THE DEATH OF GEORGE SEAL

Ho Was a Well-Known Resident of This Part of the City-William Oakley is Still Missing from His Home. Minor News Notes.

George Seal, the well-known milk dealer of this side, died at an early hour yesterday morning at his home on North Keyser avenue, after a few weeks illness. Deceased was 54 years of age and was born in Sussex county. England, in 1840. He came to this country in 1869 and immediately embarked in the farming business on his present large farm on Keyser avenue. Mr. Seal had a very large milk business, and furnished the majority of families on the West Side with the lacteal fluid. He was good-natured and generous, and was always ready to assist those in distress. Mr. Seal was a member witrh Hyde Park lodge, No. 339, Free and Accepted Masons; Court Pride of Lackawanna, Ancient Order of Foresters; Lodge No. 306, Knights of Pythias; Mingo tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, and Sons of St. George. A wife and the following children survive him: William, George, Lizzle, Thomas, David, Jennie and Abraham Seal. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon under the direction of the lodges from the home at 1 o'clock and at the Jackson Street Baptist church at 2 o'clock services will be held. Interment will be made in the Washburn Street cemetery.

WEST SIDE FIRE

Three Men Burned by an Explosion of Benzine in a Cellar.

GOOD WORK OF THE PIREMEN

Checked the Progress of Flames and Prevented Entire Destruction of the Buildings -- Amounts of Losses and the Insurance Carried.

By the exertions of the fire companies the handsome buildings at Main avenue and Jackson street, West Side, were vesterday morning saved from total destruction. The fire originated in a cellar of the building occupied by Johns Bros., hard-ware dealers. A pile of oakum packing had been left in a corner, and one of the employes of the store, after lighting a lamp, threw a match into the inflammable material. Sometime later the fire was discovered and an alarm was sounded about 10 o'clock, which was responded to by the Columbia and Franklin companies. The fire, however, made such headway that a special call was sent to the Hook and Ladder company, and after it was discovered that the neighboring stores were in danger, a second alaren was sounded, which brought up the Chemical engine, the Eagle and Nay Aug companies.

into the cellar belonging to B. G. Morgan's drug store, and smoke filled the police station on Jackson street and the general store of J. F. Eynon & Co., on Main avenue, and the next building, ocupled by Mrs. Decker as a drug store. Above Mr. Morgan's store Dr. T. M.

Explosion of Benzine.

By noon the store of Messrs, Johns had been reduced to a wreck and the floor gave way, but by this time the flames had been controlled and the fire companies were preparing to leave when Chief Ferber and a few of the men went to the cellar where the fire originated, to ascertain if the streams of water had finished their work. One of the fireman lit a match and threw it into the water. Instantly an explosion was heard, and flames rushed through the windows of the cellar, over the sidewalk. The explosion was caused by the benzine which had escaped from a barrel and was floating on the water.

Chief Ferber gave orders to the men to withdraw immediately, but three of them, Marvine Steinback, of the Franklins; James George, of the Phenix chemical engine, and Frank Mc-Donough, a plumber employed by Messrs. Johns, were severely scorched by the flames in making their escape. In order to reach the sidewalk they vere compelled to rush through the flames. A number of men were in the store above when the explosion occurred, and had boarded up the dismantled doorway, and, to make their escape, had to break down the partition and run the gauntlet of the flames; they scaped more fortunately than the men in the cellar, although they ran a serious risk in being situated above the flaming mass, The wounds of the three men were dressed by Dr. Reynolds, and Engineer George was taken to the Lackawanna hospital.

The remainder of the men faught galpelled to devote their energies to protecting the buildings, as the streams of was extinguished after almost four hours' incessant battling.

Losses by the Fire.

The exterior of the buildings are pracically uninjured, the bulk of the damare being to the goods and fixtures inside. The buildings in which Morgan's drug store and Johns' hardware store are situated are owned by B. G. Morgan, who carries a large insurance with the Cambrian Mutual Fire Insurance ompany. The new flooring and other structural arrangements at Johns' hardware store will be the chief claims upon this company. The loss upon the stock at the hardware store will, however, be complete, as practically nothing was saved. The stock was valued at $4,000 and is but partially covered by insurance.

In B. G. Morgan's drug store the chief loss will be the destruction of $1,000 worth of wall paper in the cellar, which was divided from the cellar where the fire originated by a partition of thin boards, and also the complete loss of the contents of the stock room on the first floor. Mr. Morgan carries an in-Mechanics', Aurora and Merchants' companies, of which D. J. Evans is

Mr. Morgan expressed himself as a very fortunate individual yesterday, as he main body of the fire was separated but by the thin partition from a considerable quantity of oils, varnishes and other inflammable goods, which, if they had shared in the conflagation, would have resulted in the total destruction of one of the handsomest structures on the West Side, Mr. Morgan also carries an insurance on his stock of $1,000 with the North British and Mercantile company, and $1,000 with the Pennsylvanla Fire company. In Eyaon and Company's Store. In the store of G. F. Eynon and comoany, which is situated next to the pardware store, a large stock of groerles, molasses, lamps, baskets, etc., was ruined by the flow of water, and a e rendered unfit for sale owing to the | Fourteen were absent. effects of the smoke which filled the building. Mrs. Wesley Peck, is ill with scarlet fever.

A large number interested in the properties and goods threatened by the fire complimented Chief Ferber upon the creditable manner in which his department prevented the spread of the flames, and avoided what was feared would have been a most disastrous fire Upon inquiry at the Lackawanna hospital last night Engineer George was reported to be resting comfortably, and his early recovery was an-
