The housewife may be persuaded to try another kind, but if she has used Cleveland's Baking Powder once, she remembers how light and flaky her biscuit were; how her cake kept moist and fresh and she will return to Cleveland's and stick to it.

Remember No baking powder costs so much to make as Cleveland's. No other gives such value.

THE SUCCESS OF ANTIOXIN

Health Officer Allen's Glowing Account of the First Experiment. WAR AGAINST UNCLEANLINESS Many Matters of Importance Treated at an Interesting Session of the Board of Health Yesterday Afternoon. Colonel Ripple's Resolutions.

Active and important steps were taken at the meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon in reference to sanitary matters affecting the public health. A resolution was passed at the previous meeting of the board providing for the appointment of a chemist, who would make a chemical analysis of the milk procured by Food Inspector Thomas. Mr. Thomas stamped over a quantity of milk into the street, because, in his judgment, it was not fit for sale. The dealers thus deprived of the confiscated fluid threatened to prosecute the board of health, and for this reason the appointment of a chemist was recommended. A chemist, Dr. W. Humphrey, of the South Side, has made tests of the drinking water and he was present to inform the board relative to the probable cost of making these analyses. An informal discussion took place and it was the unanimous sense of the board that a chemist for this purpose ought to be appointed to sustain the board's office in his disposition of impure milk and food. But the appointment of a chemist was laid over for another meeting.

Dr. W. E. Allen, health officer of the board read the following report and it received general commendation, especially that section of it that referred to the successful test of antioxin in a case of malignant diphtheria.

Report of Health Officer. "The cold weather has kept back a great deal of work that usually comes to the board of health at this season of the year. The streets and courts, with a few exceptions, are in fair condition. The North Main avenue and Decker's court sewers have for an outlet the ravine running from Main avenue to the dump of the Mount Pleasant colliery, and through the culvert under the culm heap, and from there everything is distributed through the fields and Love road until some of it finally reaches the river. This is certainly a dangerous affair and should be looked after. The question of garbage collection comes to the front now and must be arranged if such a thing is possible. There is no feasible method in sight, but I would respectfully suggest that the board of health ask the assistance of councils and ask for it now. Test Made with Antioxin. I am glad to be able to state that I have had an opportunity of testing antioxin in one case during the month. On March 26 I visited, with Dr. Bernstein, a boy 2 years old, son of Henry Hanstien, of Cross street, Tenth ward. The child had been seriously ill for five days; his throat and face pointed to a fatal termination in a very short time. At 1 p. m. the antioxin was injected; at 8 p. m. the temperature had reduced to 100, breathing greatly improved, the child was sleeping quietly, membranes had loosened from the tonsils. At 8 o'clock the next morning no membrane was in sight, quite a large quantity of it having been coughed up during the night. Since then the temperature has been normal, nothing to be seen in the throat, no cough, no croup. In fact, convalescence was established on the third day, and the child has been well ever since. I am anxiously awaiting another trial!" It was decided to request Mayor Connel to issue a public proclamation and have the same printed in the shape of posters, tacked up in conspicuous places throughout the city, ordering the public at large to cleanse their yards, cellars and outbuildings and put the same in proper sanitary condition before the warm weather approaches. The following resolution introduced by Colonel Ripple was unanimously carried:

Colonel Ripple's Resolution. Resolved, That the secretary of the board be directed to inform the mayor and councils of the filthy condition of Scranton street and West Lackawanna avenue; and notify them that the condition of these thoroughfares is a menace to the public health and that they must be cleansed; and as the North Main avenue and Decker's court sewers terminate at a point several hundred feet from the river and in consequence the sewage is distributed over this surface, breeding disease, and being an offense to the public, it is resolved that the drain from the present mouth of the sewer be covered or piped to the river. It was recommended that the sanitary officer and the member from each district visit the public schools to inspect the sanitary condition of them. Food Inspector Richard Thomas reported that he made 586 official visits of inspection during the month of March and found the general condition of the shops and markets good and the quality of food offered for sale very satisfactory. In view of the approaching season of warm weather, he scrutinized with great care the lactical fluid dealt out at the different dairies in the city and examined over 6,000 quarts, which he found up to the standard. But he found the milk from the two milk farms in Newton township from coming into the city, because they were too enterprising, having a very strong propensity for diluting the nourishing beverage with spring water. He found about 1,200 quarts of milk that was below grade and by virtue of the power vested in him, dumped the entire stock into the street and watched it float placidly into the sewer basins and hurry on to mingle with the rushing tide of the Lackawanna river.

