What might have been a serious accident Saturday afternoon was averted by A. W. Blackington's coachman. He with a party of young ladies were driving down Chestnut street, and as they arrived opposite the Catholic church, the horse became entangled in the shafts of the buggy, and was at the point of running away when the coachman sprang from his seat and, catching hold of the horse's head, held him until was slightly dame ,ed. TO THE SONS OF ST. GEORGE

Rev. Rogers Israel Preached Especially for Them Yesterday.

MAN AND ANIMAL DEFINED

Endowed and Ennobled Man Is Not Satisfied and Suffers-Beasts Rejoice in Living-Science Fails in Remedy While God Shows Deliverance.

Rev. Rogers Israel preached by invitation to the members of the Sons of St leorge at St. Luke's church yesterday morning, when representatives to the number of 110 attend from Scranton, Hyde Park, Providence and Priceburg lodges. The members occupied the front seats of the church and wore the mblematical colors of the order-red. white and blue.

The Impressive service of the Episco pal church was enriched by the excellent music rendered by the surpliced choir under the direction of Organist J. Willis Conant, who had arranged a tasteful programme for the occasion. Philip H. Warren, a well known bari one, who joined St. Luke's church choir vesterday morning, sang the offer tory solo, "The Resurrection," by A. J

Previous to his sermon the rector, in the name of his parish, bade the sons and daughters of the order a hearty welcome to St. Luke's church. The ser-mon, which showed traits of much research and thought, was based on John, v. 11: "And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and His life is in His Son."

Humanity and Unhappiness.

The prominent characteristic of hu-nanity, he remarked, was unhappiness, and man was recognized as an animal endowed and ennobled by the power of reason, but differing from the brute creation by the special privileges and enjoyments he possessed, which, how-ever, entailed terrible responsibilities and sufferings. Animals rejoice in the very act of living, but with man, the most perfect animal, he could not thus enje - life and could not enjoy every gra fication without suffering untold

Many theories had been advanced in explanation of the difference between nan and brute without avail. Science which had unravelled so many mysteries, could only give the nearest approach to comfort in the law of the survival of the fittest. History had enleavored to throw light on the subject and had searched incident after incident and epoch after epoch, but neither had brought hope to the suffering or loy to the unhappy. After viewing the matter from this tandpoint in an interesting manner, the reverend gentleman pointed out that where science, history and society had failed, the supernatural revelation of the word of God pointed out the final deliverance from evil and Christ triumphant in bringing joy out of sorrow In an eloquent peroration he dwelt on the ultimate complete and universal triumph of good over evil.

THE LORD'S SUPPER.

Twenty-third Anniversary Sermon of Rev. Dr. R. S. Jones.

Rev. R. S. Jones, pastor of the Provilence Weish Congregational church. yesterday celebrated the twenty-third anniversary of his pastorate of that church, and in view of his long connection with the district and great popularity, a large congregation attended on the reverend gentle man activered a sermon to young peo-

His remarks were based on Luke xxli, 13-the teachings of the Lord's Supper. In the course of his sermon Dr. Jones

"Matthew, Mark, Luke and Paul make mention of the institution of the Lord's Supper. The evangelist John does not, probably because when he wrote the gospel this institution had become part of the settled experience of the church life. The truth which is taught in a specific act and concrete form in the Lord's Supper is shown where he says: 'Verily, verily, I say into you, except ye eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, ye have no life in you."

What the Object Is.

"Our object should be to get at the true idea, as far as possible, of the eachings of this important institution, through Scripture. It is one of the healthy signs of our times that we commence to find out Christ through His own hisory and not through the great thickets of theology, creeds, discussions, etc. We hold that our Lord instituted two special sacraments for the use of the church. The ordinance of baptism and that of the Lord's Supper. He institutd the one after his resurrection and just before His ascension; He instituted the other at the end of His earthly career and just before His death. Baptism is a symbol of regeneration and to be celebrated only once, as people are born only once; the Lord's Supper is a symbol of how the regenerated person be repeatedly celebrated.

"The Lord's Supper Is instituted with a direct view to His death. Everything, ssistance was rendered. The buggy almost, connected with it bears the marks of a violent death, as well as a life fully prepared for such a death. He connects His death and the forgiveness of our sins together. This is the only basis on which true forgiveness and reconciliation can be possibly given. riere Christ gives us a new landard to live by. 'A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another as I have loved you.' The disordered and abnormal society cannot possibly be restored but by this law of sacrificing self for the sake of others. By the celebration of this institution the church recognizes this remedial law of selfsacrifice and in all her saving work exemplifies it. "Both these elements, the bread and the cup, are to be appropriated indiviually by the believer and that in communion with one another. The progress of the world has been all along like Mephibosheth-lame in both its feetand hobbling along, to its best ability, now on the one foot and then on the other. The two fundamental principles of true progress are the development of the individual and the organization of society. Humanity cannot be perfected but along the line of these two principles.

