BINGOS WENT DOWN.

Scranton's Many Hits and Few Errors Did the Trick.

Manager Barnie trotted out pitchers, two catchers, two shortstops and the rest of the Scranton team for exercise Saturday and won a lopsided game from Binghamton. The win was as much due to the sloppy playing of the visitors as to the fairly-good allaround work of the home team.

Delaney pitched five innings for Scranton and struck out nine men. Fox twirled during the remainder of the game and struck out four men. Binghamton's three pitchers, Mulderig, Blackman and Murphy, showed a lack of limber elbow and did but little to call forth admiration. The score; SCRANTON.

William McGunnigle, at one time man ager of the Brooklyn team, will not be in the game this season. He has made arrangements to engage in other business. The Clevelands are evidently "laying" sized that the base ball season had come in dead earnest. In every city in the east where a game was scheduled will be used in the championship games till the Baltimores get along that way. Blake, Cleveland's right fielder, is said to have received serious injuries while official games had been played by the twelve National leaguers and practice games by eight college teams and the Tebeau will fill his place until he recovers.

A special train on the Ontario and Westwas given a severe drubbing on their ern railroad will bring 250 or 300 Carbon own grounds by the Brown university dale enthusiasts down to see today's game. A special train will be run to Carbondale Wednesday to enable Scrantonians to attend the game in that city.

Allen T. Nye, of New York, calls atten tion to the fact that the Syracuse team last year played three games against the Scrantons in one day, won them all, made 33 runs, 47 hits, accepted 115 fielding chances and made but one error. He claims that it is the best one day's professional record by a team.

President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania railroad, denies the rumor that the company has decided to discontinue the use of Pullman parlor coaches,

The Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre officials are said to be in serious meditation these days as to whether they will sink another slope a few hundred feet south of the old No. 7 slope, at Tresckow.

The feeling in the iron and steel trade is of hope rather than of satisfaction, tation that large orders for material must be placed in the near future, the ousiness is coming in slowly and it has not been possible to establish any important advance in prices. Raw mate tals are, of course, higher, and probably 5,000,000 tons of take ore have been con-tracted for, and the coke output continues large, but the finished product has not advanced much.

Unless the Reading management shifts its position in respect of the anthracite coal trade, there does not seem, according to members of the trade, to be any way to scape a financial crash in the trade, and the Stockholder wisely thinks that the scope of its effect may be greater than is conceivable at this time. The Reading's demand for an increase to 21 per cent. of the tonnage is regarded as the chief menace to the situation. That demand is claimed to have prevented the whole sub-ject in controversy being referred to impartial arbitrators. It may be well to note in this connection that if the Reading is entitled to the increase in tonnage there s no reason to doubt that the arbitrators would make such award; if it is not en-titled to it, the claim is not, of course, a just one. At any rate, it is a question that could be settled readily by arbitration. How long will the court allow its representatives—the Reading receivers—to con-tinue such a policy, especially, as stated, when the matter at issue involves (out-side of the principle contended for) less than 490,000 tons of anthracite coal per an-May 16.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lutsey, of Scranton, and Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Spencer, of num, and more especially as it is in the power of the receivers to change losses
power of the receivers to change losses
without much effort? Coal is now selling at New York tidewater at $3 per ton—less than cost; indeed, all relin-ble estimates agree that to make a profit n the business, and at the same time not charge an exorbitant sum, the price of oal at tidewater should be $4 per ton. At the present fate the company loses on every ton of coal it sends to New York. What would be the result if it received $4 per ton from this time to the end of its fiscal year? On 8,000,000 tons, which is about the tonnage for the period, on last year's basis, the income would be about $1,000,000 from sales of coal, while the natural increase in freight rates at the sell-ing price named would be 40 cents for every ton of coal sent to tidewater. This would probably make another $1,000,000 in-crease in revenue, or about $5,000,000 all told. This might be the result if the Readton. This might be the result if the read-ing should temporarily abandon its fight for principle and accept last year's basis of allotment; and, if the disputed ques-tions involved were submitted to arbitra-tion, the benefit might be still greater, for, if the claim of 21 per cent, is a just one, the arbitrators would grant it. Prune Orchards Better Than Mines. "The man who owns a prune orchard in California has a better thing of it than half the miners in the state," said W. F.

Long, a commercial man from Omaha, at the Palace yesterday. "I was in Potter-ville not long since when a resident named George Frost sold 16 tons of dried prunes, which had been produced on six acres, for $1,500. I understand that this sum showed a net profit to Mr. Frost of over $1,200. As this is an income of over $200 per acre and the land is probably worth but little more, it would seem that it paid for itself in one
