PERSONAL.

Ex-Superintendent of Schools Werner, of Northampton county, is here on business.

C. C. Ferber, of the Clemens, Ferber, O'Malley company, is spending a few days in New York buying spring stock.

Percy James, of Olympia, the well known musician, is able to take outdoor exercise after a prolonged illness.

E. B. Sturges and D. B. Atherton will leave for New York today to investigate a proposition made to the board of trade to locate an important industry in this city.

The Rt. Rev. William M. Barker, D.D., bishop of the missionary jurisdiction of Olympia, Washington, is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. S. G. Barker, 22 Madison avenue.

Miss Edith Davis, niece of Warden T. J. Price, of the county jail, was pleasantly surprised by a party of friends from the West Side last evening, who journeyed to the institution on Washington avenue, where Miss Davis resides with Mr. and Mrs. Price. The popular young lady, although taken by surprise, was equal to the occasion, and soon made her friends comfortable. An interesting programme of vocal music and literary recitations was rendered after which the guests were regaled with light refreshments. Those making up the party were:
Misses Celia Lewis, Jennie Rodrick, Gertie Thomas, Sadie Thomas, Minnie Thomas, Nettie Datsman, Edith Drilling, Ida Lewis and Mollie Slantz; Eldridge Dougherty, Will Thomas, George Nichols, William Griffiths, E. H. Evans, Peter Lewis, Ray Williams and Edwin Watkins.

KING ALCOHOL GUILTY.

Tried in the Salvation Army barracks on Jackson Street.

King Alcohol received a terrific blow at the Salvation Army barracks, on Price street, last night, where the soldiers of the local contingent had assembled to conclude the discussion which has been publicly carried on for some time.

A preliminary service was held which opened with the hymn, "I Will Win." In which the master of the ceremony declared that he was going to win. This was followed by a similar declaration from the many voices behind him. They said they would win and the voices of the ladies were then heard expressing their confidence of winning.

After a preliminary skirmish by the red coated soldiers in the way of em-panelling a jury it was announced that the representatives of "King Alcohol" and his opponents would review the evidence given at a previous hearing, before the verdict would be arrived at.

The staff major thereupon began the delivery of a spirited defense of King Alcohol, and claimed fair play for all, even the devil. "Not a bit of it," piped a little female voice. Undeterred, however, he slashed into the witnesses of the prosecution and ridiculed the idea that King Alcohol was to blame for the sins which were charged up to him. He claimed that the clergy and the Christian people of the country had expressed the opinion that the saloon was righteously licensed and they should abide by the majority.

The representative of the prosecution then took off his gloves and made mince meat of King Alcohol, his representatives and everyone connected with him, directly or indirectly, and so wrought upon the feeling of the jury that they gave a verdict of "guilty" amid a deafening chorus of "amen" and "hallujahs."

MAN WITH MANY NAMES

Convicted of Using the United States Mails to Defraud People.

MRS. RINSLAND FORTUNATE

District Attorney Entered a Nolle Prosequi in Her Case—Joseph Conrad Convicted of Impersonating a Dead Soldier.
Eccentric Doctor John Corr.

George W. Knox, alias W. J. Sanford, W. S. Denning, etc., etc., was tried before Judge Bullington yesterday afternoon in the United States district court for using the United States mails to defraud people. The accused is a young man about 32 years of age and possesses a college education and a history that is enveloped in a haze of romance and mystery. His real name he has not divulged, but it is understood that he is a son of well-to-do people residing at Syracuse, N. Y., although his counsel told Judge Bullington yesterday that the prisoner's mother is a widow in indigent circumstances and that it was for the purpose of supplying her with the necessities of life that the son became a law-breaker.

The accused operated for a time in the western part of this state under the name of W. J. Sanford. His plan was to place a want advertisement in the newspapers stating that he was anxious to secure a young woman to act as a manager of an agency he wished to establish. To replies received through the mails he would say that the manager would not be required to do any canvassing, but simply have to act as distributing agent to those who were to solicit orders for the Schulter letter file, of which Sanford claimed to be the general agent. Before employing the applicant he required them to deposit with him a fee of $12 as security and for the payment of stationery for the agency. By this scheme Sanford worked young women residing in Altoona, Pittsburgh, Wheeling, W. Va., and other places.

He Had no Counsel

When Sanford was arraigned yesterday he had no attorney and court directed F. E. Alden, a special examiner of pensions, who is also an attorney, to look after the interests of the accused.
Though it was the second case that Mr. Alden had tried, district attorney Hall objected, however, to his doing so unless Sanford was sworn and allowed himself to be cross-examined. He did not choose to do so and the case was given to the jury. A verdict of guilty was returned, and Sanford was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and spend thirteen months in the Western penitentiary at Pittsburgh.

