SUNDAY OBSERVED

Services That Were Held to Commemorate the Day.

AT ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL

Palms Blessed and Sermon Delivered by Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Hara-Exercises at St. Luke's Church - Anniversary Sermon of Rev. T. J. Collins.

There were services of a special character in the Catholic churches of the city yesterday morning in observance of Palm Sunday, when the church honers the triumphal entry of Jesus Christ into Jerusalem five days before his death on a cross on Mount Calvary. For the fulfilment of the prophecies the Savior was pleased to make a solemn into Jerusalem and as he upproached the city the whole people went, out to meet him, carrying branches of olive in their hands and erying aloud, "Glory to the Son of David, blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord."

Yesterday began what is yearly the nost solemn week in the calendar of the Catholic church, during which it contemplates the sufferings of Christ, the insults and torments He was subject to any finally His death on the cross. Next Thursday, known as Holy Thursday, the church celebrates the institution of the holy eucharist, and at he mass which will be celebrated in St. Peter's cathedral at 9 o'clock the holy oils are blessed for administering the sucrements of baptism, confirmation, holy orders and extreme unction in this diocese.

Histop Will Celebrate Mass. This mass will be celebrated by Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Hara. Rev. G. F. Me-Murray will be assistant priest; Rev. E. J. Melley and Rev. M. J. Hoban, deaons of honor; Rev. Peter Christ, deacon; Rev. James Moffitt, sub-dencon; Rev. P. C. Winters, master of ceremo-

After mass the blessed sacrament is moved from the tabernacle and cared to the repository which represents the tomb of the Savior. The altars are stripped of all their decorations and the ells cease to ring in sign of sorrow. on Friday the mass of the pre-cancilied host is celebrated and the services ire of a solemn character in observance of the crucifixion of the Savior.

The next day, Holy Saturday, the shurch honors the burial of the Savior. The office of the day is composed of six parts: Elessing the new fire; blessing he paschal candle; the prophecies; dessing of baptismal font; the mass nd the vespers. Then is ushered in Easter Sunday, when the church, with anthems of joy, halls the Savier on His resurrection from the tomb. It is Bishop O'Hara's intention to sing ponifical high mass next Sunday at 10.30 m. in the cathedral and afterward impart the papal blessing.

Services at Cathedral. At St. Peter's cathedral yesterday norning the celebration of the 10.39 mass was preceded by the blessing of the palms by Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Hara. The mass was celebrated by Rev. J. A. Reilly with Rev. P. J. Quinnan as leacon and Rev. Thomas Carmody as ub-deacon. Rev. J. H. McHugh and Rev. M. J. Millaus were bishop's deaons, and Rev. J. J. B. Feeley master f ceremonies.

Bishop O'Hara delivered a short sernon, during which he dwelt upon the esson of the day and the reasons that called forth its observance. After mass the palms were distributed.

AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH. lanner in Which Palm Sunday Was Observed. At St. Luke's church unusually large ongregations were present at the early ommunion services and morning and evening prayers, when Rev. Rogers israel conducted the services, assisted by Rev. A. L. Urban. The decorations were exquisite and surpassed any pre-vious efforts of the lady-workers. W. F. Smith, who is at present on a visit at Florida, sent a large supply of palms, which were placed in the chancel and in the body of the church. Dr. B. II. Throop also gave palms which were used in the decorations.

Holy week will be appropriately oberved by the holding of four services daily, viz: Holy communion at 6 a. m.; morning prayer at 10 a. m.; neon-day service at 12.5 m., and evening prayer at 4 p. m. Later notice will be given of the services on Good Friday.

SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Celebrated by Rev. T. J. Collins at Scranton Street Church. Special and interesting services were held at the First Baptist church, Scranton street, yesterday, to celebrate the eventh anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. T. J. Colling.

In the morning Mr. Collins preached the anniversary sermon, selecting a very appropriate theme, "Spiritual Worship," from John, Iv, 23: "But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship Him." The object of the sermon was to point out, that although a review of the past seven years, (which was the perfect numeral quoted in Scripture.) was satisfactory to the paster and members of the church, the most important object to be kept in view was the true worship. Unreal worship was exemplified by the Jews when they /greet Christ on his entry into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday. When he made his triumphal entrance to the city they strew paims on the road and threw their gar-ments before him, beholding in Him a great king, but the unreality of their adoration was proved by their crucify-ing Him. The same thought could be applied to the outward condition of the church during the past seven years, during which he had been their pastor.

