

“What a Lovely Complexion!”

“Isn't her complexion charming?” These are expressions we hear every day, made by women in reference to others, which reveal a pardonable envy, and one which can be gratified.

The secret of good health, as indicated by a rich color, and well-rounded figure, is found in a good digestion. Shopping tours, dances and entertainments indulged in, will leave you utterly fatigued, unless you are obtaining all the value from your food; and it is so easy to accomplish this that you will wonder no one has spoken to you of before.

Try with each meal, and at bedtime, a wineglassful or more of the Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract, which you will find to be most acceptable to the palate as a beverage, and will lift you right on to the plane of the vivacious and trim-figured sister you admire so much, and who seems capable of enduring endless fatigue.

Then, again, we must remember the nursing mother, whose two lives are dependent upon the proper nourishing of the one. Surely nothing can be more valuable to the mother, nor give more comfort to the baby, by producing a generous flow of milk, than the Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract. Defective nutrition is the foundation of all ailments. A healthy, well-nourished body can withstand almost any disease. There is resistance power in such a body.

I have been taking the Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract myself for a year or so, and find it an excellent tonic and appetizer. Without doubt it is the best Malt Extract in the market.

Postoffice Robbery. Springfield Postoffice a Case Similar to That of Scranton.

Springfield, Ill., April 4.—The post office here was robbed of about $10,000 worth of stamps and silverware yesterday. The robbery was committed about noon while Postmaster Ridgely was at dinner, and was not discovered until 5 o'clock.

Access was gained to the vault by the use of duplicate keys. The vault is located in the postmaster's private office, and the combination is never turned except at night. In order to secure entrance to the vault two keys had to be used, one to open the spring lock on the door of the office and the other to the inner corner of the vault.

Both of these doors were locked when Mr. Ridgely returned to the office after lunch. Besides the stamps Mr. Ridgely had stored in the vault his daughter's wedding presents, valued at $1,000. The stamps and silverware would make an enormous package and it is hard to conceive of a method to take it from the building in broad daylight without detection.

“The Inland Printer” for April. Volume XV of the Inland Printer commences with the April issue. The number is not only the handsomest ever issued by this technical art journal of the printing and paper trades, but it is also the largest. The cover design by V. K. Schuyler and the leading article by this artist-journalist are exceedingly valuable and interesting.

The cover design, an Easter motif, is a beautiful rendering of the Easter story in a most artistic and interesting manner. The cover design is a beautiful rendering of the Easter story in a most artistic and interesting manner.

TALES OF TWO PITTSBORNS

News of Interest to Readers Up and Down the Valley.

PITZER HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

An Engineer Backs a Train Against Him. Arrested for Assault and Battery—Ruggles Has a Fall. Personal Notes.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Pittston, April 4.—This afternoon at about 5 o'clock Harry Pitzer met with an accident which nearly caused his death.

Pitzer is employed as brakeman at the plans in the Coxton yard of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company.

An unusual this afternoon he was attending to his duties in the act of picking up a coupling pin, when the engineer reversed his engine, backing the train onto Pitzer, who was thrown between the rails.

His clothing caught on a brakeman and he was dragged several rods. Neither the engineer or brakeman were aware of the mishap, and uncoupled the engine and took it to the roundhouse.

Some time after, Pitzer was found by a car inspector, still fast to the car and in an unconscious condition. His injuries are mostly of an external nature.

The arrest grew out of a row that occurred on St. Patrick's Day.

TAYLOR.

Dr. John Timlin left on Wednesday for a few weeks' visit with friends in Buffalo.

The Taylor Hose company were out yesterday testing their hose. They also endeavored to show the people how quickly they could connect a hose and prepare for a fire. It was previously understood that the alarm at the Taylor breakers would be blown for the third ward at about noon, and the company responded in remarkably quick time. The people hearing the alarm blowing so continuously thought that there was a large fire in the borough and rushed from their homes in large number to the third ward. They were happily surprised to find no fire, and watched with interest the movements of the company in handling the fire apparatus. The firemen turned the hose on the large crowd, who became greatly incensed, and a free-for-all fight was barely averted.

Preparations are in progress for a grand parade to be held in this borough on Decoration Day, May 30. The movement was commenced by the Taylor Hose company.

The county commissioners will deliver the voting booths and ballot boxes in Noxen township today. We understand the voters on these are dissatisfied with their polling place, which is at the school building, and will take steps to have it changed.

D. N. McKee, of 530 Adams avenue, Scranton, was arrested by Constable Vaughn, of this place, on charge of attempting to heal the sick for a valuable consideration without having first registered as a practicing physician.

McKee is a Christian scientist, or faith curist, and the specific case on which the charge was based was that of the late Elmer E. Brown. Mr. Brown had suffered for a long time with Bright's disease, and long before the Scranton man endeavored to treat his helpless patient, as that man had given up to die by every regular physician that saw him. But the rosy picture that the man of science painted him gave promise of possible hope, even in the death hour. The only harm that could possibly come to him was the suffering he might endure by abstaining from food, as that is one of the fundamental elements of their creed, and he accepted the proffered help. McKee's office consisted in breaking the law, which explicitly states that nobody shall attempt to heal the sick for a valuable consideration without registering as a regular physician. He gave out a note as that of one of the fundamental elements of their creed, and he accepted the proffered help. McKee's office consisted in breaking the law, which explicitly states that nobody shall attempt to heal the sick for a valuable consideration without registering as a regular physician.
