wands did not own the property when it was sold, The case was on trial when court ad-

Delivered by Miss Heath at the Green Ridge Library.

The first of a series of art lectures for the benefit of the Green Ridge IIbrary was given by Miss Heath in the library building last night. The attendance was not large. The subject was "Christ in Art."

The remaining three lectures will be delivered on the evenings of April 2, 9 and 16, the subjects being respectively "The Flemish School as Represented by Rubens and Van Dyck," "The French School as Represented by Grenze and Le Brun," and "The Burblzon School." From the subjects it will be noticed that the series is not continuous, but each subject is separate and distinctive.

Since last November $1,100 has been raised for the library building fund, and the proceeds of the lectures will be applied toward the $1,500 yet to be obtained.

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

The rising of the curtain of the George Thatcher and Carroll Johnson minstrel organization at the Academy of Music Saturday evening will disclose a picture of splendor and beauty. There will be a grand display of mag nificent scenery and costumes, elab orate appointments and electrical effects, rarely achieved in a minstrel organization. Messrs. Thatcher Johnson promise that their former efforts in the way of novelties, superior singing, refined comedy and entertaining specialties will be surpassed by their present company. The parade which the company will make on the day of the performance, about the hour of noon, is a most gorgeously costumed affair, and there will be displayed more novel costumes than any minstrel street demonstration we have yet seen

"She" is a weird story, as played by A. Y. Pearson's company, a tale of his-torical interest. It is written with excellent taste, the costumes are historic ally correct, and all of the stage accessories are such as to lend valuable aid to the general success of a worthy play Every character is an essential element and between them all are included every human emotion. The company present-ing it is of the best. Prominent in the cast is Miss Sadie Farley as Ayesha, Lottle Church as "Ustans," and Chester De Vaude, as "Killikrates" and Leo Vincey, Walter Fredericks as Romo Harrison, Armstrong as Billalla, Al Clayton and A. N. Davis as Ted and Job, Miss Alice Spencer as the Hag. "She" will be seen Thursady, Friday and Saturday at Davis', afternoon and The simple announcement of Waite's

Comedy company, Premium band and orchestra, whose excellent perform-ances have, for the past twelve years, delighted their patrons, is sufficient to arouse a feeling of pleasure among our amusement public. Added to this, the fact that the queen of soubrettes, Miss Carrie Louis, will appear as the leading feature in the comedies, guarantees a class of entertainment equal to or superior to any that has appeared this season and one which will be hailed with delightful expectancy. Each performance will be interspersed with singing and dancing specialties by Miss Louis and others, and the latest sensational overtures by the concert orchestra-the best on the road. The company, all told, consists of thirty persons. They open a 3-night engage-ment at the Frothingham Monday evening, April 1. Tuesday and Wednesday a matinee will be given at the uniformly low price of 10 cents.
