Was Held in the Hall of the Washburn Street Presbyterian Church--Funeral of William T. James of Eynon Street.

The members of the Chi Upsilon society of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church held their third semi-annual banquet last evening in the basement of the church.

After two hours was spent in discussing the menu, President David L. Morgan, who acted as toastmaster of the evening, made a short address and the following toasts were responded to in an able manner by members:

"Moulders," Fred Reintner; "Our New Home," George Waters; "The Press," Samuel York; "Camp Life," Herbert Yost; "Snap Shots," Harry Nelmeyer; "Getting the Right Start," Harry Battenburg; "Social Duties and Privileges," William Burrell; "Our Last Banquet," Alexander Bender.

The speeches were interspersed with the following musical numbers: Vocal solo, Miss Clara Sanders; piano solo, Miss Daisy Poole; mandolin and guitar quartette, Arthur E. Morse, Herbert Waters, Herbert Hall and Charles Battenburg. The banquet was a success, and all had a very enjoyable time.

The following are the officers of the society: President, D. L. Morgan; vice-president, Professor D. A. Stone; secretary, William Burrell; assistant secretary, Archie Mears; treasurer, Thomas A. Patton.

William T. James laid at rest. A large number attended the funeral of the late William T. James, of Eynon street, from his late home at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Before the hour for service had arrived his numerous friends assembled and viewed the remains. Services were conducted by Rev. W. S. Jones, of the First Welsh Baptist church, and Rev. J. T. Morris, of the Bellevue Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church. Both clergymen spoke warmly of the deceased's many estimable traits of character and generous disposition.

At the conclusion of the services, interment was made in the Washburn Street cemetery. The pall-bearers were Thomas M. Jones, Enoch Davies, Reese C. Powell, Edward Davies and R. H. Williams.

The evening was afterward spent in dancing.

A Farewell Reception.

A farewell reception and surprise party was tendered to Rev. A. W. Cooper, late of the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church, in the church parlors on Monday evening. The evening was spent in a most delightful manner. A set of silver spoons were presented by Mrs. Snyder in behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society. Mrs. Stubblebine presented Mrs. Cooper, retiring president, with a handsome birds-eye maple rocker. The response of Mrs. Cooper was made with much feeling. Cake and coffee were then served and the gathering dispersed.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

(Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied by the name of the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.)

Church Contributions and "Half Time." Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: The great cry from the pulpits these days is: "Lack of contributions to carry the good work on the Home Missionary society is in doubt such an amount; and the Foreign Missionary society is in need of funds, and everyone of you ought to contribute more." As a minister, I voice the sentiments of the majority of ministers in this city in saying that we need more to pay our debts than we can possibly earn these days. The average earnings of a minister do not exceed $30 a month throughout the year. Inquire, sir, what datables, what luxuries, a family of six can buy with $30 a month, and still the preachers, like Oliver Twist, "ask for more."

Our God is a God of reason as well as a God of love; and when the poor miner fails to contribute towards God's great work he still stands as high in the estimation of heaven as a Jay Gould, who will build a church to perpetuate his name, or as a priest or preacher who will demand a thousand dollars salary from a poverty-stricken congregation. We send missionaries into Africa, Japan and other foreign countries to evangelize the savage, while here, in the city of Scranton, three hundred of persons who never hear a word about God, except in an oath or a curse, and still we want money to send missionaries to the east to hold confessions with Tipoo Tib and his brethren.

"Charity should start at home" is a good saying, and in my humble opinion, missionary work should start at home. "Let us save Athens first and Corinth afterwards." Yes, sir, let us alleviate the suffering and succor the poverty-stricken miner in this city first, and the pagan afterwards. The word of God is so dear these days that a congregation will have to pay from $600 to $2,000 to hear a few sentences from it, while the Author of it stands at the price charged for the copyright. Yours respectfully,

George W. Bowen, Scranton, April 23.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH SIDE

Board of Trade Members to Make a Suggestion at Joint Meeting.

OWNERS SHOULD DO THE WORK That is What Will Be Advocated This Evening--Public Reception Tonight by the Young Men of Columbus Council--Other News Mentioned.

The meeting of the board of trade last night was an enthusiastic one; the best meeting, in fact, held in many months. Its object was to devise a scheme to be presented to the joint meeting at Young Men's Christian association hall this evening. The question was not discussed; that will be left for City Solicitor Torrey to express his views on this evening.

In reference to the street repairing problem the members decided to present as the sense of the body that it would be a good plan for the property owners unitedly grade, repair or do any work of improvement necessary. The work would, of course, be done under proper supervision. While the South Side board of trade will not go into the joint meeting with that plan for a battle cry, still if no better one is set forth, it is the aim of the members to advocate it and submit it for any wholesome modifications that may be introduced or amended. It is the wish of the members of the board that all the merchants and prominent citizens of the South Side should attend the meeting at Young Men's Christian association hall this evening.

Public Reception by the Y. M. I. At Dr. Manly's hall this evening there will be a public reception given by Columbus Council, Young Men's Institute. The feature will be an address by C. G. Boland. The programme arranged will begin at 8 o'clock and is as follows:

VERDICT IN NOONAN CASE.

Substantially the Coroner's Jury Says It Was Accidental.

Although upwards of a dozen persons were sworn at the coroner's inquest last night in the case of the fatal accident to John Noonan, not one of them could give any definite information as to the manner in which the man met with the accident that ended in his death.

The evidence of the witnesses was all in the shape of facts connected with the finding of the man in the creek. The jury decided that Noonan's death resulted from injuries sustained by falling over the wall near the old rolling mill into the Roaring Brook.

The hostesses were the members of the reception committee and delighted their guests with a number of photographs from foreign lands and interesting foreign curios.

The attention of association members is particularly directed to the members' meeting, called for Thursday evening, April 20. This affair, under the direction of the membership committee, will be of a social nature, and during the evening short interesting reports will be given by the delegates recently attending the international convention in Pittsburg. Why He Sued. In an Oregon court recently a case came up in which a husband sued to regain possession of real estate which, in a moment of generosity, he had deeded to his wife. The following dialogue took place between the plaintiff's lawyer and the defendant, a lady of Irish birth:

"You admit that your husband requested and even implored you to execute a deed in his favor?"

"Yes, sir, he did, and swore at me, too."

"And you refused, point blank, to do so?"

"Yes, sir, I did. I told him I'd die in my hand if I were to sign a deed in his favor. But I offered to make a will in favor of him, and he wouldn't have it. He told me he'd sue me for it."

"And you allowed him to do so?"

"Yes, sir, I did. I says to him: 'John, me darlint, sue away; but ye'll find it's a case where ye'll have to take the will for the deed.'"

Sayings of the Small Ones. One Bunko, our grand old man, was discovered sewing. Grandma reproved the little one, and told her we were only to do necessary work on Sunday, and it was not necessary to sew. Dorothy listened and then raised her big eyes and said in a sweet little voice, "Dear Dad, please tuse me while I sew. I must det my papa's trousers grand and then looking at the litening grandmama she said, 'I will det Dad to tuse you, too if you wants to work.'"

One day Dorothy great-grandmother had been talking about dying. Dorothy listened and finally said, "Why grandma! you won't die until God wants you, will you?" "No," the grandma answered. "Well den, grandma, what do you worry so about?" When God says "tup up Dorothy" I will go, and not till then."
