The other lights are placed respectively at the switch on Pittston avenue around the corner from Birch street; the switch at No. 11 school, and at the switch on the Minooka hill on Cedar avenue. With this improvement the South Side and Minooka line is now one of the best equipped under the company.

Accused Has Entered Bail to Answer Charge at Court.

TESTIMONY GIVEN BY MR. DUNN

etailed the Events That Took Pince in the Office of Colonel Fitzsimmons. Latter Said That He Did Not See the Shots Fired.

Detective Anthony Scanlon appeared before Alderman Fuller yesterday afternoon upon a charge preferred by Alex Dunn of "committing an assault and battery with intent to kill and lev-eling a pistol and firing two shots" at the complainant. Mr. Scanlon was held in $800 bail to appear in court, his father, Anthony Scanlon, sr., qualifying as his bondsman. The hearing attracted a large crowd to hear the evidence. Attorney J. P. Kelly appeared for Mr. Dunn, and At-torney J. F. Scragg represented Mr. Scanion. Mr. Kelly opened his case by recapitulating the events of the case and stated that the charge was one of felonious wounding with intent to kill. His client was at Colonel Fitzsimmons office on business and in leaving the office made some remarks to Mr. Scan ion with regard to a disputed bill, when the latter threatened to annihilate his client, who, however, did not imagine that Scanion had any intention to injure him until he picked up a piece of iron and flung it at Mr. Dunn. The missile struck the door jamb, a few inches from his client's head. When the iron missed Dunn's head Scanlon picked up his revolver and chased Dunn down the stairway, firing two shots at him. Mr. Dunn's Testimony. Alex. Dunn, in giving his testimony. said that when passing Scanlon he remarked: "Chappie Scanlon, have you any money today," when Scanlon replied that he had stood enough abuse from him and added "I'll kill you." He replied "Scanlon, you're a big bluff." Scanlon, after picking up the plece of iron and throwing it at the witness, got is revolver, when witness retreated through the doorway, closing the doo behind him. Scanlon, however, folowed him and fired two shots, which lodged in the wall, the lime and plaster striking witness in the face.

Mr. Scragg cross-examined Mr. Dunn as to the check sent by Mr. Scanlon in payment of the bill, but Mr. Kelly objected and his objection was upheld. Mr. Scragg then started in another direction and questioned the witness whether he had not been cautioned by Scanlon not to call upon him again after the check was tendered, but again an objection was successfully made. The attorney then endeavored to ascertain if Mr. Dunn had seen Mr. Scanlon on Sunday morning with regard to the account, when his question met with the same fate. Several other questions were ruled out of order, and finally in crossexamination, Dunn admitted that he was told by Scanlon not to "dun" him any more. He had written a letter in lead-pencil, but Mr. Kelly objected to the letter being read. Mr. Scragg in-timated that it contained threats. He also admitted that he told Scanlon that if he put down the iron, he (prosecutor) would receipt the disputed bill. He thought he lost his hat on the stairs but would not swear that it was not left in the office, as he was a little nervous at the time. He sent a young man for the hat and told him to be careful.

Did Not See Shooting. that the two men were very angry and quarreling, but did not see Scanlon shooting. Captain Edwards stated that on behalf of Mr. Dunn, he made an examination of the stairway and saw the mark of two bullets.

Mr. Scanlon then waived a futher hearing and entered ball in $800.