Secretary's Monthly Report. Secretary Walter Birgas read his monthly report and retained the information that the rate of mortality has been larger in March of the present year than it was in the same month of any of the preceding five years. The births for the month past were 124; deaths, 146. Sixteen cases of contagious diseases were reported; scarlet fever, 2; diphtheria, 4; whooping cough, 1; typhoid fever, 1.

Decided Against Them. Court Dismisses Writ of Bell & Hudson Against County Commissioners. The county commissioners will not have to pay for the mercantile appraisal list printed in the Scranton Times, unless the superior court should reverse the opinion handed down yesterday morning by Judge Archbald. The opinion was concurred in by the other judges of the court. Bell & Hudson, proprietors of the Times, applied for a writ of alternative mandamus to compel the county commissioners to advertise the list in the Times, for the reason that the law provides for the publication of the list in a paper that represents the majority party. The Times' proprietors alleged that their paper is the only one representing the minority party. The commissioners ordered the list printed in the Wochenblatt, which is Democratic in principle, and assert that that brings them within the requirement of the act. The proprietors of the Times, through their attorney, M. E. McDonald, threaten to carry the case to the superior court. Judge Archbald handed down a long opinion and substantially says that the commissioners have done all that the act requires. The Wochenblatt is a representative of the minority party and the act of assembly, according to the opinion, does not specify that the journal representing the minority party must be printed in the English language. The costs must be paid by Bell & Hudson.

MRS. O'CONNOR'S FUNERAL. Interment Made in Hyde Park Catholic Cemetery. The funeral of Mrs. James O'Connor took place yesterday morning from her late residence on Franklin avenue. At 9.30 the remains were taken to St. Peter's cathedral, followed by a long line of sorrowing friends and relatives. At the cathedral Rev. J. H. Feeley celebrated a requiem mass. Rev. J. A. O'Reilly was deacon, Rev. M. J. Millane sub-deacon. After the final benediction Rev. Father Feeley preached an impressive sermon, taking his text from Romans, 11:33: "How incomprehensible are His judgments, and how unsearchable His ways." He dwelt at length on the beautiful Christian character of the deceased, and then addressed words of consolation to the sorrowing friends she left behind. Absolution was pronounced and the remains were taken to Hyde Park Catholic cemetery, where interment was made. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The pall-bearers were George McDonald, T. H. Carroll, Dr. J. J. Barret, Percival J. Morris and J. F. McCawley, of Scranton, and P. W. Feeley, of Olyphant. Flower-bearers were George Hayes, P. J. Leonard, J. P. Connolly, Dr. F. L. McGraw and W. E. Ryan.

WHO IS JACOB CALVIN? He Lodged Complaint Against the Proprietors of the Night Lunch Cafeteria. "Williams' City Directory and Street Guide does not contain the name of an individual signing himself Jacob Calvin; but his signature was attached to the bottom of a warrant sworn out before Alderman Fitzsimmons last night for the arrest of A. Goldberg and J. Burros, proprietors of the Lackawanna avenue night lunch wagons. The charge in the warrant was that the defendants are guilty of violating a city ordinance by leaving a wagon standing on the streets all night on the night of April 4. Constable Patrick Hennegan, of the Eighteenth ward, served the document and brought the men before the alderman, who fined them $5 each. They could not pay it and were released on their own recognizance to appear Monday afternoon and liquidate the fine. Alderman Fitzsimmons disclaims responsibility for the arrest of Messrs. Goldberg and Burros, and says he has no knowledge of or part in the movement.