Pledges of God and Man.

"This institution is a pledge of fidelity. It is the binding of a covenant, a solemn oath that binds heaven and earth together. On God's side it is a pledge of forgiveness, remission of sins and sustained acceptance; on man's side it is a pledge of obedience, faithfulness and consecration. On Christ's side it is a pledge that God has re-ceived Him as a mediator, and that He will receive us through Him. By it your faithfulness is tried, your usefulness is developed, your strength is creased, and your greatness enhanced. No one has ever attained to any greatness but by the binding of himself to that very object, and so it is with the highest good of heaven and earth. "It is also the very means of uniting us with Christ the Lord. It is true there is a sense of a memorial in it for an absent Christ, yet by the doing of this we can best realize His coming, and thus make His presence felt among us even now. All the different creeds and opinions of Christendom unite in this one sense, that the presence of Christ can be realized by the right using of these means. "It requires us to make Christ the very center of our being. Revolve around this center on these principles, Scripture, faith, sacrifice of love for the sake of others, the triumph of our spiritual nature. We are now members of the spiritual world. The only way to triumph is by making Christ the very center of our being. The doctrine of the cross is that the very worst that can happen to us, thus, shall be made the most effectual means of our advance ment to the highest heaven."

STORY OF WALDENSES.

Three Instructive Addresses by Rev. F Rostan Yesterday. Rev. F. Rostan, of Italy, who represents the Church of the Waldenses, delivered three entertaining and instructive addresses in the city yesterday, In the morning he addressed a large congregation at the Second Presbyterian church and in the afternoon he de-livered an address to about 100 Italians in the vernacular. At the meeting two bables, born of Italian parents in this country, were baptized and received into the church.

In the evening Mr. Rostan spoke of the Church of the Waldenses to a large ongregation at the First Presbyterian church, and in an instructive manner emphasized the antiquity of the church, the origin of which was shrouded in mystery. The missionary spirit, he said, had been predominant in the churches since the middle ages, and had published the first Bible in the French language. Speaking of the persecu-tions caused by the church of Rome, he described in a graphic manner how the Waldenses had worked throughout and accomplished their purposes. The Bible was almost an unknown book in Italy, and to this he ascribed their ignorance rather than what some people might term their bigotry. After referring to the great self-support shown by the churches he concluded with a brilliant picture of the better times, which, in a religious sense, were passing over Italy.

His Counsel Present Thirty-Four Reasons for a New Trial.

TWO JURORS HAD AN OPINION

Antonio Voch Sentenced to the Penitentiary-Bigimist Dickison Goes to the County Jail-Two Boys Will Go to the Reformatory.

Reasons for a new trial in the case of Leonardo Rosa, convicted of first degree murder for the killing of Vito Lauisso, thirty-four in all, were presented in court Saturday morning by Attorneys Ward, Hamilton and McAskle counsel for the defense. Judge Edwards fixed Saturday, May 25, at 9 a. m., for argument.

Two of the jurymen, Oscar Travis and E. E. Miller, when they were examined to test their competency, stated that they had formed a conclusion and were of the opinion, from the published were of the opinion, from the published that they had formed a conclusion and the state of the opinion of the opi were of the opinion, from the published details of the murder, that Rosa was gullty of the crime. These jurors, however, awore that they could set aside that opinion and render a verdict in accord with their conscience and the evidence. Counsel for the defense challenged them for cause, but court re fused to sustain the challenge and Travis and Miller were accepted as jurors. The court is accused of committing an error in allowing them to be sworn as jurors.

When Detective Frank Agli was upon the stand, counsel for the defense, it is alleged, was refused the privilege of cross-examining him to test his knowledge of the Italian language, and on this ground a reason for a new trial is based. The reasons contain a specification of error in reference to the admis sion of the testimony of Leopoldo Nicotera, with whom Lauisso boarded. And the court is charged with an error it allowing Mrs. Nicotera to give her evidence without also allowing the defense to contradict her.

Objection is made to many specific statements made to the jury by District Attorney John R. Jones; for instance, when he said; "Gentlemen, I would not ask you to return a verdict of murder in the first degree, if I did before the three judges in open court. Sentenced to Cherry Hill,
