Hint to Sanitary Officers.

As the warm weather of the summer season advances the obnoxious odor that arises from the filth that has collected during the winter in the cellars and out-of-the-way corners of some of our prominent business places, as well as about our streets and dwellings, becomes unbearable. Aside from the disagreeable odor which arises from such collections of refuse matter great danger of an epidemic from the disease germs which it is sure to breed, pre sents itself. Our board of health and sanitary officers should consider this tablishment. They are putting in an-matter seriously and should take some other bottling table in anticipation of a means to have all such streets and, places cleaned immediately.