MR. CLARK ON FENDERS

Says Traction Company Will Have Them When a Good One Is Invented. TRACK ON ROBINSON STREET Mr. Clark Does Not Look with Favor on the Project to Move It to the Middle of the Thoroughfare.

Vice President C. M. Clark, of the Scranton Traction company, is in the city, and was interviewed yesterday afternoon at the office of General Manager Beetem by a Tribune reporter. Mr. Clark and Mr. Beetem had just arrived at the office after coming from the West Side, where they had met by appointment a committee from the West Side board of trade, and had inspected Robinson, Ninth and Jackson streets. An ordinance providing for paving these streets is pending in the city council. Before the work of paving these streets begins, the street car tracks will have to be moved, as they run along the lower side of the street. Besides being moved to the center of the streets, the tracks will have to be made new, that is, an entire new rail, of different pattern, the girder rail used on asphalted streets, will have to be substituted for the old T rail now in use. The traction company has had the right of way and has operated the tracks on these streets since 1879.

Condition of Affairs. As is well known, the expense of paving a street has to be met by the owners of property abutting on the said street. The condition of affairs on Ninth, Robinson, and a part of Jackson streets is this: The property owners on the lower or easterly side would have nothing to pay in the way of paving assessment, it is said, because their properties abut against the street-car tracks. Councilman P. J. Nealis, with C. E. Daniels and A. M. Morse, of the board of trade, met Messrs. Clark and Beetem yesterday and they went over the ground. Nothing was done in a business way, but another conference will take place today and Mr. Clark will make known his ultimatum.

The idea of removing the tracks and substituting a new girder rail, which will have to be done if the street is paved with sheet asphalt, did not strike Mr. Clark very agreeably. The tracks now used on these three streets, Mr. Clark says, are good, and he even went so far as to state that the company will not put in a girder rail. This is what he said to a Tribune reporter, and he will likely tell the same story to the board of trade gentlemen this morning. In regard to rumors that bob up intermittently concerning a contemplated change in the management of the company, Mr. Clark said with emphatic force that there is no foundation in fact to them.

A Good Fender Wanted. Asked to say something of the probability of soon equipping the cars with safety fenders, Mr. Clark looked puzzled and answered that the company is ready at any time to do this when a fender has been invented that will fend. According to Mr. Clark, none of the fenders now in use will do what is claimed for them. Many of these equipments, he believes, are more ornamental than useful. Mr. Clark referred to the sad accident Thursday on Adams avenue and the reporter asked him if the fenders now in use would not have prevented the accident? This question he answered by saying that no human agency could prevent some accidents under certain circumstances.

The Moose line was inspected by Mr. Clark, and he spoke about the likelihood of opening the road to Pittston in this style: The Moose line is owned by the Scranton and Pittston Traction company, and is leased by the Scranton Traction company. Just as soon as the Majority of Waverly School Directors Tell Him to Go Ahead. Since Judge Gunster's opinion was handed down in court placing the seal of disapproval upon the practice of conducting denominational religious exercises in the Waverly public school, Principal Hanyon continued to carry on his accustomed form of religious exercises. Yesterday he was strengthened by orders from the majority of the members of the school board. Secretary Stevenson introduced a resolution at Thursday night's meeting of the board, providing for the abolishing of religious exercises in the Waverly schools. The resolution was not carried. A motion to uphold the teacher and order him to resume the Bible reading, etc., was carried. The majority of the opinion that Judge Gunster's opinion did not mean that Hanyon should desist.

SUNDAY REHEARSALS. Church People Pass Resolutions Commending Them. The First Welsh Congregational church, on Main avenue, at a regular business meeting on Thursday evening, April 4, 1895, passed the following resolution: "That we discountenance the rehearsing of competitive music on Sundays and hold that all members attending such during the hours of divine service are violating their church covenant and will be treated accordingly."