The Rinsland Case.

District Attorney Hall announced to the court that he was prepared to enter a nolle prosequi in the case against Mrs. Maggie Rinsland, of this city, who was charged with sending obscene letters through the mails to her sister-in-law at Carbonate. Mrs. Rinsland was called before the court and Judge Bullington said that it was with some reluctance that he had allowed the nolle prosequi to be entered. It was not because of inability on the part of the government to make out a case that the action had been taken, but from considerations as to her family that led to the district attorney's decision.

Verdicts of not guilty were returned in the case against John and Abel Mayers, charged with burglarizing the postoffice at Roaring Springs, Blair county.

George W. Moore, of Clifford, Susquehanna county, pleaded guilty to forgery names to pension papers, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $5, costs and serve six months in the Lackawanna county jail.

Joseph Conrad, of Northumberland county, was convicted of making false affidavits for the purpose of obtaining a pension. He was successful in drawing the pension and for a time drew $6 a month from the War Department. He is almost 70 years of age and is bent and decrepit. He had a cousin of the same name who served in the war as a member of Company C, One Hundred and Thirty-first regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers. Joseph Conrad, the warrior, died of smallpox in 1884 and about two years ago he flashed across the mind of his living namesake that there was no good reason why he should not draw a pension for the man who was dead, as Uncle Sam would never know the difference.

Made a Poor Witness.

The prisoner went on the stand in his own behalf, but made a very poor witness, being confused and confused and practically convicted himself. His attorney, D. O. Coughlin, saw that defense was not impossible and declined to address the jury. A verdict of guilty was returned.

John Corr, an old man who says he is a "Historic and Electric Doctor," was convicted of sending an obscene letter through the mails to the Bradford Argus, one of the leading papers of the northern tier. The defendant is an eccentric old fellow and created much amusement during the trial of the case. He was found guilty, but Judge Bullington suspended sentence.

TRIED IN COMMON PLEAS.

Cases That Occupied Attention of the Three Judges.

Before Judge Edwards in the main court room the trespass suit of Mrs.
Jennie E. Brink in the sum of $1,500 against the borough of Dunmore, was put on trial yesterday morning. Ex-Justice Alfred Hand and Attorney William J. Hand are attorneys for the plaintiff and Attorney L. H. Burns and M. E. McDonald represent the borough.

Mrs. Brink lives on Blakely street in Dunmore, and a few years ago the borough council passed an ordinance widening the street. In consequence four feet of the front of her lot was cut away and the fence was shoved up against the porch. On the four feet that was converted into a part of the street, three fine shade trees were growing, and these were removed and destroyed.
She valued the trees at $500 each and declared that she would not sell them for even that figure if any one desired to purchase them. The trees, together with the part of her land taken, she stoutly maintains represent far more than the amount for which the suit is brought. The plaintiff's side of the case was still before the court at adjournment.

The Merry Weather Case.

In No. 3 court room before Judge Purdy the Merryweather trespass suit dragged alone and will take up the most of today before it goes to the jury.

In Judge Archbald's room the case of the city against Martin McDonough, of Minooka, was called for trial. City Sol-licitor Torrey was in the interest of the plaintiff and Attorney T. P. Hohan and M. J. Donahoe represented Mr. Mc-Donough. The action was brought to recover $97. Mr. McDonough owns the property at the corner of Fig street and Pittston avenue in the Twentieth ward.

In 1891 Fig street was graded and the board of viewers that was appointed to assess the cost of grading fixed the amount that Mr. McDonough's property should be assessed for the grading at $97. There was absolutely no grading done opposite Mr. McDonough's property, and he refused to pay.

The attorneys for the defendants asked the court for binding instructions to the jury for the reason that the assessment was made before the ordinance providing for the grading of the street was passed. Judge Archbald took that view of it and a verdict was rendered for the defendant. Court granted a rule to show cause why a new trial should not be granted.

Verdict in Jones Case.

In the case of John P. Jones against Charles W. Maxwell and others a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. The amount in dispute was $100, the value of a team of horses, a wagon, harness and blankets, sold at sheriff's sale, and bought by the defendants. At a former trial of the case a verdict for the defendant was given, but court granted a new trial.

UNITED STATES COURT NOTES.

It is probable that the work of the district court will be completed today.
Judge C. Davis, of Towanda, Bradford county, son of ex-Lieutenant Governor Davis, is one of the petit jurors.

The grand jury finished its work yesterday, but a number of the members of it were retained to act as jurors in the district court.