Evidence of Progress. The indications of progress were tangible. As their pastor he had baptized about 276 persons, and during the period the membership had increased from 70 to about 300. About $16,000 had been raised for various church purposes, a parsonage had been purchased and all the outward expression tended to show material progression. Howmuch had been accomplished in a true and devout sense, eternity alone would Mr. Collins then pointed out that the text expressed that "the hour cometh and now is" when we must worship in spirit and truth, and asked why in the present time they should be more earnest at present than in the past and explained in an interesting manner the differences between the old and new dispensations, and how the churches should obey the call given in the text to worship in spirit.

People too often asked for "elo-quence" rather than the powers of the Holy Spirit. Members of churches in appointing pastors searched for eloquent men, for the sake of mere ora-tory, rather than pray for the assistance of the Holy Spirit in making their from human selection. Singing, also, was criticised in the same vein.

Very First Consideration. solely on rendering the music was to be deplored, as it was impossible in such a manner to sing with the understanding. The old-fashioned custom of singing the well known hymns, which were full of expression and meaning, was conductive to more lasting and was conducive to more lasting and the various churches for the reception of the annual missionary offerings. In some that French and Italian compositions of the city churches they will be received should be imported into American churches, yet how many people regar i-ed them as necessary for divine wor-Vesterd

Preaching, praying and singing should be matters of earnest consideration and should be done in spirit and truth. How to apply these truths was answered by Paul in his epistle to the Romans. The reverend gentleman con-cinded his able sermen by pointing out how the truths of Scripture could be applied and how people can "worship in truth and spirit" by relying upon the Holy Spirit entirely and absolutely.

REV. M. H. MILL'S SERMON.

St. David's Episcopal Delivered in Church. Rev. M. H. Mill, yesterday morning, oreached an appropriate sermon to large congregation at St. David's church, basing his theme on "Palm Sunday," his text being Mathew, xxvii: 22: "What then shall I do with Jesus, which is called Christ." As a prelude to his sermon he explained the occasion which brought the persons referred to in the text, together, and Pontius Pi-late's conduct in connection with the crucifying of Christ, from which he suggested many thoughts appropriate to the day. During his sermon he said:

of employment from day to day, one trying to win riches, another one to achieve fame, another seeking pleasure; they all may be successful in their various pursuits and gratify the heights of their ambition, but if they stop here will they be satisfied? Does money and fame and worldly pleasure bring true contentment? Too often we hear the period, breached 22 secrement 2. contentment? Too often we hear the sad confession: "I have only lived for this world, and therefore can have no tope for the next." People who are striving merely for material success. At the end of the service many pressed forward to express their regret to Mr. Ful-honest and moral lives, are not only depriving themselves of the highest bless-ings attainable by man, but in addition, evidently must rely upon their own strength and wisdom, both for this as well as for the other world.

Will Learn Their Mistake. "If the Bible is true, these people cerainly will learn to their sorrow the mistake of a life-time. Should you ask them now why they have not accepted him as their savior, or others who profess his name, why their lives are not more in accord with his teachings, like Pllate of old, they will try to excuse themselves by shifting their own responsibility upon the shoulders of thers.

"Our present life is a school of probation, therefore the most vital question of your life is "What are you doing with Jesus?" Your manhood and your life is at stake, and Almighty God will hold every one of us responsible for the decision we make."

A Query Answered. A letter received Saturday requested The Tribune to state explicitly the purpose for which the money is to be used. The Tribune has given this information many times since the fund was started and can only repeat what has already een published: The money is to be used for just what is implied by the words "Finishing and Furnishing." If the writer desires more details, an inulry or letter addressed to the Young Men's Christian association secretary will be cheerfully answered. A better way, however, would be to inspect the patchwork, or, rather lack of work, on the wails of the building, and the meagre furniture.