Attorney D. O. Coughlin, one of the heavy-weight members of the Luzerne county bar, was admitted to practice in the United States court yesterday.
The grand jury returned these true bills yesterday: Charles C. Fox, taking letter from postoffice containing an article of value; Amos Robinson, carrying on business of a retail liquor dealer without paying a special tax; Harvey Steinway and Paul Strick, retail liquor dealers not paying a special tax; Jacob So-skolnik, taking letter from postoffice and embezzling contents.

WAR AMONG THE PIANOS.

Manager Flynn Pushed Bessie Burns

Just before midnight last night Bessie Burns, one of the actresses of the London Gaiety Girls company, which has been the attraction for three days at Davis' theatre, had a warrant issued for the arrest of John A. Flynn, one of the actors of the company. Miss Burns charged Flynn with assault and battery.

To Alderman Fitzsimmons Miss Burns told her tale of woe and said that Flynn had struck and pushed her over a trunk in one of the dressing rooms during the performance. Flynn choked and fell, but his brother, the other part owner of the show, was found at the Lackawanna depot just previous to the departure of the 12.19 train west, and at first refused to cross the irate actress' palm with any sum. He was later persuaded by the alderman's oratory and Patrolman Lewis' presence to settle. The amount was $16.

The company appears in Binghamton tonight, but Miss Burns has obtained comfortable quarters in this city.

JONES IS A BRAVE MAN.

He Married a Van Dyke with $1.25 in His Pocket.

Richard W. Jones, of Luzerne street, and a maiden with the patrician name of Rebecca J. Van Dyke, entered Alderman Fitzsimmons' office yesterday.
They smiled and looked coy, and the alderman reached for a marriage certificate.

He knew by intuition what their mission was.

The knot was tied and Jones produced $12.50, all the cash he possessed in the world, to recompense the alderman for his services. The latter protested that it was not bargain day in the marimonial department of his court, and to female friend of the contracting parties contributed an additional 75 cents.

One-third of this amount the alderman insisted on turning over to the groom to celebrate the momentous event with, and then Mr. and Mrs.
Jones went into the world happy and without a care to burden them or an anxiety to cause worry.

MUST SETTLE UP.

Scranton Traction Company Conductors Receive Notifications.

Almost every conductor on the employ of the Scranton Traction company received a personal letter yesterday from General Manager Beeten to the effect that the shortages to the account of each one of them should be settled up immediately.

There is a system in vogue that maintains a strict account of the money turned in by each conductor, and daily a large batch of shortage slips is sent out from the general office notifying each conductor of his standing. Some receive notices that they have overpaid the company, but the preponderating percentage of them are notifications that they have underpaid the company in the daily settlement of accounts.

The letters from Manager Beeten are in reference to shortages as far back as last July.

The following letter was received during the day:

Editor of The Tribune.
Dear Sir: The enclosed $2 is for the Finishing and Furnishing fund and is conscience money. This small sum is not all I owe the Young Men's Christian association, but it is all I can afford now.
I don't mean to indicate that I have stolen from its cash drawer, but I am positive that the kind of manhood it was retained to act as jurors in the dis-

Saved His Life

What Munyon's Remedies Did for a Prominent Ohioan.

He Could Eat but Little and Was in Constant Pain—Cured with One Bottle.

W. T. Loffer, a well known resident of Kent, Ohio, says that Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure undoubtedly saved his life. In relating his experience he said: "For a long time I have been afflicted with dyspepsia.
I could eat scarcely anything and was in constant pain. The gas on my stomach distended it greatly and my heart became affected. I was troubled with short breathing, fluttering and irregular beating of the heart, and often the pain was so great I thought I was going to die.
My friends urged me to try Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure, but I had tried so many different medicines without being benefited that I thought this would be only one more failure. I bought a bottle of the cure and used it. The result was wonderful. After the first bottle I could eat without discomfort, and am now thoroughly cured."

Munyon's Stomach and Dyspepsia Cure cures all forms of indigestion and stomach troubles such as constipation, rising of food, distress after eating, bloating of the stomach, flatulency of the heart, shortness of breath and all affections of the heart caused by indigestion. It soothes, heals and invigorates stomachs that have been weakened by over-eating, or where the lining of the stomach has been impaired by physic and injurious medicines.
Price 25 cents.

Munyon's Homeopathic Home Remedy Company, of Philadelphia, put up specifies for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

Those who are in doubt as to the nature of their disease should address Professor Munyon, 156 Arch street, Philadelphia, giving full symptoms of their disease.
Professor Munyon will carefully diagnose the case and give you the benefit of his advice free of charge. The Remedies will be sent to any address on receipt of retail price.
